

Hughes Tool Trips Aggies In Sport Scribe Predicts Olympic Track Results

Finals of Navasota Tourney

By DON ENGELKING

Pushing across three runs in their half of the eleventh inning The Hughes Tool team of Houston downed the Texas Aggies 4-1 to capture the Navasota Softball Tournament Crown.

Until the fatal eleventh inning the game was a pitching duel between B. J. Loyd of the Aggies and Dick Berry of Hughes Tool. Loyd allowed the Toolers five hits while the Aggies were collecting only four off of Berry.

The Aggies were the first to draw blood when they pushed across their only run in the third inning on hits by Bill Hodge and Les Palmer.

The Houston team came right back in the fourth to tie it up at one-all with their first tally. This was all of the scoring until the eleventh.

In the eleventh the Aggie defense blew sky high committing four errors and allowing the opponents to score their final three runs.

As usual Loyd turned in a masterful performance on the mound for the Aggies. He struck out 19 men during the eleven inning fray (the same number that he struck out the night before in a nine inning game).

The Hughes Tool team had reached the finals by downing Varners Jewelry of Bryan and Bellville. The Aggies had previously beaten Ledbetter Service Station and Rush Motor Company of Conroe to reach the finals.

The Houston team was presented with $100 in cash for winning the tournament, while the runner-up Aggies were given the second prize money of $50.

Incidentally the Aggie Softball team won the district tournament of the American Softball Association without playing a game and therefore will compete in the State tournament at Wichita Falls August 12, 13 and 14.

The Aggies were the only team to enter the district tourney, scheduled to begin here next Monday, and thereby won by default.

To take the place of the planned tournament of games, Barney Welch has scheduled a game with the Nixon-Clay Collegiates of Austin to be played here on the lighted softball diamond tomorrow night at 8 p.m.

Proceeds of the carnival will go to the Recreation Council and will be used to help finance the swimming program the Council is sponsoring.

Villanova will play Army at West Point the week after the Texas Aggies open Villanova's football schedule in Philadelphia's Franklin Field on Saturday afternoon, September 18.

Softball Play Begins; Green Wins No-hitter

By BILL THORNTON

In a night game Friday evening Bizzell won its first game from Law with a No-Hitter. Green got his no hit game in five innings of play. He struck out five batters and walked two.

The one run that Law made was by Lawler who walked and then stole second, third and home in some very smart and fast stealing.

The losing pitcher was Fisher who struck out two and walked seven batters. Top hitters of the game were Russel and Burch of Bizzell, both men getting two hits out of three trips at the plate.

Nolen of Bizzell was official scorer.

Box Score:
Bizzell.....0 0 0 6 5 R 11

Leggett defeated Mitchell in their first meeting 12 to 9. The winning pitcher was Plagens who did not have an excellent day on the hill but none the less won the game for Leggett.

The losing pitcher was Von Rosenberg who had a wild time in trying to find the plate. He walked a total of nine batters and usually where they counted. The hitter of the game was Holland of Mitchell who got a double and a single out of four times at the plate.

Box Score:
Leggett.....3 6 1 1 1 0 0 R 12
Mitchell.....0 1 4 0 1 0 3 R 9

Puryear took his first game when it defeated Dorm No. 14. 7 to 4. Johansen of Puryear received credit for the win, while Huff of Dorm No. 14 got credit for the loss. The batter of the game was Price of Dorm No. 14 who got three hits out of four times at the plate.

By JIM BECKER
NEW YORK—When they hand out the laurel wreaths to the Olympic track and field victors at London, 11 of them will go to brawny young men wearing the Stars and Stripes.

How do I know? I don't. I'm just guessing. But it's a guess based on charts, letters, articles, interviews and personal observations.

From this vantage point, it looks as if Americans will win these 11 events: 400 meters, 200 meters, 400-meter and 1600-meter relays, 110-meter and 400-meter hurdles, pole vault, broad jump, shot put, discus, and decathlon.

In addition, U.S. athletes have a good chance to win the high jump, 800 meters and javelin. There are 24 events in all.

One of the two men I expect to score double victories in the contests is Mel Patton, Southern California's great sprint star. He will win the 100 and 200 meters if his fragile underpinnings can withstand the strain of the numerous heats.

Panama's lightning-fast Lloyd LaBeach and 31-year-old Barney Ewell of Lancaster, Pa., will be his toughest competition and you probably will be able to toss a medium-sized hair net over all three at the finish of both sprints.

John Treloar and John Bartram of Australia, Harrison Dillard and Cliff Bourland of the U.S., and Jose Lopez Testa of Uruguay should be the other finalists in the two events.

There will be no catching world record holder Herb McKenley of Jamaica in the 400 meters. McKenley fears George Guida, just rounding into form, and Morris Curotta of Australia, who has beaten him down under, but they will be lucky to be close.

The 800 meters is one of those races that makes limb-climbing such a hazardous occupation. Four men can win it—Leo Horst-Sorenson of Denmark, Mal Whitfield of the U.S.A., Arthur Wint of Jamaica, and Olle Ljunggren of Sweden. I'm sticking with Horst-Sorenson's whirlwind finish to nip Whitfield at the tape. The Dane has won easily over top European competition. Ljunggren is Swedish champ and boasts fast times. Whitfield was not extended in winning at the Olympic trials. Wint's long-stride could carry him to victory.

I'll be 1-2-3 for the Swedes in the 1,500 meters, with their ace, Lennart Strand, as sure a shot as there can be in the Olympics. Tab Henry Eriksson for second and Goesta Berkvist third, with Marcel Hansene of France and Gaston Reiff of Belgium in contention.

I like Czechoslovakia's great Emil Zatopek in both the 5,000 and 10,000 meter runs with Viljo Heino of Finland and Bertil Albertsson of Sweden close. Willi Slikhuis of Holland, William Nelson of New Zealand and Jero Szilagyi of Hungary are good.

Raphael Pujazon of France hasn't lost a 3,000 meter steeplechase race for three years and he shouldn't lose at London.

Tab Jack Holden of England the winner in the fabulous Marathon. He knows the climate and the course, but will have plenty of tough competition.

The U.S.A. should win both relays. Olympic Coach Dean Cromwell is a master of baton passing technique. Jamaica and Australia will be right behind in both races. The American quartet in the 400 will be Ewell, Patton, Dillard and Eddie Conwell of Jersey City. The 1,600 team will feature Whitfield, who probably will pass up the 400 meters to concentrate on the 800 and the relay, Dave Bolen of Colorado, Guida, and Art Harnden of Texas A&M.

Americans are traditionally strong in the field events, and the hurdles. I look for Americans to score 1-2-3 in both hurdles and the pole vault, shot put and broad jump.

Although Harrison Dillard, the world's top high hurdler, did not even make the U.S. team in a stunning form reversal, Bill Porter of Northwestern, Craig Dixon of U.C.L.A. and Clyde Scott of Arkansas, will be too fast for the foreigners. Take your pick of the three to win. I take Porter. Roy Cochran of Los Angeles will win the 400 meter low barriers, with Jeff Kirk of Penn second and Dick Ault of Missouri third. J. C. Arifon of France may be in there, however.

The pole vault will go to A. Richmond (Boo) Morcum of New Hampshire, with Robert Richards of Illinois and Guinn Smith of San Francisco behind him.

In the broad jump, Willie Steele of San Diego State will threaten Jesse Owens' Olympic mark of 26 feet, 5 5/16 inches, in winning over Herb Douglas of Pitt and Lorenzo Wright of Wayne, Tom Bruce of Australia will find it difficult to break up that trio.

With Charley Foville out, Wilbur Thompson of Los Angeles should win. Francis Dechay of San Francisco and Jim Fuchs of Yale are right around 55 feet, too.

In the two other weight events it looks like Fortune Gordien will beat Adolfo Consolini and G. Tos of Italy if he recaptures his record breaking form. The Olympic record is a cinch to go in this event. Bosse Ericsson, ruge captain of the Swedish team, should be the winner in the hammer throw over Imre Nemeth of Hungary and Robert Bennett of Maine.

Last U.S. win will come from 17-year-old Bob Mathias of Tuolumne, Calif., in the decathlon. Mathias is potentially one of the greatest athletes in history. Enriqe Kistenmacher of Argentina, if eligible, will be second, and Irving Mondschein of N.Y.U. is a good bet for third.

In the mgn jump, I am picking Alan Paterson of Scotland who has impressed American observers. George Stanich of U.C.L.A., who regarded his chances of making the team so lightly he didn't even apply for a passport, and Verne McGrew of Rice, jumped two feet higher than the never before in their lives, to make the U.S. team. But chances are they will find it difficult to repeat their performances. Our sound jumpers are not going. Pick Stanich for second and John Winter of Australia for third.

Write off the 10,000 and 50,000 meter walks and the hop, step and jump. To Joseph Dolezal of Czechoslovakia, Harry Forbes of England and George Avery of Australia, respectively.

I pick T. Hyytiainen of Finland in the javelin, but give Steve Seymour of Los Angeles a great chance. Seymour threw 248 feet 10 inches, a tremendous feat last year, but has not been reaching that far lately.

Morisse Burning Up Valley League With Fancy Hurling

Bruce Morisse, the 19-year-old Texas Aggie pitcher who lacked control last season, is burning up the Guadalupe Valley League, states Bill Adams, sports editor of the Victoria Advocate.

Morisse pitched more than 20 scoreless innings for the Victoria Buds before league-leading Hallettsville nipped him for 2 runs, but the Aggie southpaw turned back the powerful loop leaders, 3 to 2, on five hits.

In gaining his last victory, Morisse outpitched John Valigura, who had won 23 consecutive league games.

According to Adams, Morisse still has a little trouble at times in finding the plate, but he has shown great improvement under the watchful eyes of Manager John Miller, the former Texas and major leaguer.

Sports Editor Adams writes in his daily column: "It does your heart good to watch diamond-wise John Miller teaching the tricks of the trade to earnest young Bruce Morisse at Rosebud games these days. Miller is always watching for a pointer to give the promising lefthander and the Nordheim flash is all ears for the advice—a grand attribute for a young player. The two are inseparable at games."

Sports Editor Adams of the Victoria Advocate also writes in his column: "An old tea-sipper like yours truly was put in the peculiar position of rooting for an Aggie against a Longhorn at Cuero as Aggie Bruce Morisse faced Murray Wall, Joe Randerson, Hoss Williams and Charley Munson in a row. If Marty Karow could have seen the Nordheim flash

Aggies Meet Nixon Clay In Return Game

The Texas Aggie softball team returns to their home diamond to take on the Nixon Clay Collegiates of Austin in a game to be played here tomorrow night.

The Aggies met the Collegiates in their first game of the season and came out on the short end of a 4-1 score after committing three costly errors. However, the Farmers are much improved and will be out to even the count with the Austin team.

Nixon Clay boasts of a capable hurler in George Wallace who set the Aggies down in his first local appearance. On the mound for the Farmers will be B. J. Lloyd whose brilliant hurling carried the Aggies to the finals in the Navasota tournament during the past week.

The game tomorrow night will begin at eight o'clock and will be played on the lighted softball field.

set those big boys down, Bruce would be measuring himself for a maroon and white "T" sweater for 1949.

Morisse is a junior with two more years of eligibility at Aggie-land.

James Boswell, who will play left half for Texas A&M this fall, made the Little All-American football team while a Marine trainee at Oberlin College.
