We hear Houston, which had talked about plans for building a stadium seating 110,000—which would be the largest in the nation—has lowered its sights somewhat. Plans now call for a stadium of about 65,000.

What, no bowl game in Houston?

Recently, when Jerry Thompson ran a mile in 4:12.3 at the Texas Relays it was hailed as the fastest mile in southwestern history. It now develops that the designation was erroneous.

Blaine Rideout, while running at North Texas State, did 4:11.8 in a meet at Denton.

Rideout ran faster miles than that but not in the Southwest. He turned in a 4:08.5 at Memphis, Tenn., in 1940 and 4:10.9 in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans in 1939. However, he did not win either race. He still holds the Kansas Relays record of 4:10.1 and in that race his brother Wayne, finished second to him in 4:10.2.

Rideout, now trainer at Texas A&M, sees a 40 flat mile for J. D. Hampton, the Aggie distance star, in 1950. If Hampton will keep working on his finish!

It's sports round-up time again a W.S.D.

Trot on down here right now while we're branding a whole new stock of live, up-to-the-minute sportswear—made-for-action, made-for-comfort, made-for-fun. And the brand's "B.V.D.", of course—an old hand at this sort of thing!

Maybe you'd better speed up to a gallop and streak down the stretch while the track is fast and clear.

English Rider Now Trainer

Around Britain's racetracks they used to identify Jockey Fulke Walwyn as "the man who had broken every bone in his body."

His last fracture—of the skull—proved his best break. The doctor ordered him to quit. From so-so success as a jockey, he took up training and shot to the top.

In 1945, his first season, Walwyn saddled six winners. In 1946-47, he rocketed to the top of the trainer's list with 60 victories. Last season he had 75, a record for 'chasing here.

This season he fell short of the record because of an epidemic of coughing that kept many of his horses from his Saxon House stables at Lambourn, Berkshire, had won 61 races worth $15,036 ($80,144) through March. "I don't know how I do it," says the 38-year-old trainer. "Maybe it's because I do nothing else. I have no hobbies. I haven't had a vacation since I left the Army. All I ever think about is racing."

Another good reason is his pretty wife, Diana, a cousin of the Earl of Ranfurly. She is his girl Friday around the stables. Having won enough races to make him top 'chase trainer for the third straight year, Walwyn's horses are going out to toll in the pasture for the summer.

Bob Sweeney, the American amateur golfer and banker who lives part of the year in England, is among Walwyn's patrons. Another is Miss Dorothy Paget, most extensive racehorse owner in Britain, who sent Walwyn her string of 'chasers in 1946. Walwyn won the Grand National in 1936 on Reynoldstown. He was an amateur rider, a cavalry officer in the 9th Lancers, but the victory so steamed him up for racing that he resigned his commission and became a professional jockey.

CHARLES C. SCHWAB

Schwab Elected Engineer Editor

The Engineering Council has announced the election of Charles C. Schwab, junior in Mechanical Engineering, as Editor of the Texas A&M Engineer magazine. Schwab, whose home is in Beaver, Pennsylvania, will hold this office for the coming school year of 1949-50. Roland Bing, Manager, Student Publications, announced that the publishing policy of the Engineer has been revised effective next fall. Starting with the October issue, Bing said, the Engineer will be published eight times a year or monthly.

The Engineer will then have resumed the eight-issue schedule which it had maintained prior to the war. During the war it had ceased publication. In January 1947 it resumed operations but on a quarterly basis.

Naval Officers Hold Interview

The Office of Naval Officer Procurement in Dallas will have two representatives on the campus May 3, 4, and 5 to interview students interested in a career of Naval Aviation. Colonel H. L. Boatney, PMS&T, announced today.

Lt. Cmdr. Schneelock and Lt. Chapman will be here to talk to students who will receive their baccalaureate degrees in June. Complete information about the Naval Aviation Program for college graduates will be available.

The officers will be in the library on the second floor of Ross Hall from 8:30 a. m. until 4:30 p. m. each of the three days they are on the campus.

Business Society To Meet Tonight

A formal business meeting of the Business Society will be held tonight at 7:30 in Building A according to Marvin Hegemeier, president. The meeting will deal primarily with planning for the Spring social, Hegemeier said.

"It's very important that every member of the Business Society attend this meeting," said Hegemeier. "For some time discussion has been going on concerning some type of social activity to be held by the club before the end of this semester. As yet nothing has been done and time is growing short," he continued.

Hegemeier stressed the fact that the meeting tonight will be the last one at which any planning can be done. "If there is not a quorum present, there will be no meeting and therefore no social," he concluded.
