each taking a third and a fourth behind Scott and Erfurth in the two timber races.

Perry Samuels of Texas took a surprise victory in the 100-yard dash, nosing out Baylor's Bullet Bill Martinson by an eyelash in a blanket finish. Tu.'s Allen Lawler was third, a nose ahead of Fowler of Arkansas with the favored Charley Parker running fifth. Parker, off to a miserable start in the century, came back to win the 220 and anchor the Steer sprint relay team to a narrow victory over Baylor and A.&M. The Longhorn quartet toured the 440 yards in 41.2, two-tenths of a second under the old conference record.

All in all, the Aggies took seven firsts (including the three-way draw in the pole vault), three seconds (Hahn in the 880, Jay in the broad jump, and Holbrook in the 440); three thirds (Mortensen in the low hurdles, Bilderback in the 440 and the sprint relay team) and four fourths (Young in the shot, Vajdos in the 880, Mortensen in the high hurdles and Bonnen in the two-mile). Davis got the 1/2 point for his tie for fourth in the pole vault.

"Where the
ART OF FINE COOKERY
Has Not Been Forgotten"

Learn to fly with the AAF!

When you graduate, you will have one of the finest opportunities to learn to fly ever offered young men in peacetime.

The Army Air Forces' Aviation Cadet Training Program gives you that chance. It cannot be duplicated anywhere at any price. Leader in new things for aviation—in jet and rocket propulsion, far-ranging heavy aircraft, improved navigation facilities, and many other of the latest developments in a fast-moving field—the AAF can help you begin a brilliant future.

The Air Forces have reopened Aviation Cadet training to qualified civilians 18 to 26 1/2 years of age. Men selected for training as pilots under the terms of the program must be single and have had at least two years of college education, or the equivalent, in an accredited institution. Upon successful completion of the course, graduates will be commissioned Second Lieutenants, Army of the United States, and assigned to flying duty with the Army Air Forces.

Reactivation of the Aviation Cadet program is typical of the AAF's continuing effort to provide selected young men every opportunity to earn advancement. Cadets who win their wings as today's pilots will be the same kind of men who, in wartime, built and manned the world's mightiest air arm.

Make your plans now to get in at the start! By applying immediately after graduation, you can take your qualifying examinations and enter the July 1st class, or—if you want a summer vacation—you can take your examinations now and be ready to enter the class beginning October 15th. Further information is available at AAF Bases, U. S. Army Recruiting Stations, local Civil Air Patrol headquarters, or by writing to the Commanding General, Army Air Forces, Washington 25, D. C.
