Hoover Says New Cabinet Post Needed

By STERLING F. GREEN
Washington, March 22 — (AP)—A new cabinet-rank Department of Public Welfare and Education and a controversial merger of federal medical care under one agency were recommended yesterday by the Hoover Commission.

The proposed establishment of an independent "United Medical Administration" was expected to raise a storm of criticism. The American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars already have condemned this plan, which would strip from the armed forces and the veterans administration their continent-wide network of hospital facilities.

But the Hoover group declared the present scattering of medical services among 40 federal offices makes for high cost, duplication and, in the case of the military, "inadequate" care.

The new department of welfare and education, the commission proposed, should embrace federal social security activities, the office of education and most other services now lodged in the federal security administration.

Further, it was urged, the department should take over the bureau of Indian affairs, now under the Interior Department.

If the Hoover plan is adopted by Congress, it would place in President Truman's cabinet his friend and political ally, federal security administrator Oscar R. Ewing.

However, Ewing's agency would be shorn of these activities in the switchover.

The United States Employment Service renamed the "Bureau of Employment Security" would go to the Labor Department where Mr. Truman wants it. The 80th Congress thwarted the president's plan to attach it to labor last year.

The public health service would be wrapped into the new medical administration, along with a section of the food and drug administration. Part of the latter agency would go to the Agriculture Department.

flag chase starts were all in Giant livery last season. Injuries hurt the 1948 Giants from start to finish. Fellows like Catcher Walker Cooper and Second Baseman Billy Rigney can't be lost for long stretches without seriously affecting the club.

Cooper still remains a question mark. The knee that benched him has undergone an operation, but the big backstop has been taking things easy this spring. The Giants will need the heavy-hitting Cooper in most of the games if they hope to go far. His understudies haven't yet come up to expectations.

Pitching also poses an unknown factor beyond Larry Jansen, ace of the corps, who again should be the leader. Only Johnny Sain of the Braves has notched more wins than Larry over the last two seasons.

Number two flinger honors could go to Sheldon Jones, starting his second year in the big leagues. He hung up 16 victories for the Giants last year. Monty Kennedy, who spent most of last season with Minneapolis in the American Association, could prove invaluable. The lefty's wildness kept him out of the majors except for a short stretch near the end of the season in 1948. If he has conquered control, the 15 wins expected of him won't be an overestimate.

All spring Durocher will be looking at fellows like Dave Koso, Ray Poat, Rookie Sam Webb, Clint Hartung, Andy Hansen, Bill Ayers and Mario Picono. He will have to round his mound staff from among them.

The rest of the lineup has been pretty well set—big Johnny Mize, the home run slugger at first base, Rigney or Jack ed to clear the room. Er—better still, have them come up to the speaker's rostrum where they'll er, uh—be out of the way."

Julius Blum (Non-Reg., Law) took the floor. He raved, "I move we adjourn." Whatley seconded the motion. The Senate began to take interest.

"Just a minute," cried Dick Baugh (Sig-Corps, Dorn 9). "It's practically a tradition that I second all motions. I demand the right to second this one and I'm prepared to talk all night if the right isn't granted." With this he pulled out a copy of "Basic English."

"All right, the senator from Dorn 9 is granted the privilege. Now, all in favor?"

"Would you mind re-stating the motion? I don't understand what we're voting on," asked Bob Weyman (Non-Reg, Dorn 17).

But there was nothing for the newspapermen to gain by staying. Usually reliable sources had already informed them of the outcome of that vote.

Truck Haulers To Attend Five Short Courses Here Soon

A series of five new short courses for motor vehicle fleet supervisors was announced recently by Russell Fitzpatrick, in charge of motor transport training of the Industrial Extension Service.

Starting on April 4 with a course for supervisors of oil field hauler fleets, the series will continue during the week of April 11 with a course for insurance company safety engineers and insurance agency personnel, Fitzpatrick stated.

Other courses will be offered on the following schedule: weeks of April 25 and May 2 for supervisors of private carriers, and May 9 for common carriers.

Later courses will be offered for supervisors of city transit and over-the-road bus fleets, Fitzpatrick added.

The new series will bring to 12 the total of courses offered by his department during 1949, FitzPatrick stated. He added that he plans to offer at least 30 courses this year.

Moore Named New Vice President For Dairy Group

Dr. A. V. Moore, Dairy Husbandry Department, was elected to serve as vice president of the Texas Dairy Products Association at the annual business meeting of the organization last week. Dr. Moore was one of the directors for the organization last year.

He was accompanied on the trip to Fort Worth by C. N. Shephardson, dean of the School of Agriculture, who was one of the speakers on the program. Dean Shephardson spoke on "Building Production Through Building Dairymen."

Members of the Association are dairy by-products manufacturers. The association is organized for improving quality in dairy by-products and the program of work is centered around that goal.

Carter to Speak To Journalists And Batt Staff

Wesley E. Carter, editor of the Linotype News, will discuss typography and newspaper makeup at a meeting of journalism students and members of The Battalion staff here April 5, according to Roland Bing, director of Student Publications.

Carter is director of public relations for the Mergenthaler Linotype Company and "is fully acquainted with the various problems of newspaper publishing," Bing emphasized.

A journalism graduate of the University of Kentucky, Carter also attended Columbia University and has been employed as an operator, printer, reporter, feature writer, and editor on weeklies, dailies, and wire services.

He has given talks on typography and newspaper makeup before state and national press associations as well as groups at New York University, Washington and Lee, and Columbia.
