Aggie Camera Club To Gather Monday
The A&M Camera Club will meet Monday night, September 27, at 7:15 p.m. in the Physics Building, Wayne Martin, club secretary, announced Wednesday.

This will be the first meeting of the club for this semester and officers will be elected, Martin said.

He asked that anyone interested in taking better pictures or learning dark room techniques be present at the meeting since the club intends to give special consideration to these members.

Several important instruction periods with actual practice of the fundamentals are planned for the coming semester, according to Martin.
