AH Staff Members Debaters Orate In Seek Calves For Houston Scramble

A. L. Smith, A&M animal husbandman, and Professor L. V. Halbrooks of the state department of vocational agriculture, College Station, last week accompanied C. B. Johnson, chairman of the Calf Scramble Buying Committee of the 1948 Houston Fat Stock Show, on a tour of the Buckwood and Tucker Hereford ranches at Manor.

Purpose of the tour was the opening of the Houston Fat Stock Show's search for 157 high-bred calves to be used in the annual calf scramble division of the show. Dave Cunningham, chairman of the calf scramble committee, said that the buying committee stopped at the two ranches, 15 miles east of Austin, to look over the pure bred Hereford stock there. He said that this was the first stop on a tour which will take the committee to many other ranches before January when calves will be purchased for the scramble.

Return to Church, Bible Solution To Present Problems

"The family must come back to its religious and Biblical basis if it is to solve the major difficulties confronting us today," Daniel Russell said at the Wednesday night meeting of the Lutheran Student Association.

Russell, of the agricultural economics and sociology department, pointed out some of the difficulties of this post-war era that are causing more than a third of all marriages to end in divorce.

"Not Reno, Nevada, but Chattanooga, Tennessee, with a record of three divorces granted for every marriage license issued, is the divorce capital of the United States," Russell said.

Research has shown through secular surveys that success in marriage depends upon good character development. And, Russell emphasized, character is developed through the teachings of the Bible and church and through training in a Christian home.
