

William M. Huffman, 16-year-old Harrison County farm lad, receives congratulations at the Houston Fat Stock Show as the winner of the $2,000 four-year Jim Tucker Scholarship to A&M. He made the best all-around record with a calf caught at the 1948 Fat Stock Show calf scramble. Participating in the ceremony are left to right: President F. C. Bolton; Jim Tucker, Houston insurance man who made the annual award; Huffman; L. O. Tiedt, 1948 winner; and James Taylor, 1947 winner.

a muddy fox-hole. The story, though not lacking its humorous incidents, is not a pleasant one; the language is neither pleasant nor respectable. The book is written in the present tense because, "in combat man's life there is little left but the present tense."

Because of the forceful way in which it is told and because of the appeal of such characters as Snuffy Jones and Horse-Face Brandon, "To Hell and Back" should be ranked with similar books by Bill Mauldin and Ernie Pyle.

To every reader, who wants to know the truth about the hellish life of a foot-soldier, this narrative by an infantryman who has earned the praise and respect of a nation is, therefore, a must.

Murphy has donated 20 autographed copies of "To Hell and Back" to the college library. For those who would rather have a personal copy, the book will be on sale after this Thursday for $3 per copy. It is a Henry Holt and Company publication.

Once you've read this fighter's story of fighters, you're liable to think again before urging our nation into another war.

Normal Procedure Of Scheduling To Be Resumed in Fall

A&M will resume its normal procedure of regularly scheduling for the fall semester those courses which normally fall in the first semester programs, M. T. Harrington, acting dean of the College said today.

This program will begin with the fall semester of 1949. Exceptions to this general policy may be made to enable some seniors to graduate in January, 1950. Since a number of students are irregular in their programs, they should make every effort in the time remaining before September to complete whatever work will be prerequisite to those courses offered in the fall, Harrington said.

For that reason, summer school offerings will be made with that idea primarily in mind. Students are asked to check their programs carefully and to indicate on the form provided above their need for the summer session of 1949.

The normal amount of work a student may carry in a six-weeks term is six semester hours (or seven, if one hour is practice), except that with the approval of the dean concerned, seven semester hours (or eight, if one hour is practice) may be taken by a student who has earned at least 27 grade points in the preceding semester.

Indicate on the form on page 6 your choice of work for the summer session of 1949 and return it to the Registrar's office by 5 p. m. February 18, 1949," Harrington said.

Second Installment Fees Now Payable

The second installment of fees are now payable with the final date for payment without penalty, being February 20, H. L. Heaton, college registrar has announced.

The second installment consists of board, room, and laundry up until March 19. The total is $44.30 with the following amounts allocated to each.

Board	$32.40
Room rent	9.00
Laundry	2.90
Total	$44.30

The total fees due for the remainder of the semester is $175.80 with $44.30 until March 19, $47.55 until April 20, and $73.85 until June 4.

the committee selected one which seemed to be the most appropriate for correspondence pertaining to the occasion.

Liverman also reported that approximately 475 beds would be available in the dormitories to house visitors. Special provisions will be made to house parents and girl friends who will be here for the occasion. Most of the housing in the dormitories will be allotted to prospective students. High schools requesting reservations will be handled under the policy of 'first come, first serve,' Liverman said.

The follies this year will portray life in the early twenties, Pat Henry told the committee. G. J. Dillavou of the English Department, who is in charge of the Aggie Follies, is working on the details of the show.

Charles Rankin appeared before the committee to inquire about the possibilities of having the Saddle and Sirloin Club put on a show—either Friday or Saturday night of the Open House weekend. After a brief discussion the committee decided that such a show would be favorable to the occasion and consequently granted the club permission to present a show on either or both nights.

At a meeting held during examination week the committee decided that All-College Day did not fully convey the intended meaning and that in the future all correspondence would refer to the occasion as being the A&M Open House.

The next meeting of the A&M Open House committee will be held next Wednesday afternoon at 5 in Dean Barlow's office.

BUSINESS MEETING POSTPONED

The meeting of the Business Society scheduled for tonight has been postponed, according to Earl Little, secretary-treasurer of the Society.

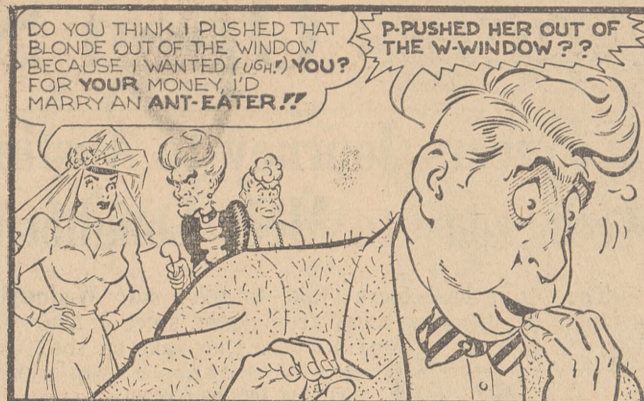

This was necessary because of Religious Emphasis Week, explained Little.

An announcement will be made later this week with the information on the next meeting of the Society.
