

Seventy-Five Men Work Out for Positions on Aggie Track Team

"The Texas Aggie track team for 1946 is about as much a question mark as it has been during the war years," Track Coach Col. Frank Anderson said this week when queried about the outlook for the coming season which will open for the Aggies at the Border Olympics at Laredo on March 8-9. Although he has about 75 hopefuls working out daily under his and Assistant Coach Johnnie Frankie's tutelage, only six of those are left from the 1945 squad. In addition he has picked up three other lettermen who are back at Aggieland after service in the armed forces.

Those left over from last year include Jesse Hargis and Jim Jones, mile and two mile events; Oscar White and Jim Mortensen, hurdles; Arthur Haws, high jump; and Harold Zeitman, broad jump. Back from military service come Leonard Dickey, shot, discus and possibility for javelin; Johnnie Zigler, mile and two miler who once held the conference cross country record; and Arthur Harnden, 220-yard speed merchant. Noticeably absent are experienced men in the 100-440 and 880-yard events and those are the men who also make up the relay teams. Also absent are candidates of renown for the pole vault and javelin unless Dickey comes through on the latter event. Some high school trackmen checked in this week but as yet they have not had time to demonstrate their wares to the Aggie coaches. White is currently busy with basketball and after that is over he will be busy with Winter football training as will Mortensen, all of which makes it look like other hurdlers will have a chance to make the team until those two timber toppers get free for cinder track service. There also are some gridders working out for track who will devote a goodly part of their time to football training from Feb. 11 to March 12.

Only one open date remains on the Aggie track schedule and for a change no "Little Conference" meet will be held with Texas and Rice although both are met in two dual meets on a home and home basis.

Also for the first time the annual Southwest Conference track meet will be held in Kyle Field here on May 10-11.

The full schedule is as follows: March 8-9—Border Olympics at Laredo.

March 16—Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth.

March 23—Rice Institute at College Station.

April 2—Texas University at College Station.

April 6—Texas Relays at Austin.

April 13—Rice Institute at Houston.

April 20—Open date (may be filled in later).

April 27—Drake Relays at Des Moines, Ia.

May 4—Texas University at Austin.

May 10-11—Southwest Conference Meet at College Station.

June 21-22—National Collegiate Athletic Ass'n. Meet at Minneapolis, Minn.

July—(date to be announced)—National AAU Meet at San Antonio.

Kok vs. Dawson Battle Promises Thriller for Two-Game Series

By Marion Pugh

Tonight the Texas Aggies will take on the Arkansas Razorbacks in DeWare fieldhouse at 7:30 o'clock. There will be a repeat performance at the same time tomorrow night. Each game promises to be a thriller all the way even though the conference standings will not be altered regardless of who gets the upper hand.

The Razorbacks are firmly emplaced in second place, behind the Baylor Bears, conference champs. The Aggies are holding down fifth slot, but a win for the luckless Aggies would tend to prove what many fans have contended all year; this is, they are capable of beating anyone, anywhere at any time.

Arkansas, favored to take the conference flag until Baylor and T. C. U. upset the dope bucket by taking one each from the Razorbacks, will be trying to keep their record of eight wins and two losses intact. Led by big, tall George Kok, the leading scorer in the conference, the Razorbacks offer a smooth well balanced machine. Jamie "The Pup" Dawson will have his hands full looking after Kok, and vice versa. It should be an interesting duel between these boys.

These games will be the last for each club, and will spell finish to the Southwest Conference race, a race that has seen the turnstiles click like they have never clicked before. Practically every game at all the schools has enjoyed packed houses. This is supposed to prove something. Perhaps inflation, or deflation, who knows, but it does prove every school in the conference needs either to build a new field house or enlarge its present one to take care of the fans in a decent manner.

Come early if you wish a seat, for none of the seats are reserved.

Aggie Golfers Begin Workouts

Coach Marty Karow has announced that seventeen prospective members of the A. & M. golf team have begun practice at the Bryan Country Club. An intersquad tournament is scheduled for the weekend of March 2, and a match between the Aggies and the Country Club is in the making for March 9.

The Southwest Conference tournament will be held here beginning May 10.

Mixed Doubles In Tennis Will Start Next Week

A mixed doubles tennis tournament for veterans and their wives will start the first of next week, according to the intramural office. Entries are now being accepted, and the deadline is Friday afternoon at five p.m. The matches will be played on the concrete courts.

This is the first of a series of co-educational recreation and athletic events that the intramural office is sponsoring. Spike White, intramural director stated that the office would sponsor anything of interest if there were enough demand.

Aggies Lost Latest Rifle Match to U.S. Coast Guard

The Aggie Rifle team lost in their latest match against the U.S. Coast Guard Academy of New London, Conn. by a score of 1847 for the Aggies and 1887 for the Coast Guard.

The match was a best five out of ten affair, with ten men firing and the best five targets being used. The following men fired in the match for A. & M.: Daniels, Watson, Richardson, Cook, Sexton, McGown, Jones, Crosser, Kury and Midgely.

160 Wrestlers Weigh In; Matches Start 4:30 Wed.

One hundred and sixty wrestlers have weighed in for the intramural wrestling matches to be held this week, starting at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon. The number is about evenly divided in to upperclassmen and freshmen.

Brackets for the matches are already posted on the intramural bulletin board, and schedule slips will also be sent out to those participating in the bouts.
