

Episcopal Church Ladies Hold Bazaar at St. Thomas Chapel

A gay crowd of all ages filled the parish house of the St. Thomas Episcopal Church Wednesday night, when the associated Women's societies held their annual bazaar. "Harvest Festival" was the theme of the event which was staged to raise funds to add another wing to the parish house and to buy drapes and heaters for the existing house.

Gay-colored crepe paper and balloons decorated the building and the various booths which offered a variety of wares for sale, many of them handmade by the women of the church.

At 6 p. m. the event began with supper served in an improvised cafeteria with Mrs. L. P. Thompson in charge.

After eating, the group made the round of the booths which offered costume jewelry, cakes, candy, aprons, white elephants, needlework, baby clothes and games for the children. Among these were the "Fish for a Gift" booth, pitch the ball, toss the ring around a peg, and pitch pennies. There was also a mystic palm reader, Madam La Zonga, who was very popular with the young crowd.

Ralph Shuffler, accomplished young magician, gave magic shows during the evening with Billy McKay and Stuart Helvey as his assistants. Wearing a high silk hat, Shuffler proved adept in the patter with which the magician keeps his show going smoothly.

A cake which was donated by Congdon's and a ham were raffled off, bringing added money into the building fund.

Co-chairmen for the festival were Mrs. A. G. Edmonds and Mrs. R. M. Curran. Others in charge were Mrs. T. A. Adcock, pies and cakes; Mrs. Lola Lytle, candy; Mrs. W. A. Beckoff, needlework; Mrs. C. C. Todd, novelties; Mrs. L. B. Martin, white elephants; Mrs. Charles Gaines, aprons; Mrs. F. L. Thomas, costume jewelry and books; Mrs. Jack Linn, children's games; and Mrs. J. V. Perry, fish-pond.

Many local merchants donated articles at cost for the festival.

Mrs. Mitchell Hostess To College La Villita Chapter

Due to the regional meeting of division four, which includes College Station, the regular monthly meeting of the La Villita Chapter, D.A.R., could not be held on November 4, but Mrs. John W. Mitchell was hostess to the La Villita Chapter on Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. at her home in South Oakwood. Bowls of early American Pillar roses in antique containers added to the charm of the living room, and Dainty Bess roses were on the mantle.

After the opening ritual led by Mrs. L. L. Fauraker, regent, a short talk was given by Mrs. R. R. Lancaster on American Music, after which she read the words of "The Star Spangled Banner."

Approved Schools are one of the most important projects sponsored by the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and Mrs. Mitchell, as chairman of this committee of the chapter, is doing splendid work in arousing interest in this worthwhile activity. A box was packed, valued at several hundred dollars, to be sent to Cranston, N. C., and a cash donation is to be sent to the Kate Duncan Smith School. There are over eight thousand students in the 14 approved schools being aided by the D. A. R.

Texas Flags have been requested by service men in other countries, and Mrs. Fauraker suggested that the chapter make an effort to raise money to purchase flags to send service men, upon request, as an activity during the Texas Golden Jubilee year, 1949. Mrs. Frank B. Brown was named chairman of this committee.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Mitchell served coffee from the silver service and salted nuts and pink candies in silver compotes which were placed on each side of the service. Her daughter, Miss Caroline Mitchell served lime swirl from a silver platter at the opposite end of the dining table which was centered by antique vases filled with delicate pink Sweetheart Roses and buds. Candles in silver randelabra shed a soft glow.

A miniature of the United Nations building decorated the speaker's table. It was surrounded by small flags of all nations. The decorations were in keeping with the subject of the afternoon, "Shall We Purge the United Nations?"

Mrs. Snyder introduced the guest speaker, Dr. S. R. Gammon, head of the A&M History Department. Dr. Gammon said that one of the great issues of the day is "Modern man, slave or sovereign?" He also said that as long as we make any progress toward recovery we should not purge the United Nations.

La Villita Chapter, D.A.R., of College Station was represented at the regional meeting, division four, at Navasota on November 4th by the regent, Mrs. L. L. Fouraker; chapter treasurer, Mrs. E. B. Reynolds, and Mrs. Frank B. Brown, chairman of the Americanism Committee. The hostess chapter—Robert Raines—of Navasota, with Mrs. J. T. Simmons as regent, made the arrangements and planned the luncheon at 1 p.m. following the morning meeting held at the Methodist Church of Navasota.

Mrs. J. T. Swanson was general chairman and the committees which helped make the regional meeting a success were: Mrs. R. F. Chappell, arrangements; Mrs. J. Percy Terrell, reception; Miss Bess Johnson, program; Mrs. W. F. Gibbs, transportation; Mrs. R. A. Patout, Jr., decoration; Mrs. R. E. Powell, music; Mrs. W. Stratton Baker, flowers; Mrs. J. W. Chapter members of division four were given an opportunity to meet Mrs. Edward R. Barrow, state regent, and other state officers who were present: Mrs. Sellers J. Thomas, secretary; Mrs. H. Smith Forester, treasurer; Mrs. Richard G. Halter, curator and Mrs. Walter G. Dick, parliamentarian. Mrs. Felix Irwin of Corpus Christi, state chairman of press relations committee.

Mrs. Walter G. Dick, state chairman of approved schools, Mrs. A. B. Horn, National Defense, and Mrs. Pat N. Fahy, Americanism state chairmen, were also present and gave reports of the work being done by these committees and assistance to local chapter chairmen.

Miss Louise Craig, former state treasurer of the Texas D.A.R., introduced Mrs. Barrow, state regent. The Golden Jubilee State Conference to be held March 20 to 24, 1949, will convene at the Galveston hotel in Galveston instead of the Shamrock hotel in Houston, as first announced. Mrs. Barrow also reminded the members of the importance of the National Society D. A. R. work and urged cooperation in planning the chapter programs, as well as the need of funds for educational work, scholarships, and the building program in Washington D. C. for which $900,000 is needed within the next two years.

Mrs. Walter Dick, state chairman of approved schools, gave some very interesting information about the 14 approved D. A. R. schools, and the work being done to aid these schools; Kate Duncan Smith now has about six hundred students and Tamassee has four hundred pupils; they need money for the auditorium and the gymnasium. Some of the most beautiful hooked rugs made in this country are produced there. Daughters were urged to "adopt" a child by remembering it on birthdays, at Christmas, and on other special occasions, and by sending gift packages of useful articles during the year.

Mrs. Fahy and Mrs. Horn, chairmen of americanism and national defense, made splendid talks. Mrs. Felix Irwin stressed seven points for chapter chairmen to keep in mind, and urged the use of the Press Digest and other aids in the work to be done for the Bell Tower, National Tribute Grove, Auditorium at Tamassee and advance work for the Texas Golden Jubilee next year.

The beautiful dinner plate was shown, which may soon be obtained—the band around the plate the blue of the D. A. R. National Society with clusters of bluebonnets around a Texas Lone Star in the center. This first plate was presented by Miss Louise Craig to Mrs. Edward R. Barrow, state regent. Orders may be placed with the chapter regents for later delivery.

The auditorium was brightened by artistically arranged yellow chrysanthemums, and the luncheon table held vivid fireberry berry and Bird-of-Paradise bouquets.

The member chapters of division four include College Station, Bryan, Huntsville, Mexia, Brenham, Navasota, Cameron and Waco.

Ab Quiz--Where Is Thy Sting?

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Like everybody else, I guess, I'm a sucker for those quiz tests in the magazines and newspapers. It doesn't matter whether it's question-and-answer stuff on the size of my vocabulary, my knowledge of current events or a highly erudite probing to determine my aptitude for mountain climbing.

I take them all. Things have gotten to such a point that I'd no more think of sitting down for a quiet evening of reading without a bundle of well-sharpened pencils (no erasers; that would invite cheating) than I'd try to play golf without any clubs.

Constant practice has made me into something of a mathematical wizard (although I flunked miserably a test on my financial acumen the other day). For instance, in the twinkling of an eye I can scan the headline: "Are You Shy?" And while automatically pulling out a pencil absorb and follow such instructions as: "Answer the following questions, checking the appropriate box. For each answer 'Yes' score yourself five, subtract the difference between a normal calendar year and Leap Year, divide by your surnax, plus the Arkansas cigarette tax, without the numerals to the right of the decimal point. If you are painfully shy, your final score will be between 7 and 9, if you are sorta shy."

However, I've got to give them up. They are driving me to a point close to complete nervous collapse. I'm getting confused, timid about meeting even the simplest problems and am spending most of my non-quiz-taking time worrying about my relationship with my fellow humans. At least, I think I am still a human being and I want to cut out this self-measurement while I've still that assurance.

For instance, just the other day I took a vocabulary test which appeared in a daily newspaper. I scored myself as "exceptional" having checked the correct definition for such unusual phrases as "Iron Curtain," "incoherent," "hero-worship," and a few others. All day I felt pretty good, but that night—of course, it was after dinner—personality and coloring, but—a newspaper test again—my taste is exquisite and I have great artistic ability. I don't get along well with people, but me and my colleagues in the office have a perfectly dreamy relationship.

The pay-off, and the reason I'm swearing off, are three tests now available in a couple of magazines. In one series I find that I am highly unconventional and radical. That's arrived at by yes and no answers to 48 questions. But by picking blue as my favorite color in a "color personality test," I find that I'm a "natural-born conservative with a secure hold" on my passions and enthusiasms. And cautious.

Unless I've really got a split personality, somebody's wrong somewhere. Anyway, I'm going back to cross-word puzzles.
