

Modern Music is Discussed At Campus Study Club Meet

From Debussy to Schoenberg was the scope of Mrs. A. W. Melloh's discussion of Twentieth Century music at the regular meeting of the Campus Study Club held last Tuesday afternoon in the lounge of the Campus YMCA. The other speaker, Miss La Verne Hunt, chose "Listening Creatively" for her discussion.

Hostesses for this meeting were Mrs. R. L. Brown, Mrs. W. E. Schenk, Mrs. Grace Krug, and Mrs. H. K. Stephenson.

The club president, Mrs. H. L. Heaton, presided over the business meeting. Members accepted the resignation of Mrs. R. A. Cain with regret. They voted Mrs. John Ashton an associate member because of illness in her family.

Mrs. E. R. Alexander was chosen chairman for the traveling art exhibit which the club voted to sponsor when it comes to College Station.

The club accepted an invitation to hold its Christmas tea on Dec. 14 at the parish house of St. Thomas Chapel, Episcopal, in College Station.

Mrs. Brown, program chairman, introduced the two speakers at the close of the business meeting.

Mrs. Melloh told her listeners that one should not condemn all modern music without trial. Music is an expression of the age. The old masters in music and art shocked their contemporaries when they tried a new approach.

Miss Hunt used three recordings to illustrate the trends in modern music. Debussy's "La Maree" illustrated impressionism; Stravinsky's "Fire Bird Suite," expressionism; Gershwin's "Concerto in F," second movement, romanticism.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday, January 5th, at the home of Mrs. J. E. McKinley of 1002 East 24th St., Bryan.

SEASONINGS, cover the skillet tightly and finish cooking over very low heat. A little water or chicken broth may be used to thin the soup if desired.

DRIED BEEF makes a satisfactory supper dish when combined with cooked noodles and cream of mushroom soup; season to taste, place in a casserole and top with tiny buttered cubes of bread. Garnish with sprigs of parsley just before serving.

BE SURE to cook dried fruit in the water in which it was soaked so as to utilize valuable nutrients. Fruit cooked in a syrup tends to hold its shape; if the fruit is to be pureed, cook it in water and add the sugar after it is mashed or sieved.

USE a soft yellow cheese in preparing cheese souffle since cheese that is too hard does not give the dish good consistency or flavor. Recipes for custard often suggest that the milk be scalded first because this shortens the cooking time.

IN making custard pie the crust may be baked on the bottom side of a pie pan; the custard may be baked separately in a pan of the same size set in hot water and at a low temperature. After the custard is baked and has cooled so that the pan feels warm it can be transferred into the crust. To do this run a spatula around the edge of the custard, tilt it somewhat and shake and slide it into the crust.

IN making a meringue for a pudding or pie two tablespoons of sugar per egg white is, in general, the best amount to use. Too little sugar gives a meringue lacking in flavor and one that is not as fluffy or as tender as it should be.

WHEN toddlers eat at the table with grownups it will save the trouble.
