A 45-minute alert ended at 3:55 p. m.

POLISH PROTESTS REFERRED TO RUSSIA

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—Poland's protest to the United States against plans to set up a separate government in Western Germany went bouncing back to Warsaw yesterday with this advice: Tell it to Russia.

Any nation which objects to the division of Germany, declared undersecretary of state Robert A. Lovett, should complain not to the western powers, but "to the government primarily responsible for preventing these countries from cooperating in the general recovery program for Europe."

HOUSTON OVERLOADED WITH GRAIN IMPORTS

HOUSTON, July 9 (AP)—Port Houston officials, faced with a large accumulation of loaded grain cars, have adopted a "permit" system for additional shipments to Houston.

Port Director William F. Heavly said "this is not a complete embargo but simply a means of controlling receipts so as to meet conditions for clearing shipments out of the port."

"We have space in the elevators now but there are about 1,400 loaded cars on hand," Heavly explained.

Each car contains approximately 1750 bushels of grain, making a total of around 2,500,000 bushels.

SECURITY COUNCIL GETS EMERGENCY CALL

LAKE SUCCESS, July 9 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council was called into emergency session on the Palestine crisis Thursday.

The session was called for 1:30 p. m. to take up a request from the Jewish state of Israel for action to stop an Egyptian attack in Southern Palestine.

The call was sent out by the U. N. shortly before 1 p. m. yesterday. This allowed the delegates only an hour and a half to travel to U. N. headquarters.

Informed quarters said the United States had taken the initiative in behind-the-scenes talks for a council meeting.

Kenneth Marak, Battalion cartoonist, interrupts his duties as laugh-specialist to pose for the photographer. Marak has been drawing for college publications since last spring.

'Punch Line' Pains . . .

Battalion Cartoonist Has Up-Hill Struggle

By FRANK WELCH

It is easy enough for any newspaper to acquire copyrighted cartoons from a syndicated feature agency, but all too rarely is it able to acquire the services of a man like Kenneth J. Marak, Battalion cartoonist and belly-laugh specialist.

Marak, a senior Architectural major from Cameron, Texas, began his artistic endeavors for the Batt last spring. Since that time his work has appeared in the Commentator, Agriculturist Engineer, and will be seen in the forthcoming Longhorn.

Marak makes it a policy to give all new cartoons a "dry run" around Dorm 14 before turning them in to the editors. This practice eliminates discouraging dirty looks and nose-holding from the front office, which Marak admits is not conducive to the necessary humorous frame of mind he must have at all times.

There has been a bone of contention between Marak and the editors ever since he started drawing for The Batt. Marak says that every cartoon is planned with a particular "punch line" in mind and too often he finds that this is tampered with by more imaginative minded individuals before the drawing goes to press.

Marak asks his readers to bear with him till he gets this little irregularity straightened out. Till then the cartoons will continue to be accompanied by distorted and inappropriate captions.

Cynical by nature, Marak has very opinionated views on Sbsa meat loaf and the plunging hemlines in women's skirts. He sees a ray of hope however in the "new look". Feminine neck lines seem to be plunging as speedily as the skirt length. (The editors, who are rather conservative by nature, have trouble at times toning down the full blown look

Texas Firms Not Supplying Texas Markets

Surveys show that Texans are consuming many products manufactured elsewhere which might well be fabricated within the state, and A&M has set out to determine what some of these products are.

The college, under the direction of Dean Howard Barlow, has launched a state-wide products expansion survey in cooperation with purchasing agents groups, chambers of commerce, and other agencies.

"We want to get the facts about these products which are not now manufactured here, but which Texas is consuming in such volume as to justify their production within the state," Barlow said.

He called attention to the fact that many of these products are shipped long distances to Texas and at high transportation costs which Texas consumers must pay.

The facts to be determined by the survey will be made public so that manufacturers will know what products could profitably be added to their present production programs, and Texas capital will have a market demand guide to new industrial opportunities.

The firemen's school is held here annually under the auspices of the State Firemen's and Fire Marshal's Association of Texas. It is conducted by the Industrial Extension Service of the college, in cooperation with the State Board for Vocational Education.

H. R. Brayton, professor of chemistry at A&M, is director of the school.

'Modern Down-Beats' To Provide Music For Grove Dance Saturday

Second Session Processing May Begin Tuesday

Students who plan to register for the second summer semester may begin processing at 8 a. m. Tuesday, Bennie Zinn, assistant dean of men, announced yesterday.

Monday, July 19 is the day set aside for registration and much confusion can be avoided if fees are paid and rooms are reserved ahead of time, Zinn said.

Fee waiver slips for veterans may be obtained at the veteran's advisor office Room 104, Goodwin Hall beginning Tuesday. At the same time a fiscal office representative will be in Room 100, Goodwin Hall for those who wish to pay their fees. After July 14 fees must be paid at the Administration Building.

Room reservation will be taken care of in Room 100, Goodwin Hall, and those who wish to reserve a particular room, including the one they now occupy, must do so before 5 p. m. Friday, July 16.

Students who want to change rooms for the second term must present a room change slip signed by the housemaster of the dormitory to which they intend to move. This slip must be obtained before signing up for the new room.

All bills due the College must be paid before the student is permitted to re-enroll or to transfer his credits to any other institution. Payment of these accounts prior to registration will eliminate delays at the time of registration for the next term.

Day students will save a lot of time by paying fees early and getting their receipts signed by the housing office. This includes those students living in college operated apartments, Zinn said.

Cottonseed Hulls Seen as Possible Insulating Staple

Cottonseed hulls may have an industrial value as insulating material in refrigeration, judging by the results of experiments here.

The Cottonseed Products Research Laboratory on the campus, the only one of its kind in the world, is constantly seeking new uses for cottonseed products. One of the research projects carried out this year indicated that cottonseed hulls are effective when used as loose fill for medium low temperature refrigeration.

Another project which received much attention within the industry this year centered about the removal of the chemical "gossypol" from cottonseed meal by a new method of extraction of oil. Cottonseed meal so prepared was fed to hogs, who flourished on the diet. Ordinarily cottonseed meal is dangerous to hogs, though good for certain other stock animals.

The Cottonseed Laboratory is a division of the Texas Engineering Experiment Station, and operates in cooperation with the Texas Cottonseed Crushers Association and the Cotton Research Committee of Texas. A. Cecil Wamble, an A&M graduate, is director of the laboratory.

Varied Selections of Popular, Old Favorites Will Be Offered at 9 p. m. To Midnight Show

The Grove's weekly dance will feature music by the "Modern Down-Beats" this Saturday from 9 to 12 p. m. according to Leonard Perkins.

In their second appearance at The Grove for this newly organized band, they will continue to play a varied selection of popular and old favorite tunes, Perkins stated.

No admission charge will be charged for the dance which is being sponsored by the office of Student Activities as part of the summer recreational program.

Next engagement of the "Down-Beats" for a college dance is scheduled for July 24th and they will play for two more dances during August.

As a separate musical organization the band has been in existence since the beginning of the summer term. The idea of starting this sort of band which consists of seven members, was mutually conceived by members of the group with the purpose in mind of playing for summer college dances. Most of its members ordinarily play with the Aggeland Orchestra during the regular semester.

Joe Pike, junior EE from Dallas, is drummer for the organization while Richard Parker, a graduate student who lives in College Station, plays bass.

Leonard Perkins, a native of Fort Worth and a sophomore business student, plays the piano for the group.

Jerry Biles, junior EE student from Fort Worth, plays alto in the sax section and also doubles on tenor. Biles is the lead also in the Aggeland Orchestra.

Jere Showalter, a pre-med major from Baytown, plays alto and baritone while Tommy Buleck, senior architecture student from Hillsboro supplies the tenor to complete the sax group.

Harry Vaughn from Port Arthur, a second year business major, handles the trumpet for the "Down-Beats."

Saturday's dance will be the last one at The Grove during the first summer semester, Perkins concluded.

DORAINE RENARD and ELLIS LUCAS will be featured at the Grove next Wednesday night. Since this special program is paid for by the student activities fee, there will be no admittance charge.

A&M Board of Directors Will Hold Open Meeting Tomorrow

The A&M Board of Directors will finish its executive session tonight and begin an open meeting tomorrow at 9 a. m. in the Board of Directors' Home north of Sbsa Hall.

Discussion of a 25 million dollar budget for the coming year, a money grant to Easterwood Airport from CAA, and a proposal to increase the operating capital of the college confectionaries are some of the items on the Board's agenda.

The salary portion of the budget was passed during the previous meeting of the Board on May 10 and the remainder of the 25 million dollar spending proposal will be considered tonight.

Civil Aeronautics Authority is now offering the college a sum of $20,800 as its share for improvements on Easterwood Airport. Under a previous agreement the college put up $22,000 for improvements.

Use of the land about the campus will be discussed by the Board and the possibilities of consolidating and moving some projects will be considered.

A special board from Nacogdoches will appear before the Directors to give reasons why the Agricultural Experiment Station Sub-Station at Nacogdoches should not be closed.

Other items on the agenda include building a new dorm at NTAC, the election of a new member of the Development Fund Board and discussion of the renewal of a water contract between the City of Bryan and the college.

The Board will be asked to approve promotions, gifts, and grants in-aid to the college.

Donald K. Andrews, arrested Monday evening in College Station for firing on the Southern Pacific railroad tower, was released from the Brazos County jail Tuesday afternoon when he made bond on three different charges: $200 for carrying a pistol and two charges, $300 each, for assault with a prohibited weapon.

This announcement was made by Brazos County Sheriff Hamilton, who said that the case will be heard before the Brazos County grand jury July 28.

Andrews is a field representative for the School of Engineering at A&M.

National Service Life Insurance To Pay Dividends

A dividend will be paid from the surplus in the National Service Life Insurance fund, J. R. Varnell, contact representative for the Veterans Administration, Waco Regional Office, said in an interview yesterday.

Varnell said the National Service Life Insurance surplus to be refunded would amount to approximately four billion dollars, or one-fourth of the premiums paid in.

A commission of government insurance experts has been appointed to determine how the dividends shall be paid, Varnell said. He said the payments would probably be made within the next two to three years.

Varnell can be contacted in A-3, Hart Hall, Mondays and Thursdays, and above Stacy's Furniture Store in Bryan Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoon.

Church of Christ Holds Fellowship

Watermelon feast and a tug-of-war will be held at a Church of Christ fellowship Friday evening at seven at the church, James F. Fowler, pastor, announced.

Fowler, told the Battalion that interest would be added to the tug-of-war by substituting a stream of water, instead of a line to separate the opposing teams.

The melons were furnished by Virgil Betnard, a deacon and watermelon exporter, the pastor added.
