World War II Next Of Kin to Receive Burial Form Letter

Program Started This Week to Return Dead

Next of kin of World War II dead to receive final burial form letters will be sent this week to more than 20,000 next of kin of American dead who now rest in 15 of the 200 temporary military cemeteries overseas as the first step in determining the final resting places of those who died outside the continental limits of the United States, the War Department announced today.

Forms on which next of kin will be asked to indicate where they wish final burial to be made will be inclosed in the letters, according to Major General T. B. Larkin, The Quartermaster General of the Army, Chief of The American Graves Registration Service. Similar letters and forms will be sent over a period of 18 months to all next of kin of World War II dead whose remains have been recovered and positively identified.

In addition to the form on which the decision as to final burial will be indicated, the letter will include information on the program for return and final burial of World War II dead, a leaflet describing permanent military cemeteries overseas and national cemeteries in the United States, a list of national cemeteries, and a franked, self-addressed envelope.

Next of kin may choose to have the remains of World War II armed forces personnel who died overseas returned to the United States for burial in a private cemetery; buried in a permanent United States military cemetery overseas; or buried in a private cemetery in a foreign country which is the homeland of the deceased or of the next of kin.

Dollar-a-Job Man Moves UN Offices

The UN received a bill for a moving job last week from the Lincoln Warehouse Corporation to the tune of one dollar. Last summer James J. O'Neill, president of the firm, volunteered to do a hauling job free as his contribution to peace.

At a dinner in the Henry Hudson Hotel Adrian Pelt, assistant secretary-general of the UN, presented O'Neill, with the dollar bill as token payment for the $12,000 service of moving all the United Nations' offices and files from Hunter College to Lake Success, New York.

U. of H. Offers Guatemala, Mexico Summer Center

College students throughout America have been invited to attend the two summer centers of Mexico and Guatemala, sponsored by the University of Houston, President E. E. Oberholzer of the University of Houston has announced.

The Mexico Center is now in its fourth year, while the Guatemala Center is in its second year. The latter was the first such center ever opened in Guatemala by an American college. The Mexico group leaves Houston June 3 and returns August 20. "Both centers feature courses in English of social, economic, and cultural conditions of the respective countries, integrated with field trips to numerous places and institutions of cultural and historical significance within and outside of the capital cities", Dr. Joseph S. Werlin, Director, explained.

Students will leave Houston by train and bus for Mexico City. The Guatemala group flies from Mexico City to Guatemala City.

The courses offer standard college credit in sociology, history, or Spanish, to students of all departments and divisions, on both undergraduate and graduate levels. Students may also attend on a non-credit basis, and the courses are open to non-students as well. "Both centers offer students an excellent opportunity to obtain first-hand information about our neighbors south of the border, plus an opportunity to enjoy a vacation-like trip," Dr. Werlin said. Approximate cost for the Mexico Center is $175, which includes all expenses from Houston and return, save tuition and meals in Mexico City. The Guatemala Center costs $300, for all expenses except tuition.

These centers are recognized by the Veteran's Administration, and veterans are exempt from tuition and receive their usual subsistence allowance. Enrollment is arranged through a letter of eligibility from the local Veteran's Administration of the student.

International study centers throughout the world are being planned by the University, with prospects for a summer center in Paris in 1949 and later sessions in South Europe, North Africa, the U. S. S. R., and the Far East, with terms in the east and west alternating annually.

Further information may be obtained from Doctor Joseph S. Werlin at the University of Houston.

New Naval Plans Reveal Shift To Underwater Craft

A shift in the pattern of future warfare at sea is coming to light in new plans of the Navy. If war comes again, as the Navy sees it, its sea phase will be fought largely beneath the surface by fleets of supersubmarines.

This picture is emerging from new requests put to Congress by the Navy as a result of recently studied Bikini bomb tests. The Navy has asked Congress for permission to build 4,000 tons of experimental submarines, based on "radical" new ideas for underwater vessels.

New emphasis on undersea warfare, in brief is based on this outlook for the future.

The enemy in any future war is not expected to have a large surface fleet—only Great Britain and the United States have now—and will therefore strike at American supply line and coastal cities with highly developed submarines.

The United States, as a result, is faced with wholesale underwater attacks if the world gets into trouble again, and must develop new antisubmarine measures to meet such attacks. Too, submarines proved least vulnerable of all naval vessels to atomic explosions at Bikini, pointing toward broader use of underwater craft in the future U. S. Navy.

Make Arrangements Before March 20

Clubs and organizations are reminded that pictures for the 1947 LONGHORN must be made before March 20. Arrangements should be made with A. & M. Photo Shop so that pictures can be taken before this deadline.

The term plan of National Service Life Insurance administered by Veterans Administration provides the maximum degree of temporary protection at the lowest cost.

Campus to GENERAL ELECTRIC

TAX AUTHORITY

The Story of DONALD MILLHAM
UNION '27

THE average man who stews over the filing of his annual tax return is apt to shake his head quizzically over Donald L. Millham.

While he was in charge of General Electric tax accounting, Don used to file more than 500 returns a year—and like it.

Although he has a new job today—the difficult and important one of Comptroller—Don maintains an active interest in corporate taxation and is still considered the company's tax authority.

A career in corporate taxation problems is, Don admits, short on glamour, long on hard and diligent work. A dozen years ago he had about as much trouble as anyone in understanding the technical language of tax statements. But when an opportunity opened in tax accounting, he took the offer and learned the complexities of his job as he worked at it.

By meeting the challenges of an exacting and constantly expanding field of endeavor, Donald Millham had made for himself a useful and important career that has held his interest.

Next to schools and the U.S. Government, General Electric employs more college engineering graduates than any other organization.

To help pay his way through Union College, Don worked for General Electric during summer vacations, operating a drill press.

Today, the General Electric Comptroller, he maintains his interest in corporate taxation, in which he became the company's expert.
