Senate To Decide Use Of WSSF Fund

The Student Senate will choose two European schools to send the funds raised by the current campus World Student Fund Drive according to Charles Kirkham, president of the Student Senate. The decision will be made during the regular March session of the Senate to be held in the YMCA Chapel at 7:30 tonight.

Aubrey Sprawls, chairman of the WSSF Committee, has announced that he will propose to the Senate a motion to send the money raised by the drive to a school in Germany and a school in Norway.

"Both countries need our material aid and the reassurance of American support. This is especially true during these days of strong communist pressures on those countries," Sprawls said. Senators will report the success of the drive in their various dormitories.

Two committee chairmen will present reports to the meeting, Kirkham said.

George Edwards, chairman of the special traffic committee will report to the Senate the success of the traffic committee's recommendations to the college made at the last Senate meeting.

A similar report will be made by Fred Hambright, chairman of the special Senate committee, to study possible governing plans for the Student Memorial Center. His report submitted at the February session of the Senate recommended a combined student, faculty and former student council to govern the new Memorial Building.

This year's Senior Ring Dance will come in for some discussion when dormitory Senators report opinions on the Ring Dance expressed by seniors in their dormitories, Kirkham said.

"A member of the Ring Dance Committee will be present to hear these suggestions," Roy Blanton, chairman of the Ring Dance Committee said. "We feel that the senators have received some good suggestions, and we'd like to know what they are."

A photographer for Aggieland 1949 will be present to take pictures of the Senate when everyone comes in coats and ties, Kirkham said.

'49 Cotton Tour Examination Will Be Held Thursday

The second examination for the 1949 cotton tour will be held Thursday, March 10, at 7 p. m. reported J. S. Mogford, agronomy professor.

The cotton tour is an annual event sponsored by the Agronomy Society. Students making the trip are selected by a series of examinations on cotton production, diseases, insects, breeding soil fertility, grading and stapling, harvesting, and the ginning of cotton, Mogford said.

The trip, expenses paid, is conducted through the U. S. or some foreign country. Three students make the trip when the group goes abroad, but when confined to North America, four are selected. Dr. L. G. Jones of the Agronomy Department led the 1948 group which visited sections of the U.S. and Canada, Mogford stated.

The tour is designed to encourage students to study various cotton courses and also to show in greater detail all of the operations taking place in production, marketing, manufacturing, and research. Mogford reported that the trip is financed through proceeds from the Cotton Ball.

Board Cans 466 Cadets For Hazing Thus Starting Student Revolt Of '13

By CHUCK MAISEL
A&M just wouldn't be A&M if everyone wasn't worried about it going to pot. Never has a class gone through the school that didn't think their years saw the school sink to its lowest possible level. The junior class, in the 1913 Longhorn, felt the same way. "Everything has gone wrong with the class and the school," they said.

In particular, they were worrying about the student revolt which had just taken place. On January 28, 1913, the faculty dismissed 27 students for hazing. These men were rather high in student circles, therefore, the lower three classes presented a petition for the reinstatement of the wrong-doers.

The Board refused to consider the petition, so the students came back with a demand for the immediate reinstatement of the 27 or

Aggie Debaters Will Contest West Pointers

A telegram has been received from Cadet Harry Griffith of the United States Military Academy asking A&M to meet the West Pointers in a debate on the A&M campus on March 19, according to H. E. Hierth, acting director of forensics.

The Aggie Discussion and Debate Club has replied by inviting the cadets to be their guests. Undoubtedly the West Pointers will be on a tour at that time, Hierth said. He continued that West Point rates high in debate, and they should be interesting and colorful opponents.

The federal aid question is to be used and A&M is to have the negative side of the debate.

Two A&M debate teams consisting of Jimmy Stevens and James Farmer, and A. J. Shepherd and John Shortall participated in the Piney Woods Forensic Tournament at Nacogdoches last weekend, Hierth reported. During the first round the two Aggie teams were rated as "good" and "excellent." Both teams also survived the second round in the elimination contest.

The Aggie debate team consisting of Jimmy Stevens and James Farmer survived the final round and advanced into the semi-finals, but were then defeated by Baylor.

A&M Anniversary Stamp Proposed

A postage stamp commemorating the 75th anniversary of the founding of A&M may be issued soon, according to Jack Happy, junior business student and varsity baseball manager.

The idea of an anniversary stamp first occurred to Happy when he and a local post-office employe were discussing stamp collection.

Upon recalling that the 75th anniversary is near (1951), Happy decided that he would see what he could do about promoting the issue of a commemorative stamp.

At the suggestion of W. G. "Breezy" Breazeale, assistant director of Student Affairs, Happy in reply to a query, Representative Olin Teague sent the following telegram this morning:

Washington, Dec. 2
Kenneth Z. Bond, Editor
The Battalion Newspaper, A and M College of Texas.

H. R. 3066 introduced by Congressman Teague February 28 reads as follows: "Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Postmaster General is authorized and directed to issue, September 17, 1951, a special postage stamp, of such design as he shall prescribe, in commemoration of the Seventy-fifth Anniversary of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas. A land-grant college."

Congressman Olin E. Teague referred his idea to Henderson Shuffler, director of information, and also wrote a letter to Congressman Olin Teague.

As a result of Teague's suggestion, a letter was written presenting the idea to the Postmaster General.

Happy also took the suggestion to the presidents of some of the former student associations who were attending a banquet on the campus and all of them promised their utmost cooperation.

A joint resolution was then introduced into the legislature by Representative Herman Yezak proposing the approval of the stamp.

J. B. "Dick" Hervey, secretary and treasurer of the Former Students Association, went with Happy to see Colonel Burrell Jackson of Hillsboro, president of the National Postmaster's Association. Colonel Jackson promised his assistance and suggested writing the Texas senators and congressmen.

In the meantime, Colonel Jackson while in Washington on business, presented the matter to other officials there.

The latest development of the story is a telegram from Teague stating that the Texas delegation in Washington has introduced a joint House-Senate resolution for the approval of the issue.
