

Concert Scheduled For Wichita Falls By Singing Cadets

The Texas A&M Singing Cadets will appear in concert Saturday evening, March 12, at Wichita Falls, under the sponsorship of the A&M Former Students Club of Wichita Falls, according to Harold Eades, reporter-historian for the Cadets.

The Cadets, under the directorship of Bill Turner, will have a varied program of songs ranging from Bortniansky's "Glory to God" and "Cherubim Song" to the popular ballad, "You'll Never Walk Alone."

Other popular numbers included on the program are Ringwald's arrangement of "The Night is Young" and "If I Loved You" written by Rodgers and Hammerstein. To complete the concert the Cadets will sing the spirituals "Deep River" and "Joshua Fit the Battle of Jericho," and the stirring "Battle Hymn of the Republic" arranged by Ray Ringwald for male voices, Eades said.

all of Palestine, parts of Trans-Jordan, Iraq, Syria, and Egypt."

Arabs Have Arguments

The Arabs have some good arguments too, he pointed out. The Arabs feel that there is no clearer way to establish ownership of a country than by living in it. "The Arabs have claimed this land since nearly 1500 years ago when they conquered it," he said. He said that a large number of the important people in this area had been assassinated since his pending book on these countries had been sent to the printers. "I have seriously considered putting a note in the front of the book explaining that the names of the important individuals in my book could very well be the names of assassinated people by the time my readers can read it."

Simmons Reports Work Going Fine

Work on the Memorial Student Center is going along fine, according to K. R. Simmons, superintendent of construction. Materials have been coming in on schedule, the weather has not delayed it too much, and the pouring has been done without complication.

In the next three or four months the structural frame will be poured. Everyone will be able to see what the building will look like by the time they leave for the summer, Simmons said.

Simmons is very optimistic about the job. He hopes to complete the building in several months short of contract time. McKee Construction Co. was allowed two years to finish construction.

"I appreciate the interest and cooperation of all the boys around here," Simmons stated. "There have been several who have followed this job from the start, checking on our progress every day. I also would like to thank the boys for one thing in particular—we didn't lose one stick of wood when the Thanksgiving bonfire was held."

HORSE MEAT CASES

HOUSTON, March 10 —(P)—Grand jurors of Harris County will consider Friday the evidence in 26 cases of horse meat sales for human consumption here.

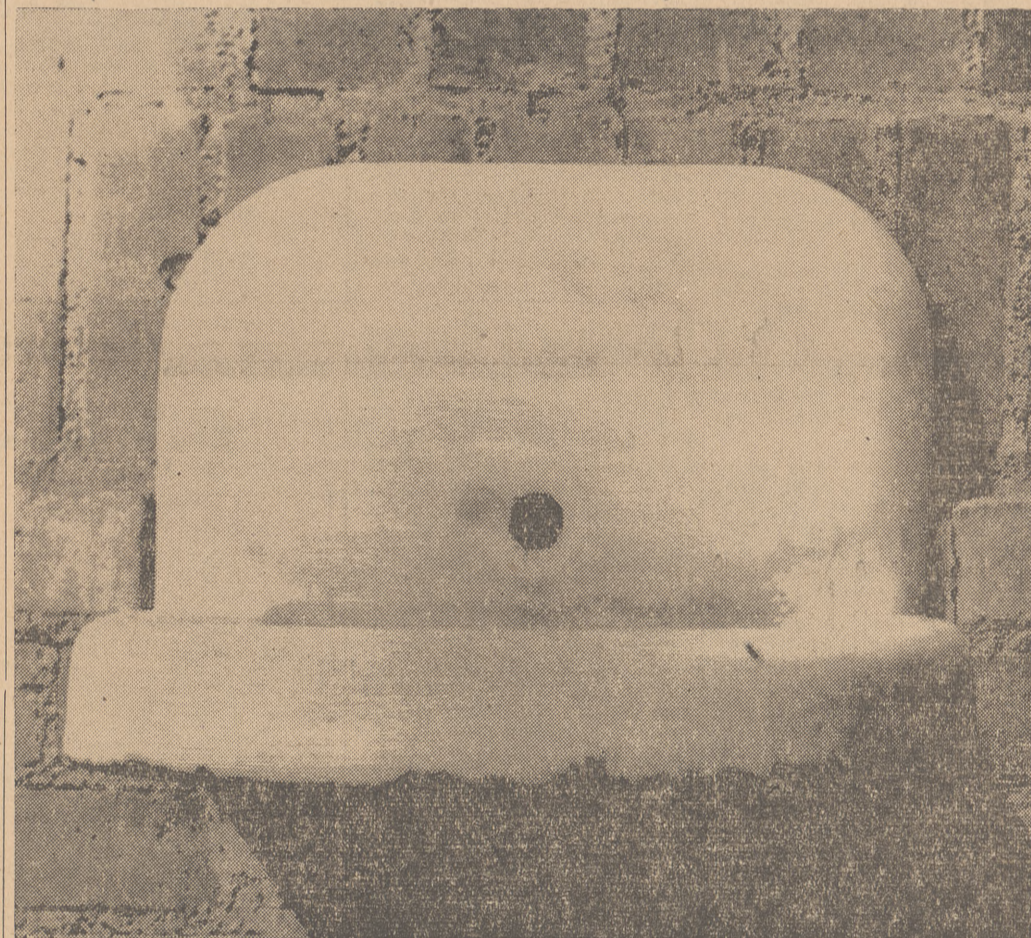

Dist. Atty. W. C. Winborn received the evidence file of city atty. Will Sears Tuesday. They agreed the district attorney should handle prosecutions. The state law provides a heavier penalty than the city ordinance for convictions of horse meat sales for human consumption.

ment staffs to a hog roping contest. So far no one has accepted the challenge, Wynand concluded. Mayes informed the committee that the prospects for a free dance on Open House Day were somewhat unfavorable. The committee asked Mayes to look into the possibilities of having an exhibition square dance at the Grove after the presentation of the follies.
