After the death of Dr. Francis in 1936, Dr. Marsteller became the second dean.

The school graduated... 4 men in the first class in 1920 and a total of 52 men in the following 14 years...

The third part will be another aria, "Depuis le Jour" by Gustave Charpentier. This will be followed by an intermission and then a piano group, played by Royal Hinman, accompanist.

Equipment Valued At $1000 Added To School of Vet Med

By J. E. HOBAN

Over $1,000 worth of new scientific and visual aid equipment has been added to the physiology and pharmacology department and the anatomy department of the School of Veterinary Medicine.

The veterinary physiology and pharmacology department has added a new movie projector, an amplification system to amplify heart sounds, and a photometer, according to Dr. J. T. Eddy.

This movie projector is a "Premier 10" and will be used to show films in connection with class lectures. The amplifier is used to amplify the heart sounds of one student for demonstration and instruction to the rest of the class.

The photometer is a device that measures by chemical analysis the contents of blood such as blood sugar, calcium, and phosphorus.

This machine is similar to one now in use in the veterinary clinic in determining the extent of arsenic poisoning in animals by urinalysis.

The veterinary anatomy department has added a photomicrographic camera and a microslide projector, Dr. John Milliff, department head, stated.

The camera is used for taking pictures of a slide preparation through a microscope. The projector enables enlarged images of microscope slides to be projected on a screen for class instruction, Dr. Milliff said.

The anatomy department hopes to add a research type microscope with special eye-piece and lenses that will make possible the taking of much clearer pictures in color.

The visual aid work is being done in cooperation with the new audiovisual aid department on the campus.

'Queen Bees' To Be Crowned At TCU Fish Game Wednesday

Wednesday night the Aggie "B" Squad will combine with the Fish football team to play the similarly-combined TCU Tadpoles at Ft. Worth's Farrington Field in the opening event of the official "A.&M. Week", during which the town will be turned over to visiting Aggies and TSCWites.

Silver Taps To Be Tonight For Longview Aggie

Silver Taps will be held tonight for Robert H. Gasway, freshman transfer student from Lufkin, who died at 10:15 Friday morning from injuries received only 30 minutes earlier when he fell from a moving automobile.

Sponsored by the TCU Former Letterman's Association together with the Frog Club, TCU ex-student's association, this will probably be the most colorful "B" game of the year.

Not to be outdone by the varsity game on Saturday, freshmen of both schools will present their class queens during half-time ceremonies.

Miss Nancy Chambers, 18 year old Dallas beauty, freshman student at TSCW, has been selected "Queen Bee" of the A&M Freshman Class, and will be escorted by Bill T. Thompson, freshman from Saginaw, Texas.

Miss Lula Leverett, TCU freshman from Overton, Texas, and recent Queen of the Freshman Front, will represent TCU freshmen as their "Queen Bee", and will be escorted by the president of the TCU Student Body, J. W. (Red) Brothers, acting in the absence of the Freshman Class president.

Miss Chambers and Leverett will be presented bouquets of roses during half-time ceremonies which will include a featured performance of the 72-piece Horned Frog Band. During the band's show, all lights on the field will be turned out, and the band will form into the shape of the musical treble clef sign. Band members will turn on small lights in their helmets.

Proceeds from the game will be used for the TCU athletic program.

Bigger Kyle Field Planners Inspect LSU, Sugar Bowl

Some of the better methods to be used in enlarging Kyle Field were observed this past week-end by a group of four men who are investigating the installation of additional seats at the A&M stadium.

The group, composed of Director of Athletics W. R. Carmichael, D. W. Williams, vice-president for agriculture and chairman of the Athletic Council, College Architect A. C. Baker, and Willard Simpson, construction engineer of San Antonio, left Friday afternoon for New Orleans and Baton Rouge.

Their first stop was at New Orleans to study the structure of the Sugar Bowl, which has a double-deck type of construction. The group then flew to Baton Rouge to note LSU's extended-seat type stadium.

The LSU stadium has 65 rows of seats, whereas Kyle Field has only 48 rows. The double-deck type construction is used more in large baseball parks, such as Yankee Stadium in New York, while the extended-seat type is used more in the larger open-air bowls.

Memberships in the so-called Aggie Hitch-hiking Club is open to all Aggies. According to Carson who was on the campus this week, he is extending membership throughout the state, but he wanted to give Aggies "the first opportunity to join."

Students interested in the rules and regulations of hitch-hiking should contact Shell, Apartment B-11-Y, College View. Payment of $1.50 will entitle the student to a copyrighted information booklet along with the A. & M. reflector.

As yet the revised booklet is not off the press, because the latest rules on hitch-hiking have been added, Carson stated. However, the pamphlets will be distributed throughout the campus as soon as they arrive.

Freberg President Of Dallas Aggies

Doug Freberg was elected president of the Dallas A. & M. Club Thursday evening at a meeting in the YMCA Ex-Students Lounge.

Max Plonger was elected vice-president; Dave "Smag" Gentry, secretary; and William "Boots" Gilbert, parliamentarian.

Plans were made for organizing a social committee.

Stray Dog Halted Earlier Experiments

By KENNETH BOND

One person on the campus has never worried about moving; and he is Rev. Norman Anderson, Pastor of the Presbyterian Church, who conducts services in the Y. M. C. A. Chapel.

Rev. Anderson, whose office is in the rear of the 'Y', has held services regularly in the Chapel since 1928. "How well I remember that first Sunday morning service," he said. "It consisted of seven people: Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Reed, and their son, Irvin, Mr. and Mrs. M. Sherwood, the Methodist Minister, Rev. Jess Thompson did not hold night services, so he and Mrs. Thompson attended, bringing the night attendance up to a total of nine."

Rev. Anderson was born in San Antonio of Scottish immigrant parents. His father served as auditor and sales manager of the Texas Land and Cattle Company, (TI), for thirty-four years. He was concerned with the famous King ranch, the section of land around Fowler Bluff, Texas, and grazing land extending to the Canadian Border.

Upon graduation from high school in San Antonio, Rev. Anderson attended the University of Texas. After receiving a Bachelor of Arts in Philosophy, he completed work for a Masters with the exception of his thesis. Rev. Anderson completed his Masters Degree and received his Bachelor of Divinity at the Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary. He failed to take Hebrew at the time he attended college, so he had to take a SITUATION IN EUROPE? WASHINGTON, Oct. 13--(AP) Congressmen returning from a six-week study of economic conditions abroad disagreed today on Western Europe's need for emergency aid this winter.

Rep. Nixon (Calif.) expressed the views of the majority when he told reporters:

"Europe generally is suffering from a lack of sufficient food, and the situation today is worse than it was before the war."

But Rep. Anderson (R-Minn.) said this:

"Things are not as bad as they have been portrayed to us by representatives of our own government. I think Europe can make it to spring all right without too much suffering."

MODERN RHINULUS MADRAS, INDIA, Oct. 13--(AP) The Indian Express reported Saturday that a four-month-old infant was found alive in a Jackie's den in the jungle near the west coast port of Calcut.

DRINK 3-2 AUSTIN, TEX., Oct. 13 (AP) Beer drinkers in McGregor, Justice Precinct 5 of McLennan County, will have to content themselves with "3-2" brew, an attorney general's opinion held in effect today.

Assuming that no county-wide election prohibiting all alcoholic beverages has been held in McLennan County since 1933, the Attorney General ruled that only beer of an alcoholic content not in excess of 3.2 percent by weight may be legally sold.

FLORIDA FLOODED MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 13 (AP) Southeast Florida, inundated in sections by the highest flood waters in more than a quarter of a century, placed its crop damage at between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000 in the wake of a freakish hurricane that whirled northward into the Atlantic.

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 13 (AP) Texas and Oklahoma officials would not recommend bottle-throwing, referee-baiting and fist-throwing as what the better football games should have as side attractions but those incidents at the grid just between the two state universities won't make the schools less fond of each other.

That was indicated in statements and "no comments" from all officials available today over the boisterous occasion Saturday when Texas and Oklahoma settled their annual football rivalry at the Cotton Bowl here.

But there was one sour note--at the University of Oklahoma last night more than 1,000 students hung a dummy labeled "Jack Sisco" on a tree in front of the administration building. Jack Sisco was the referee of the Texas-Oklahoma game Saturday.
