Landscape Nursery Planting Flowers

The first step in dressing up the Texas A. & M. College campus for the winter months has been taken by the Landscape department. The department nursery is now seeding the 750 acre campus as well as resetting some 10,000 flower plants throughout the campus flower beds.

Most of the college campus is planted in Bermuda grass and when it starts to fade in the winter, the department dispatches men with mechanical seeders to plant Italian Rye grass. This Rye grass is an annual and will keep the campus green until about May, when the Bermuda again starts to grow.

From the concrete hot beds at the nursery, some 10,000 flower plants are being set out in order to replace the fading flowers now in beds. By careful planning, the department keeps the campus grass green and the flower beds full of blooming plants at all times.

The law of supply and demand makes polite people popular.

The popularity of short skirts with both men and women is probably due to their being free and kneesy.

Spanish Club Hears Discussion on Peru

"Ancient Incan Civilization in Peru" was the subject of a discussion by Mr. Beardsley at the meeting of the Spanish club, Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. This was followed by showing of slides which depicted the "Ancient Incan Remains in Peru." Accompanying the slides was a commentary in Spanish by Mr. Ledgard of Lima, Peru.

Club members were then entertained with a Spanish song, "Otra Vez," sung by Mr. Ledgard and Mr. Oleese, also from Lima. The first issue of the club's paper, "El Clarin," was distributed and refreshments were served at the close of the program.

Music is to be furnished by the Aggieband Orchestra and the Ball will be over at midnight. Present plans call for a dormitory to be cleared for dates on the night of the dance and details will be announced later.

Each candidate for the degree of Master of Science or Master of Education who expects to complete his requirements for his degree in the current semester should file a complete course of study, thesis project (if a Master of Science degree), and notice of expectation to complete, with the Dean of the Graduate School without delay.

These, approved by the head of the student's major department, should be presented to the Dean of the Graduate School on or before January 3, 1947.

In view of the fact that some students and instructors have overlooked the requirement that grades of incomplete must be made up by the end of the first month of the student's succeeding semester in college, the time for making up incomplete grades has been extended to November 9, 1946. If incomplete grades are not made up by this date, the final grade shall be an "F", and the student must repeat the course in order to receive credit, unless for a good reason an extension of time is granted on petition.
F. C. Bolton, Dean.

will possibly remember this group as having played on the Fitch Bandwagon, appearing in Universal's "We've Never Been Licked," and featured on Interstate Theater's weekly "Showtime" broadcasts. Headed by genial Curly Brient, the strains of the Aggieband were heard by Aggies 'round the world on September 9, 1942. Small wonder that newspapers heralded it as the finest college orchestra in the country.

However, the music of the Aggieband has not always been restricted to dance halls and hotels. Many unusual requests have been made of the orchestra. Once when A&M was playing Baylor on the Gridiron at Kyle Field, the saxophone section of the Aggieband was summoned during the half-time to the Aggie dressing room by Coach Norton. And there while Norton verbally instilled new spirit into his tired gridder, the Aggieband formed a musical background as they played the Spirit of Aggieband. A determined and revitalized Aggie team came out of those hallowed rooms and soundly beat the Golden Bruins.

During the war years, the Aggieband was taken under the wing of the school, and is now preparing for one of its banner years under the personal direction of Bill Turner. Boasted as having some of the finest collegiate musicians in the Southwest, this new edition of the Aggieband promises Aggies a year of music that will long be remembered.
