

Soldiers, Statesmen, Knightly Gentlemen?

One of the least troublesome and easiest ways to build a wholesome reputation, the showing of simple, friendly courtesy, has been neglected, if not actually branded taboo at A. & M. by the majority of the present student body.

The juvenile and vandalistic attitude of "If-we-can't-whip-'em-on-the-field, - we'll-do it-in-the-streets" has prevailed to an amaz-ing extent among the rank and file of students. Leaping to the center of the stage with the opening of football season each year, this inhibited point of view has piti-fully crippled the once proud dignity of A.&M., and placed it in a class with the typical small town or country high school.

Painting the buildings of opposing col-leges and universities, destroying valuable property, and in general "raising as much hell" as possible with an institution due to oppose us on the gridiron the following Saturday, are typical of the hoodlumistic antics smiled upon and declared "Good Stuff" by far too many students on this campus.

Occasional attempts in the past few years at improving this disreputable situation have been swamped by shouts of "tradition" from ex-students brought up in the same era as the cadets of today.

Older brothers, cousins, and acquaint-ances have firmly convinced their younger protegees that the performance of such daring deeds as mentioned above are the very essence of "Aggie Spirit". However, such is not the case. The standard, set by Law-rence Sullivan Ross, "soldier, statesman, knightly gentleman", was at one time rev-ered and maintained by A. & M. students. It was during this time that the lasting and meaningful school traditions were formed, and that the saying "an Aggie is always a gentleman" was born.

Somewhere down through the years this standard was dropped and another substitu-ted, perhaps in the "roaring twenties" or depression ridden early thirties, in any case, the more fitting phrase "an Aggie is never a gentleman" might be applied today.

It is time that students started thinking for themselves and deciding in their own minds what type action reflected credit on A. & M.

Coaches and players alike have stated their wish that the "Twelfth Man" refrain from actions that would give an opposing team a psychological advantage, but year in and year out ardent Aggies have journeyed to the foes backyard, stuck out their tongue, and raced back home to Aggieland. As a result, A. & M. has not only gained quite an unsavory reputation in certain areas of the state, but has also placed our athletic teams at a disadvantage.

We are at present living on the reputa-tion of a past A. & M.; it is time that we began to provide for the future classes, as, unfortunately, a student body is not known for its own actions, but rather for those of its predecessors.

What will the people of Texas think of & M. five years from now?

him a news lead

ments.

'Just An Editor'

Because no greater truth has been written about editors of college papers, and because so much of what is said seems applicable to the situation as we have seen it, we herewith reprint "Just an Editor", from the Millsaps College paper of Jackson, Miss.

* JUST AN EDITOR

Profs can sit crosslegged on the top of a desk; dean's first list students can let down their guard; student body presidents can fraternize with the masses.

Only an editor is required to be pontifical always.

Only an editor is supposed to know every-thing that happens, so it is taken for granted that he always knows it, and nobody ever tells him anything; only an editor is suppos ed to keep an open mind always, and at the same time to make snap decisions for each political impasse; only an editor is required to keep his nose out of politics; meanwhile keeping tab on the strength of each separate lineup.

Dean's list students get their quarterly reports; student body presidents hear com-plaints in Student Council meetings.

Only an editor has to guess.

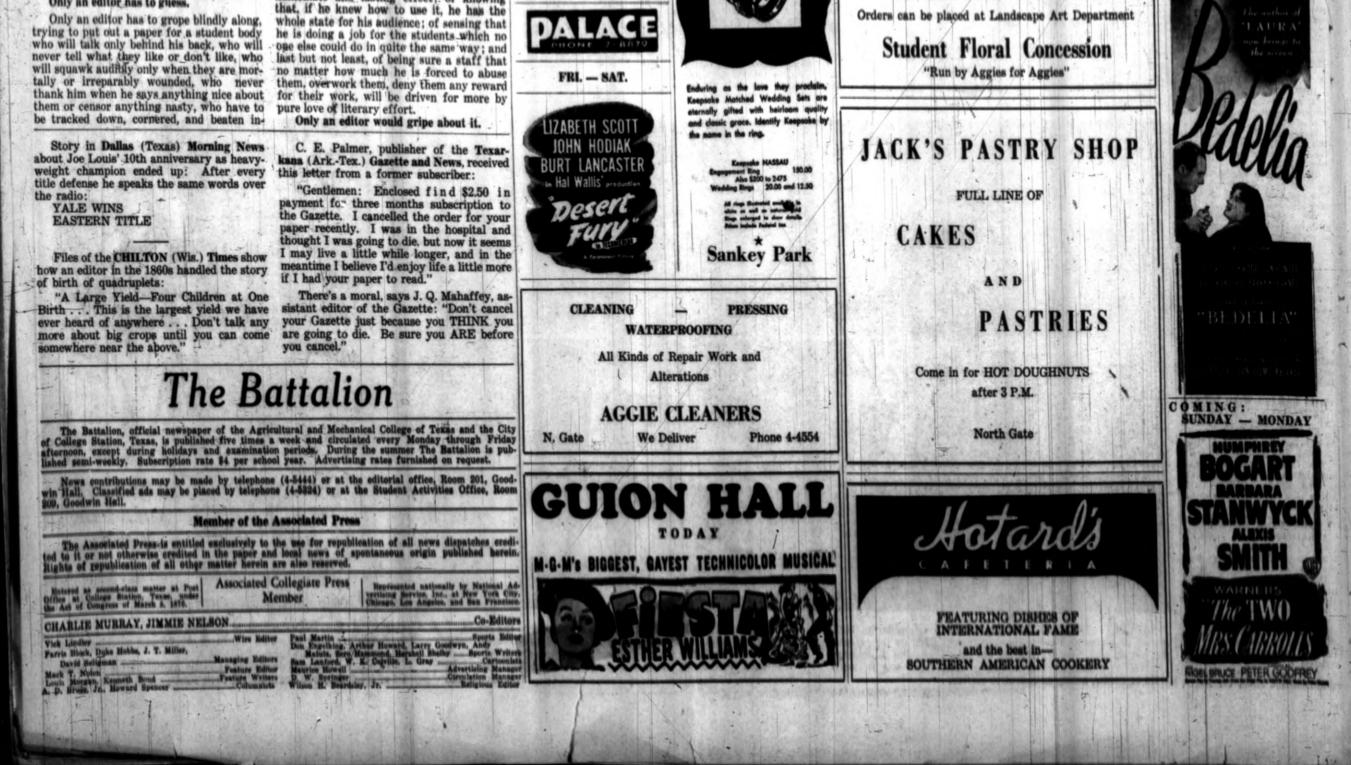

sensible before they will so much as give Profs have the satisfaction of seeing their teachings put into practice; dean's list students are an inspiration to their successors; student body presidents can point with pride at each year's end-to long rows of achieve-

Only an editor never accomplishes anything.

Only an editor has to endure the spectacle of 641 of his 642 loyal readers, each and every week turning immediately on receipt of the paper to the gossip column, ignoring everything else in the issue; to find the lay-outs on which he and his staff have spent hours of work, editorials which he has planned for months, which are his only method of criticism of his school and society, coldly ignored.

Profs get to sit on the stage: dean's list students don't have to attend class; student body presidents get to introduce visitors. Only an editor is fool enough not to want to trade places with any of them. And when all is said and done, only an editor has the satisfaction of knowing that his thousands of words a week are written down in letters that can never be erased; of feeling something in a way which must have immediate and lasting effect; of knowing that, if he knew how to use it, he has the

As MacKenzie Sees It

House of Lords May Lose Only a Debating Society By DeWITT MacKENZIE

AP Foreign Affairs Analysi

England's first Socialist House of Commons, finding itself threat-ened with obstruction at the hands of the House of Lords in carrying quested it. Later the Lords were al peers if the Prime Minister re-quested it. Later the Lords were further crippled by an act under which the Commons can override any action in Lords by voting it down in three successive sessions of narliament out the nationalization program, has decided to put a further curb on the legislative power of the conservative upper body of parlia-

That curb will fairly well reduce the Lords to the status of a debatof parliament However, three sessions of paring society— a liament cover two years, which the very disting-uished organi-if they encounter obstruction by the Lords. The real point at issue zation, to be the Lords. The real point at issue is nationalization of the iron and ally impotent insofar as inter-ference with hen they were elected to power Commons is concerned. For close to Socialist want to delay this na-four set to all the tonalization for methods with the tonalization for methods with

So Prime Minister Attlee's re be Win Machanie st all power and glory of ermine and crimson. The Lords exercised great authority until one day in 1909 they rejected the national budget which had been passed by the House af. Commons. Liberal Prime Minister Herbert Asquith rose up in wrath and led a terri-

eepsake

rose up in wrath and led a terri-fice fight against the power of the

It was one of the greatest political battles of English history, The upshot of it was that in 1911 Asquith secured the passage of a Asquith secured the passage of a bill in Commons to deprive the House of Lords of its veto power. Then he jammed this down the throats of the Lords by threaten-ing to have the King create enough liberal peers to outvote the con-servatives in the upper house. The Lords accepted the Bill, be-cause there was pothing else for cause there was nothing else for them to do, since the Monarch

NAVARRO COUNTY CLUB What's Cooking?

AGGIE WIVES CIRCLE (Col-ige Station Methodist Church) 30 p. m., home of Mrs. R. M inkerton, College Hills Estates. inkerton, College Hills Estates. AUSTIN CLUB, 7:30 p.m.

Monday, Room 108, A (Originally October 23.) AGGIE RODEO, Octob COOKE COUNTY CLUB, 7:30 . m., Thursday, Room 207, Aca-

COLLEGE WOMAN'S SOCIAL CLUB, 3 p. m., Friday, Lounge of Sbisa Hall. DENTON COUNTY CLUB, 7:30 m., Thursday, Room 303, Good-7:30 in Room 301 Goodwin Hall.

DEL RIO CLUB, After yell

EAST TEXAS CLUB, 7:30 m., Thursday, Reading Room the YMCA.

SION AND DEBATE CLUB, or-granizational meeting Monday, Oc-tober 27, 6:30 p.m. in building 347, room 1, Annex.

Thursday night after yell in Room 24 Academic PALESTINE A&M CLUB, 7:30 m., Thursday, Room 307, Academic. RIO GRANDE VALLEY CLUB meeting in YMCA at 7:30 Thurs-day, Oct. 23. TEXARKANA CLUB, 7:30 p. m.

Thursday, Room 204, Academic. TRI-CITIES CLUB, 7:30 Thurs day, Room 106, Academic Bidg. VETERANS WIVES CLUB-YMCA Cabinet room, Thursday 7:30. WACO - McLENNON COUNTY CLUB meets Thursday night at

Barlow Speaks On

Progress to I.E.'s

the YMCA. ENGLISH STAFF, Annex Eng-lish staff to entertain campus Eng-lish faculty, 7:30 p. m., Thursday, Annex Student Center. FALLS COUNTY CLUB, 7:30 p. m., Thursday, Room 128, Aca-demic.

Bryan-

FOOTBALL

MUM'S

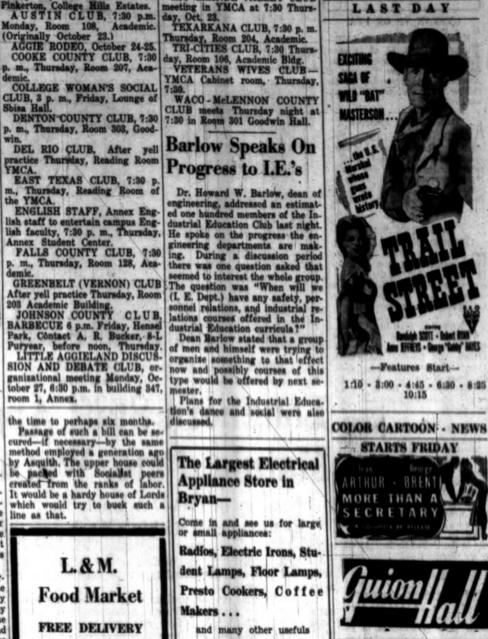

Double-Purpose Corsages

For Both Game & Dance

Dorm representatives will contact everyone

PLACE ORDERS BEFORE NOON FRIDAY

OPENS 1:00 P. M. 4-1181

LOVED

hereditary in -

for close to occasists want to delay this na-600 years the House of Lords functioned as a present industrial set-up.

Lords.