Marnus stated that he was highly impressed with the planning that had been carried out in the erection of buildings and laying-out of lawns. He also said that the dormitories were well planned structures. "In most cases the buildings on American campuses give the appearance of being olds but the buildings here have a new look to them," Marnus ex-

Saturday afternoon the cadets will be guests of the Alamo Livestock Commission at Green Pasdets will give two performances at Brooks Memorial Hospital.

Soloists in the selections picked tenor, Leonard Perkins, baritone, Buddy Boyd, baritone, and Helmut feature the novelty quartet group "The Aggie-nizers" which is composed of Tommy Gould, Bob Stinson, Helmut Quiram, and Buddy Boyd.

Two members from San Antonio will perform with the cadets, the two are Ben Scholl and Jules Sarran. This will be Sarran's last performance with the cadets as he will graduate in February with a BA in business and accounting, Turner said.

Arabian Oil Agent Will Visit Campus

V. A. Walker, representative of the Arabian-American Oil Company, will be on the campus January 20-21 to interview engineers interested in employment in Saudi Arabia, Director of the Placement Office W. R. Horsley announced

A general meeting of all interested engineers will be held at 9 a. m., January 20 in the YMCA Chapel, he said. A movie describing the operations of the company will be shown at the meeting.

Students who wish to schedule an appointment for personal interviews with Walker should contact the Placement Office, Room 203, Administration Building.

Correction Corrected!

The health inspection correcin the Tuesday Battalion incorrectly stated that the Aggieland Inn received a grade of 79 in the December survey.

The Aggieland Inn received a score of 90, and the Aggieland Pharmacy should have read 79. Sbisa Hall's rating of 100 percent was omitted from the previous story.
