

Ag Engineers Hear Daniels Report on St. Louis Meeting

Price Hobgood, professor of Agricultural Engineering, was elected faculty advisor for the American Society of Agricultural Engineers at their meeting Tuesday night September 24, 1946 in the lecture room of the Agricultural Engineering building.

E. J. Daniels, senior student at A&M, gave a report of the annual national meeting of the A.S.A.E. held in St. Louis, Mo. from June 24 to June 26. Barton presided over the meeting of 40 members.

F. R. Jones, head of the department of Agricultural Engineering, urged that all students majoring in Agricultural Engineering join the Society. The A. S. A. E. holds its regular meetings on the first and third Tuesday nights of each month.

The time is rapidly approaching when the girls who have wanted bare legs to look like they are stockinged will be wanting stockinged legs to look like they are bare.

Burch Is President On Management Eng.

The Society for the Advancement of Management is the latest engineering society to be organized on the A. & M. campus. According to the best information available, this is the first chapter of its kind to be organized in the south. At the first meeting of the Management Society, held Thursday evening, October 3, Austin Burch of Big Springs was elected president; Dallas Criswell of Calvert is vice-president; Robert Halton, Fort Worth, was selected as senior representative to the engineering council; secretary-treasurer is Robert Ruce of Houston; Franklin Mikell, from Louisiana, will serve as public relations officer; and Russell McGowan, of Monahans, is junior representative for the engineering council.

V. M. Faires, Head of the Department of Management Engineering, addressed the society on the history of the organization, followed by the introduction of two additions to the teaching staff: Walter Torgensen and Jack Van. It was decided to hold further meetings every second and fourth Tuesday night of each month.

Foods Club Plans Program on Oct. 23

The Foods Club, a section of the Veterans' Wives Organization just recently organized, will present its first demonstration program at the Consolidated High School on Wednesday evening, October 23, at 7:45 p.m., it was announced by Jean Clark, president. The group of wives will meet at Sbsia Hall at 7:30 p.m. that evening, and rides will be available from there to the high school. Mrs. J. K. Riggs will present the program, the subject of which will be "Roll Making and Other Breads."

This is the first such program planned for the year, and other demonstrations and lectures are scheduled on cooking. They will include every skill in cooking from elementary foods to a variety of foreign dishes.

All veterans' wives are urged to attend this first in the series of demonstration speeches.

East Texas Club Elects Officers

At a meeting of the East Texas Club on Monday night, October 7, officers were elected for the coming year. Oliver W. (Buddy) Potter from Kilgore, captain of "C" Company Infantry was elected president. Vice-president is Elmo Livingston of "A" Company Signal Corps, who comes from Kilgore. Sid Pugh of "D" Battery Field Artillery, also from Kilgore, was elected treasurer. William A. Barber from Linden will serve as reporter. He is a member of "D" Company Infantry.

It was decided that meetings will be held every Monday night. Everybody from East Texas, both veterans and corps members, are urged to attend the next meeting on Monday evening at 7:15 p.m. in the YMCA.

Baptist Union

Newt Cole of Corpus Christi was elected president of the Baptist Student Council at the first meeting of the semester. Bob Moore will serve as secretary, and Alfred Johnson was elected to fill the treasury position. Other members of the council are: Bill Marsh, Randall Ground, Garnett White, Cliff Harris, Oran Jones, David Fort, Frank Camp, Wilson Beardsley, and Tony Sorensen. J. L. Howard, who has come to the campus from Oklahoma, will serve as Baptist Student Secretary.

The first activity of the Baptist Student Union will be a state convention at Baylor University, to be held November 1-3.

All Baptist students are invited to attend the regular meetings of the union each Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

—STRAUSS—

in Vienna, Erwin began at an early age in the conservatories of Europe's capitals. The sound of Nazi boots marching into Austria drove him from the scene of his success. In America, he went to work as staff composer for the Radio City Music Hall. He left to play double piano with Eddy Duchin. A master at both jazz and operettas, Erwin reverts to the latter so that the melodic melodies of the Waltz Kings will linger on in the music hearts of America.

All in all, the Strauss Festival is a "must" performance for everyone. The Concert Orchestra of Oscar Strauss, the four outstanding soloists, and the music of the Strauss' will comprise a program which will live long in your memory.

Geology Club Choses Reily as President

M. M. Reily, veteran senior, was elected president of the Geology Club at a recent meeting held in the Petroleum Building. Other officers are W. C. Vercellino, vice president; W. C. Gill, program chairman; W. T. Davis, secretary and treasurer; and E. A. Elwood, reporter. Prof. Joseph J. Graham will be the faculty advisor for the club.

The club plans to have several well known speakers this semester, and will also engage in activities pertaining to the geological sciences, the dates of which will be announced in the near future.

NEWCOMER'S FETED WITH TEA AT MRS. GILCHRIST

Mrs. Gibb Gilchrist entertained the Newcomer's Club of A. & M. College with a tea on Wednesday afternoon at her home. This is an annual affair at which over 150 Newcomers called between the hours of 3 and 5 p.m.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Bennie Zinn and received by Mesdames Gilchrist, Meloy; Frankie, president of the Newcomers; Potter, vice-president; Murdoch, secretary-treasurer; and by the wives of the deans.

The next regular meeting of the Newcomers will be Wednesday, October 16th at 2 p. m. in Sbsia Hall. Members are directed to contact the hostesses if they plan to attend.

The San Antonio A. & M. Club held its first meeting of the season and elected Tommy John to serve as president for the year. Vice-president is Franklin Young; Willie Kramer was elected secretary; Joe Wolpman, treasurer; Al Munster, sergeant-at-arms; and Bob Taylor, reporter.

The social calendar for the coming year was outlined and a membership drive was planned. The social season will begin with a dinner-dance at a local night club to be held after the TCU game.

PALESTINE CLUB ELECTS

The Palestine A. & M. Club was formed last Thursday evening in the Physics lecture room. Officers elected for the year were: Harold Allbright, president; Ted Maffitt, vice-president; Don Hodges, secretary-treasurer; Ralph Irvine, reporter; and Edwin Perry, social secretary.

All Palestine Aggies are invited to attend the next meeting of the club, to be held Thursday, October 17, at 7:30 o'clock in the Physics Lecture Room.

Three Additions To Ag. Eng. Staff

Fred R. Jones, Head of the Agricultural Engineering department of Texas A. & M. College today announced the addition of three members to his staff.

They are: R. N. Craig, Joe Hollingsworth and E. B. Hudspeth. R. N. Craig, from Panhandle, Texas and a graduate of Texas A. & M. College with the class of 1937 will be an assistant professor replacing M. F. Thurmond, formerly with the college as associate professor, who has recently accepted a position with the State Department of Education.

E. B. Hudspeth, from Caddo, Texas and an agriculture engineering graduate from Texas A. & M. College with the class of 1942 will replace R. L. Ratrick, who resigned to do full time graduate work at Iowa State College.

J. B. Hollingsworth, a 1943 graduate of Texas A. & M. College has been added to the department as assistant in rural electrification research replacing E. C. Holman, who accepted a position with the University of Kentucky.

HORTICULTURE SOCIETY ADDRESSED BY REED

H. M. Reed, Horticulturist from the experiment station at A. and M. College, spoke at the meeting of the Horticulture Society, held Tuesday night at 7:15, in the Animal Husbandry Pavilion. G. C. Wilson, president of the Horticulture Society, presided over the meeting.

Mr. Reed made several experiments in 1930 of the shipping of dried fruit from the University of California to Manila and Singapore. The purpose of the experiment was to test the keeping qualities of the various fruits under actual shipping conditions, and also a test on different kinds of containers for the fruit.

Meetings of the Society are held every first and third Wednesday nights at 7:15 p.m. Wilson requests that anyone interested in Horticulture and especially Horticulture majors attend the meetings.

R. R. Rhodes Joins Range Management

R. R. Rhodes joined the Range Management department of Texas A. & M. College as assistant professor in charge of farm forestry work on Oct. 1, Dean C. N. Shepardson of the School of Agriculture announced today. Rhodes is a graduate in forestry from the Louisiana State University.

He will correlate his work at Texas A. & M. College with the Texas Forest Service and will make arrangements for summer field courses for his students to be held at the Field Headquarters of the Texas Forest Service at Lufkin.

Get-Together Planned For Former Bandmen

As planned at the reunion meeting of the Former Band Members Club, a social gathering will be held on Friday evening, October 18, at 8 p.m., Stanley Marwil, acting chairman, stated. The event will take place at Ed Hrdicka's, and it is hoped that Col. R. J. Dunn and Lt. Col. E. J. Adams will be present.

This get-together will give the former bandmen a chance to reminisce of the past. Classes from 1941 to 1946 will be represented.

Shepardson Will Advise Secretary Of The U. S. Navy

Dean of Agriculture C. N. Shepardson of Texas A. & M. College has been appointed agricultural member of a civilian advisory committee to Secretary of Navy James V. Forrestal. Dean Shepardson will work with the committee on problems dealing with education, spiritual welfare and recreational programs for enlisted personnel.

CAREER IN PLASTICS

The Story of JIM PYLE

IN 1935 Jim Pyle received his B.A. degree in chemistry from the University of British Columbia. . . .

In 1943 he was appointed director of the General Electric Plastics Laboratories. . . .

Eight years to travel from college senior to leadership in the laboratories of the world's largest plastics molder—the record suggests that perhaps Jim has found in his test tubes some secret formula for success.

Jim's friends say, however, that the secret is merely a compound of two very simple elements: he was well prepared before he came to G.E., and he has worked energetically and imaginatively since accepting his G-E assignment.

For the college student interested in plastics, Jim recommends as a preparation "a solid grounding in the fundamentals of chemistry, physics and mathematics." His own preparation for research comprised two years in biochemistry, two more years in synthetic organic chemistry and a final year in the chemistry of lignin.

At G.E. Jim found that the Company's processing of resins could be improved and improved it. He was placed in charge of development of laminate plastics—and worked out a new line in less than a year. He helped develop new types of plastics materials, new chemical products, synthetic fibers, synthetic rubbers, and ion exchange resins—each of them a milestone of his career in plastics.

Next to schools and the U.S. Government, General Electric is the foremost employer of college engineering graduates.
