Town Hall to Feature Isaac Stern In Final Performance of Season

Nationally Known Violinist Will Offer Wide Variety of Numbers in Guion Hall

By KENNETH BOND

Isaac Stern, internationally known violinist, will appear in Guion Hall at 8 p. m. Thursday in a Town Hall performance. In the final program of the current season, Stern comes here after making a recent tour of New Zealand and Australia. His final concert in New Zealand was his 125th performance in the past ten months. Movie-goers had the opportunity to hear Stern at his best when he provided ghost music for "Humoresque" last year. While John Garfield made with the acting, Stern provided the music. He was widely acclaimed for this behind-the-scenes performance.

ISAAC STERN will appear at Guion Hall tomorrow at 8 p. m. This will be the final performance of the current season.

Top-Flight Violinist

However, prior to this time, he had been acclaimed one of the world's master violinists. He is one of the few top-flight violinists that has been trained exclusively in the United States. Stern trained under Naoum Blinder in San Francisco and Louis Persinger in New York.

When asked how he managed to give first rate performances as often as nine times a week, he replied, "It's really simple. I merely stay out of the way and let my instrument sing for itself."

He has a 250 year old Guarnerius violin which he always uses in his performances. Stern, who introduced the Hindemith "Sonata-1939" and the Bartok, emphasizes that he is not a "programmer" for modern music. "My accompanist and I try to include a wide variety of music in our programs."

Born in Russia Stern was born in Russia and came to San Francisco when he was a year old. At six he began practicing on the piano and two years later, he switched to the violin. After completion of his training, which was aided by a wealthy woman on Prairie Avenue in San Francisco, he gave great performances in most of the larger towns on the west coast.

He made his New York debut in 1937, and his steady climb upward has been followed with interest by critics from coast-to-coast. Making Sixth Tour Stern is making his sixth national tour of the United States. He performs under the direction of S. Hurok, his manager.

Since this is a regular Town Hall feature, season tickets will be acceptable. For those students and their wives who don't have tickets, the price is 60 cents; General admission for others is $1.

Attorney General to Discuss Tidelands Thursday in Guion

Attorney General Price Daniel will speak to a combined meeting of the Business and Accounting Society and the Pre-Law Club on the subject "The Tidelands Question", Thursday afternoon at 1 p. m. in Guion Hall. Daniel will probably discuss the legal significance of Land Commissioner Bascom Giles' actions extending the state public lands in the Gulf of Mexico during December, 1947.

The present dispute developed from a Supreme Court decision that submerged lands and natural resources of the state of California would be taken over by the Federal government.

Delivered National Rebuttal Daniel was selected by the National Association of Attorney Generals to deliver the closing arguments before the United States Supreme Court in support of California's claim to the submerged coastal lands.

According to Daniel, the controversy with the government goes further than submerged oil lands; it involves the fundamental question of state and federal relations. Youngest Attorney General Daniel became Attorney General of the State in 1947 at the age of 36, one of the youngest in the state's history. He practiced law in Liberty before entering the state legislature where he served three terms. He served as speaker of the House during the forty-eighth session before entering military service.

The address is open to the general public as well as members of the two clubs Andy Rogers, president of the Pre-Law Club, announced.

Daniel was originally scheduled to make this address at an earlier date, but he was unable to complete the date and it has been rescheduled for this time.

A Look in the Mirror . . .

Week-End Diary Compares 'Wolves Lines'

By TIMOTHY HAYES Another diary has come in. It seems to be a girl's. She seems to have been visiting here.

Dear Diary: I think I better tell you all about the past weekend I spent down at Aggieland. Jim, my dream-dope was swell, the dance was swell, in fact about everything that happened this weekend was swell, except at times it was rather difficult to get up with that Aggie stagg line. Down there, you not only have to wrestle, but you have to listen to a 'line' while you're being mauled. After a week-end consisting of two dances, I think I know the lines better than the bird dogs you use them.

Type one I think could be called the Late-Date Gate. He cuts in and after a couple of quick twirls, says, "My name's Joe."

I flash a smile and say sweetly, "My name's Carol."

"Hi Carol. Say, ain't I met you someplace before? In Dallas, or Houston—or maybe in New Orleans," he adds to prove that he's well traveled.

"I'm from El Paso; I've never been in East Texas before."
