In his discussion Randle will point out how, by an educational process, labor and management may have industrial peace when collective bargaining is used to its best advantage.

Why Businesses Fail

On Friday, S. T. Keim, Jr., of the R&A department will discuss the major problems which confront new businesses today. He will point out the factors which cause so many new businesses to fail. Keim contends that factors causing failure stem from two sources: first, there is a tendency to underestimate current capital requirements, and second, there is a reluctance on the part of the investor to commit his money to new enterprise.

Keim, a native of Leavenworth, Kansas, graduated from A&M in 1938, receiving a B.S. in economics. Completing his masters degree in 1940 at A&M, he studied economics at Harvard for a year.

SCHEDULE CHANGES
 1. Any student desiring to add a course must present a written statement from the department concerned, that there is a place in the class for him. This statement must be presented to the Dean of his School. With the Dean's approval, the Registrar will be authorized to make the change.
 2. Transfers from one section to another in the same subject will be made by the department head concerned.
 3. Monday, February 16th, will be the last day that courses can be dropped without a grade. It will also be the last day on which new courses may be added.

First 60 Days To Decide Next War, Says Ike

By ELTON C. FAY
 WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—If war comes to America again, the first 60 days will decide the winner. Dwight D. Eisenhower said today.
 Eisenhower, now an elderly military statesman, said so in his farewell report as army chief of staff.

The general took a look at matters diplomatic as well as military, however, in writing his final official statement.

He saw the European recovery plan fathered by Secretary of State Marshall as vital to "our sister democracies" and to us.

Eisenhower did not mention Russia by name but he said:

1. If the western European countries were to "become the pawns of totalitarianism, America's security would be in dire danger."
 2. If the democracies of the Mediterranean area should fall and that corridor between east and west were blocked, "the effects would be instant and catastrophic."
 "War, in such case, would be close to us," Eisenhower declared. Looking down the purely military road, he predicted:

"Because major nations, in the future, will be armed with weapons of terrifying destructive power, a series of lightning blows might conceivably end a future war at its outset.

"In such case, the resulting peace would not be cursed with social chaos produced by widespread devastation of the enemy's land and internal facilities for living.

"A corollary to this is the need for a system of major and alternate or secondary bases around which can be organized, first our own defense against air attack, and next our retaliatory counteroffensive.

"This concept, featuring as it does the hope that in air power resides the possibility of avoiding long drawn out and costly land operations, nevertheless and inescapably requires the availability of effective land forces; without them, we will have no bases and can seize none speedily. We would be wide open to attack and helpless to do anything positive about it."

Eisenhower said that on any future day of emergency and mobilization this country would need a ground army of 1,300,000 men. But to maintain a regular army of this size would be "prohibitively expensive," he said. Thus the "only feasible solution is to build the national guard and organized reserves" to required strength.

AIEE Slates Talk By Texaco Member

B. D. Lee of the Texas Company, Houston, will address the AIEE on "The Electrical Engineer in Petroleum Industry" at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, February 17, in the EE Lecture Room.

Included in his talk will be discussions on types of engineering problems encountered, patents, and proper evidence for protecting inventions. Slides will be shown on instruments developed and a discussion of the problems involved and the purposes of those instruments will be included.

Saddle & Sirloin To Meet Tuesday

The first meeting of the spring semester of the Saddle and Sirloin Club will be held Tuesday night at 7:30 in the AI Lecture Room. E. D. Rankin, club reporter announced today.

Plans to reinstate the Little Southwestern Livestock Show and the Cattleman's Ball will be discussed. All second semester sophomores, juniors, and seniors are requested to be present.

NATION'S MEAT SUPPLY CUT 10 PERCENT FOR 1948

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16 (AP)—The nation's meat supply this year probably will be 10 percent less than in 1947, a U. S. Department of Agriculture official said Saturday.

"I'll be up there soon!"

UP WHERE the ceiling's unlimited and the horizon's as wide as the world! Up where there's freedom and adventure—and a man can dare to do what no man's done before!

You're on your way up there when you join the Aviation Cadets. After a year's pilot training, it's silver wings for you—and a commission as Second Lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force Reserve.

You are eligible if you're single, between 20 and 26½, and have completed at least half the requirements for a degree from an accredited college or university (or can pass an equivalent qualifying examination).

You'll fly the very best planes during your 12 months of pilot training. Then, after graduation, you'll pilot jet fighters and bombers. And you'll get a starting salary of $336 a month. During your three years on active duty you'll be given a chance to win a commission in the Regular Air Force.

This is a priceless opportunity for alert young men with the urge to carve their future in American aviation. Ask for details at your U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station. Or, write to Headquarters, U. S. Air Force, Attention: Aviation Cadet Section, Washington 25, D. C.
