Austin Legislators to Consider Labor and Prison Reform Laws

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 4 (AP)—Pre-session legislative activity mounted today, just one week in advance of the Jan. 11 opening of the 51st Legislature.

Labor leaders determined to repeal restrictive legislation passed by recent sessions were needed to new activity by the U. S. Supreme Court's decision upholding validity of other state laws banning the closed shop.

Jeff Hickman, executive secretary of the Texas State Industrial Union Council (CIO) and Harry Acreman, legislative representative of the State Federation of Labor (A.F. of L.) joined in saying the court's action yesterday left them no recourse but with the legislature.

The Texas anti-closed shop law was not directly involved in the Supreme Court's ruling, but the Texas statute passed two years ago, is similar to those of the states whose laws were upheld.

There were other developments looking toward the new session.

Early-arriving members started looking for houses. They found living quarters available, but rents high.

The Texas Prison Board, determined to push through a far-reaching overhaul of the state's penal system, met yesterday for final discussion of the bills that will implement its program. The board wants more than 4 million dollars for physical expansion and more latitude in sales of prison-made products.

Several meetings here this week are expected to develop legislative angles.

One of these is the session Thursday of Gov. Jester's 250-member committee to study the possibility of constitutional revision.

Another is a series of meetings of the executive board of the Texas Water Conservation Association, and another the annual session of the Texas School Administrators Association Thursday and Friday.

The Texas Health Education Council meets Friday. It was considered likely it would produce fuel for a campaign to have the state take over financing of its work.

Johnson Sworn In, Election Protest Filed in Senate

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP) Lyndon Johnson was sworn in yesterday as Texas' Junior Senator but a petition protesting his election was filed with the U. S. Senate.

Senate officials said the petition was signed by backers of former Texas Governor Coke Stevenson who was defeated by Johnson in a heated race for the Democratic nomination.

The petition was received and is being referred to the Senate Elections Committee.

The petition and its accompanying data were described as "voluminous documents," which review the charges of fraud Stevenson alleges occurred during the election. Johnson got a majority of 87 votes out of about 1,000,000 cast.

night, the musicians got their first real rest of the trip with a two day stay in Waco.

Friday morning found them on the road again, however, headed this time for their final engagement, the Dallas Cotton Bowl Association Dance. Here, at the climax of their two week journey, they assisted a crowd consisting, incidentally, of more than one third Aggies, to bring in the new year.

In spite of competition from the SMU musical aggregation, the local melody-makers succeeded in keeping their center of operations well-filled.

With the exception of the theft of a suit from one of the boys, while in a Dallas bus station, that just about wound things up. So it was that the 13 music-makers who made the trip spent their holidays making a little money, plenty of music, and some interesting if not pleasant memories.

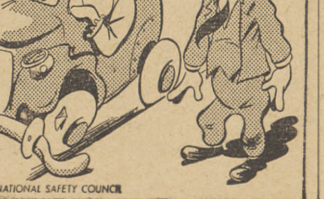

5-YEAR-OLD MINISTER PERFORMS WEDDING RITES

LONG BEACH, Calif., Jan. 4 (AP)—A sailor and his bride are honeymooning today after being married by a five-year-old minister.

The preacher, Marjoe Gortner, who was ordained last October by the Old Time Faith Church, performed the rites yesterday. His father said he has been preaching since he was three. He was assisted at the wedding by his two-year-old brother, Pat.

Smoke a LUCKY To feel your LEVEL best!

Luckies' fine tobacco picks you up when you're low . . . calms you down when you're tense!

Luckies' fine tobacco puts you on the right level—the Lucky level—to feel your level best, do your level best.

That's why it's important to remember that LUCKY STRIKE MEANS FINE TOBACCO—mild, ripe, light tobacco that makes a thoroughly enjoyable smoke. No wonder more independent tobacco experts—auctioneers, buyers and warehousemen—smoke Lucky Strike regularly than smoke the next two leading brands combined.

Light up a Lucky! Luckies' fine tobacco picks you up when you're low, calms you down when you're tense. So get on the Lucky level where it's fun to be alive. Get a carton and get started today!
