Homecoming Plans Near Finish as Exes Prepare to Swarm Down Upon Campus

There will be no change in the scheduled spring holiday, April 19, 20, 21, but any students wishing to remain on the campus for the huge Victory Homecoming that week-end are cordially invited to do so, said J. T. L. McNew, general chairman of the central homecoming committee and W. R. Horsley, executive secretary of the event. The Homecoming has been eagerly awaited by thousands of Former Students and an attendance of thousands is expected. It will be the first opportunity for many of those Aggies to return to the campus since the outbreak of war.

Chief of Staff General Dwight D. Eisenhower will be the honor guest of the Homecoming. He will speak at the climax event of the program, a huge Memorial service at Kyle Field on Easter Morning, April 21. That service will be the keystone of hundreds of similar services throughout the world as A. & M. men observe their annual April 21 Muster tradition.

Another feature will be the presentation of honorary degrees to General Eisenhower and to the A. & M. men who have achieved the general's rank in the army. Twenty-nine former students will be so honored although General George F. Moore has previously re-

Musical Ostas To Be Finale of Town Hall Season

Teresita and Emilio to Dance and Sing at Guion Next Thursday Evening

Teresita and Emilio Osta, and brother-and-sister team from Spain, will bring the color of Old Castile to Guion Hall this Thursday night, April 11, as the last in the current Town Hall series of musical entertainments.

Teresita is a dancer, Emilio a virtuoso pianist who also acts as his sister's accompanist.

Born in California, descendants of the proud, unconquered Basques of Navarre, the Ostas, brother and sister, have been acclaimed on three continents.

Osta plays with the passionate love of a Latin. The pulsating rhythms of the Spanish speaking countries as well as their tender folk tunes are presented with "The thin white flame of genius" by this master of the keys who is credited with having the largest repertoire of authentic Spanish music of any young pianist now before the public.

This vast store of musical lore was acquired by visiting the countries, living with the people, eating their food, and studying their music first hand.

When Teresita became interested in Mexican dances . . . she used the same method of study . . . she lived with the Indians, went to their festivals and learned the old, old dances that date back to the Aztec rule, before the coming of the Spaniards. It was in the state of Michoacan that she learned the "Sanduga" and during the same visit, her famous masked number, "La Viejita" (The Old One).

Exotic and strange with the subtleties of an ancient people, Teresita shows us the beautiful ritual dances of the Inca Indians of Peru. She also dances the "Jorono" of Venezuela, the "Cueca" from Chile and "El Gato" native of Argentina.
