73 Candidates Nominated By Freshmen For Seven Posts

Officers Will Be Elected Tuesday Through Representatives at Annex

Nominations for officers of the Freshman Class were made in a class meeting held in the Annex gymnasium Tuesday night, November 11.

Representative Of National ASCE Addresses Society

O. H. Koch, consulting engineer from Dallas and 10th district representative on the national ASCE Board, addressed the student chapter at its meeting Tuesday evening.

Koch is one of the Southwest's leading authorities on the Municipal Field. He went to work for the city of St. Louis upon his graduation from the University of Missouri and has been associated with municipal work since. In 1914 he moved to Dallas and is at present a member of the consulting firm of Koch and Fowler of that city.

"City Planning As It Pertains to the Tax Payer" was Koch's subject for the evening. He brought forth the fact that we planned everything else (four homes and factories), so "why shouldn't we plan our cities?" He said that the success of building a city depends chiefly upon one thing. That is how the city uses its available land. "What a city has in natural resources doesn't determine what it does, but how the city uses what it has."

In a closing question-type discussion Koch gave his views on the engineer's need for a broader education. He said that an engineer should not get in a technical rut, but should get a thorough knowledge of all subjects.

Koch believes that the true engineer is not a technical expert in one field, but that he is the person who is able by sound common sense to put all the needed ingredients (labor, materials, and capital) into a finished product.

24 Cadet Officers Honored at Dinner

By J. T. MILLER

Twenty-four officers of the Cadet Corps dined in Spina Mess Hall Lounge last night with President Gibbs Gilchrist, Colonel G. S. Meloy, commandant and PMSAT, and other college officials.

Included in the party were F. C. Bolton, dean of the college; Wayne Stark, director of the Student Union Building; W. L. Penberthy, dean of men; and Henderson Shuffler, head of the college information office.

After the banquet, the entire group adjourned to the President's home, where they were received by Mesdames Gilchrist, Meloy, Shuffler, Stark and F. W. Hensel.

During the two-hour sing-song and ball session that followed the meal, the cadets discovered that President Gilchrist both plays a mandolin and sings to his own accompaniment! He has also composed the words and music to "Texas Over All", a song which has sold 1,250,000 copies.

Horticulturists Visit Louisiana

Dr. Guy Adriance, head of the department of horticulture, and F. F. Ransburgh, Extension Service horticulturist, left Tuesday to visit sweet potato dehydration plant owners at Opelousas and Sunset, Louisiana.

They will study and inspect various types of equipment now used in the dehydration of sweet potatoes and return November 8.

Several new dehydration plants are being planned for northeast Texas. Representatives from this area making the inspection trip are: C. E. Heaton, agricultural director, Chamber of Commerce, Tyler; L. W. Pierce, president, East Texas Sweet Potato Growers' Association, Lindale; and Ralph Michael, superintendent, Sweet Potato Experiment Station, Gilmer.

Rosborough was scheduled to judge at the National Sweet Potato Exposition at Baton Rouge today. At this show potatoes from most of the southern states will be exhibited.

Entomologists To Hold Barbecue

The annual barbecue of the Entomology Club will be held Thursday afternoon in Area 3 of Hemel Park from 2 p. m. till dark. Wives and dates are invited.

It was decided by the members to have the barbecue early in the school year so as to enable new members to become acquainted early in the year.

Arts and Sciences Student Council Organized by Dean

In order to better coordinate the work of the School of Arts and Sciences with student activities, a council of senior and junior students representing the various departments in the school has been organized by Dean M. T. Harrington.

The council will consist of the presidents of the various student clubs and organizations sponsored by departments in the School of Arts and Sciences. If no clubs or organizations sponsored by a department exist the head of the department appoints a junior or senior student majoring in that field as representative to the council.

Other purposes of the council will be to elect the editors of the magazine, "The Commentator", and to make suggestions to the Dean regarding student viewpoints and activities.

Varsity and Fish Prepare for SMU

Still keeping the wraps of secrecy about the practice field, Coach Homer Norton ran the Aggie varsity through a spirited practice Wednesday afternoon in preparation for the forthcoming important tilt with SMU.

Speaking to the Battalion sports reporter, Norton summed up the Aggie's attitude and chances in Saturday's game in one word, "Hopeful." The record was on the Mustangs' side as well as the power and reserves, the A. & M. mentor stated.

As yet, neither Ed Dusek nor Norton Higgins, first string full-back and end, have taken any hard work this week. They are expected to be in shape for the game Saturday. Jimmy Cashion, whose ankle was broken in the LSU game, has his foot still in a cast.

While the varsity went through their practice, the Fish team engaged in a full steam, head knocking scrimmage as they prepared for the game with the SMU Colts Friday. Coach Charles DeWare had his first and second teams opposite each other and no quarter was asked by either side.

Four freshmen will not suit up for the game Friday, but the rest of the team appears to be at the peak of condition.

Aboard the USS Photographic and Visual Aids Lab . . .

Nothing Important Ever Escapes Them

By LOUIS MORGAN

Few events of campus importance escape the attention of the six-man crew of the USS Photographic and Visual Aids Laboratory under command of Howard Berry, ex-naval officer of the Gilbert and Marshall Islands staff, the new department is serving a long-felt need at A. & M. for a complete photographic service. Approved by the Board of Directors in March, 1947, the department went into action in September.

The brand new quarters of the photographic service, located on the ground floor of the Administration Building, are operated with the efficiency of a ship at sea. But any similarity to a battleship ends upon inspection of the mixed crew of three men and three women.

With the department since September 15, Earline Reber works as illustrations for publications and classroom use. Wife of J. M. Reber,

Vox Pop to Broadcast Bonfire Activities on Campus Nov. 26

First Visit Here Since 1942 Pushed by Beaumont Aggie

By FARRIS BLOCK

To capture the spirit typifying A&M during the Thanksgiving season, Vox Pop, a national radio show of the ABC network will be on the campus November 26 to broadcast a show, according to R. H. Shuffler, director of information.

The purpose of the show, which is sponsored by the American Express Company, is to interview people and representative groups throughout the country. The show travels from coast to coast to give its show every Wednesday night.

A letter from Parks Johnson, director of the show, states, "The Vox Pop gang is enthusiastic about returning to the A&M campus. This same show was on the campus back in May, 1942, when the program was aired from Guion Hall. According to Johnson, "Jitterbug" Henderson was the star of the show that week.

The show consists of eight people. Roger Bracketts and C. E. "Buz" Willis will be on the campus November 23 to lay the ground work and interview students to appear on the program; Mr. and Mrs. Park Johnson, accompanied by Bill Suddeth, representative of the American Express Company, will arrive on the campus November 25.

With the arrival of the network engineer November 26, the day of the show, all the final plans will be arranged. Present schedule calls for the show to be given on the drill field preceding the burning of the bonfire. There will be a warm-up session of the show before A&M goes on the air.

In case of inclement weather the show will be presented from the stage of Guion Hall.

Instrumental in bringing Vox Pop to the campus is Conrad Bering, Class of '42, Bering, a member of the staff of radio station KFDM, Beaumont, will be on hand to help with the show.

Wildlife Students To Check Hunters' Waterfowl Bags

By W. H. KIEL JR.

Twelve wildlife management majors will be employed on weekends and holidays during the duck season by the Texas Game, Fish, and Oyster Commission to check age and sex ratios of waterfowl, according to William S. Heit, director of Texas Waterfowl Investigations.

Heit and R. L. Singleton outlined the purposes of the waterfowl investigations and demonstrated the technique of sexing and aging waterfowl by cloacal examination at the Fish and Game Club meeting Tuesday night.

The information on sex and age ratios obtained by examining ducks and geese in hunters bags will be valuable in waterfowl management, stated Heit. If a large percentage of the kill is made up of adult birds, there is the indication that young birds-of-the-year are below a normal number and that the waterfowl breeding stock for the next year is being depleted. A high percentage of young birds in the bag indicates a successful breeding season for that year, he said.

Another aim of the waterfowl investigations is to determine the waterfowl carrying capacity of the Texas coastal winter range, Heit continued. Available food in the form of aquatic plants is the main factor in determining carrying capacity.

Also being considered is the importance of ice farming to wintering waterfowl.

According to Heit, arrangements to check hunters' bags at duck hunting clubs along the coast and on large inland lakes have been made.

Latest estimates show that 840,000 ducks and geese have reached the Texas coastal wintering grounds. Of this total population, which is increasing daily, 270,000 are geese.

Extremely dry conditions in the coastal area are causing many ducks and geese to move on into Mexico in search of better wintering grounds, Heit concluded.

Vets, Corps Men to Alternate 50-Yard Seats for Home Games

The 50-yard section on the Aggie side behind the band will be alternated between veterans and corps seniors for the SMU and Texas games, the Student Council decided last night.

Veterans will sit in Section 132 between the 50 and 35 yard lines for the SMU game with the corps seniors occupying Section 131 between the 35 and the 20 yard lines.

For the Texas game corps seniors will take the 50 yard seats and the veterans Section 131.

The remainder of the Aggie section will seat the Cadet Corps on the first sixteen rows and veterans from Row 17 to the top.

A sub-committee composed of N. R. Leatherwood and Harvey Child was appointed to work with Dean of Men W. L. Penberthy on a plan to establish a permanent and controlled bulletin board on the first floor of the Academic Building.

The Student Council asked the cooperation of all private home owners of Bryan and College Station to provide rooms for visiting guests for the Thanksgiving game.

Persons with available rooms should contact the Housing Office, telephone 4-5914.

Bryan newspapers and radio station WTAW are being asked to cooperate in this campaign due to the large number of guests expected.

No "Aggie Confetti"

The Student Council resolved to uphold The Battalion's editorial (See SEATING PLAN on Page 4)

Corps Will March To Game Saturday

The A. & M. Corps of Cadets will march to Kyle Field Saturday for the Aggie-SMU football game, according to an announcement by Cadet Colonel of the Corps William L. Brown.

The corps will fall out in front of their dorms in the new area and follow the Aggie Band into Kyle Field Stadium, around the cinder track and into the stands.

Brown further stated that the cooperation shown by veteran students in holding the vacant seats reserved for the Cadet Corps has made it possible for the corps to march to the stadium for the home game.

The stands will move out at 1:15 p. m. Saturday afternoon and will march without sabers, guidons, or colors.

Bryan Rotary Club to Nominate Foreign Fellowship Candidate

The Bryan Rotary Club wishes to nominate a candidate for a Rotary Foundation Fellowship in foreign study, according to T. D. Brooks, chairman of a committee appointed to select the candidate.

The Rotarians have created a Paul Harris Memorial Fund, since the death of Paul Harris, its founder, less than a year ago. This fund is a part of the Rotary foundation, an endowment by which Rotarians seek to assure permanent support of Rotary objectives.

To promote Rotary's "Fourth Object", international understanding and good will, Rotary International will use the income from the Paul Harris Memorial Fund to provide a fellowship for advanced students in universities in other countries than their own.

The grants that have been made to the Rotary fellows vary from $1500 to $2900, carefully adjusted to the needs of the individual, stated Dean Brooks. The Rotary Club nearest the university in which each fellow studies becomes his "host" club and helps him gain the fullest possible understanding of the country.

Each of the 6,250 Rotary Clubs in the world is eligible to nominate one candidate, who must be between the ages of 20 and 28 and must hold a Bachelor's Degree or be in his senior year. Any nomination by the local club for an award for 1948-49 must be forwarded to the District Governor by January 15, 1948. The process of selection should be completed soon after April 15.

Already in the current school year at least eighteen Rotary Fellows are studying in Argentina, Canada, Chile, China, Czechoslovakia, England, France, Lebanon, Scotland, Switzerland, or the United States. These fellowship holders came from Belgium, China, England, France, Mexico, Palestine, and the United States.

They are furthering their preparation for careers in history, education, international politics, journalism, business administration, economics, religion, engineering, or specialized medicine.

Dean Brooks said: "Located in an educational center as it is, our club should certainly seek to nominate an outstanding candidate. I shall be glad to discuss procedure of application with any resident of Bryan or College or anyone on the A. & M. staff, Allen Academy, or the local high schools."
