Fish Nine End Season Against Pioneers, Here

The Texas Aggie Fish baseball team close out their 1949 season today against the Wharton Pioneers on the Freshman diamond at 3 p. m.

Wharton will be trying for their second win of the year by defeating the Aggies, having upset them a month ago in Wharton, 5-2. Coach Paul Andrews will probably start the ace of his mound staff, Bob Tankersley.

Tankersley who has four straight wins notched up, has yet to taste defeat. He holds two victories over Rice, one over Baylor, and one over the Texas University Short-horns. Tankersley's battery mate for today's contest will be Al Ogletree, the brilliant young catcher of the Fish squad. The Austin team is currently hitting the ball at a .300 clip. Ogletree is the outstanding Freshman catcher in the conference and is considered one of the best prospects in college baseball in the Southwest Conference today.

The rest of the starting line-up will probably be Jim Kinnell at first base, Joe Kerzette at second, Charlie Operstey at third, and Les Lacey at short. In the outfield, it should be Yale Stacy, Tex Farmer, and Jack Mills. Joe Clifton will probably see some action in the infield, and Martin Hamilton might get in behind the plate for the Freshmen.

If Tankersley doesn't get the call today the harrier will probably be Sam Blanton of Besamont. Blanton pitched a masterful game against the Short-horns even though he lost 4-1.

Saturday, the young Aggies beat the Allen Academy team of Bryan, 13-3. Bill Bybee of Amarillo was the winning pitcher. In six innings he gave up only three hits.

Mural Track Meet Begins Today

The Spring Intramural Track Meet begins at 5 this afternoon, according to Barney Wiest, director of Intramural Athletics. The meet continues Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons, and ends late Wednesday, Wiest said.

Longhorns Win Crown As Wall Pitches Two-Hitter in Second

The Aggie baseball team missed its batting of the day before Saturday as it lost to the Texas Longhorns 6-1. This win gave the Steers the conference crown and left the Cadets in possession of second place.

Right-hander Murray Wall kept A&M's bats quiet with his two-hit pitching. Wall fanned seven Farmers in adding his eight victory against one defeat of this season.

To note how effective Wall was, only four Aggies were stranded on the base pads. But one A&M player, Russell Mays, got to third, and Wally Moon scored the only run.

Moon's lone tally came in the seventh. He met the first pitch that Wall hurled at him and lofted it over the 355 foot left center field fence. This, plus Mays' single in the first frame, accounted for the Farmer two hits of the game. The Longhorns peeked away at starter Pat Hubert for six innings before he ended his mound duty. Hubert walked Wall in the third and he advanced on a pass ball. James Shamblin's double brought him home.

The next inning, Ed Kneuper took first on four balls and was scored on Bob Brock's long double. Surprise Frank Kana, Texas third baseman, surprised himself and his teammates by slapping a homer in the seventh. Wall followed him with a single as did Watson. Hamilton walked and all three raced home on Kneuper's single that Bob Fretz juggled.

Bruce Morisse finished up the game for the Aggies after the inning was completed. Kana does go down on the books as participating in a "triple play." With two aboard, Kana got coach Bib Faul's sign to sacrifice. He struck his bat in front of two pitches missing both. On the second pitch, Aggie catcher Bob Graham heaved the ball to second. Guy Wallace picked off Brock, who had gone halfway to third expecting the bunt. Kana then hit into a double play at shortstop.

Besides Wall's steady pitching, much of the credit for the Longhorn win must go to Al Joe Hunt, who played stellar ball at shortstop. Hunt robbed the Aggies of at least three scratch hits. However he handled no more chances than the Aggies' own Guy Wallace.

Biggest Disappointment Biggest disappointment of the two game series was Tom Hamilton, who didn't live up to his press notices when he stepped into the batter's box here. Hamilton had but one hit, a single in Saturday's game, for seven times at bat. Fretz had struck him out twice in Friday's game.

One accident marred Saturday's game. Bob Graham and Russell Mays went after a high pop-up in the sixth that drifted along the third base line. They collided and Graham was unable to play for a few minutes.

FRIDAY'S GAME Right-hander Bobby Fretz lived up to his advance notices as the leading pitcher in the Southwest Conference here Friday as he led the Aggies to a 6-1 victory over the Texas Longhorns.

Friday's game was Fretz's fifth conference win against no losses. Pitching stellar ball all the way, the blond senior from Houston allowed the Steers only five hits and kept those well scattered.

Hittless Hamilton An outstanding feature of the game was Fretz's performance against big Tom Hamilton, who was leading the conference in batting with a .534 average before this contest. In four times at bat, Hamilton grounded out once, struck out twice, and managed to get on base once as a fielder's choice. Fretz also walked him once.

Charlie Gorin, who had not lost a conference game in three starts up to this one, was tapped for seven hits and four runs by the Aggies before he was replaced by Frank Womack in the seventh inning. The Aggies then got three hits and two runs off Womack.

The Aggies took the lead in the first inning on a score by Russell Mays and were never headed. Mays, lead-off man for the Aggies, got a single over shortstop and went to second on shortstop Al Joe Hunt's juggle of the ball. Cotton Lindloff then singled to center field to score him. Guy Wallace hit into a double play to end the inning.

Not until the sixth frame did the Farmers push across another marker. Center fielder Wally Moon first up in that inning, hit a grounder down the first base line that was too hot for Tom Hamilton, and wound up on first. Bob Fretz then beautifully sacrificed Moon down to second.

Big John DeWitt knocked a single to center field and Moon streaked into home for the Aggies' second tally. DeWitt got to second on the late throw to the plate. Shug McPherson and Bob Graham both flied out to end the frame.

Big Seventh A&M's big inning was the 7th. Herschel Maltz started by doubling to right field. Mays grounded out and Joe Savarino got a base on balls. Then pitcher Gorin filled the bases by waiting too long to throw to first on Wallace's grounder.

The Aggies then pulled the best executed play of the game when Wally Moon bunted relief pitcher Elliott's kneecap and sidelined the Brave.

Add Willie Jones to the list of suggestions. One of the Phillie third baseman's drives bounced off Bob Elliott's kneecap and sidelined the Brave.

Aggie Nine To Play Rice Here Tuesday

The Aggie baseball team closes out its schedule here tomorrow in a game with the Rice Owls. Game time is 3 p. m. This will be the second time that the Cadets meet the Feathered Flock. These two teams opened their conference schedule against each other in a two game series in Houston but one was rained out.

The Aggies were the winners in the team's first meeting, 8-0. Coach Marty Karow has Bob Fretz, Bruce Morisse, Blanton Taylor, Pat Hubert, and Truett Mobley to choose his starting pitcher from.

Expected to start for the Owls is Bill Bishop. Rice pulled the upset of the conference baseball go-round last week when it defeated the Baylor Bears two games out of three in Houston.

That brought the Owl's win total to three for the conference season and knocked Baylor out of the running for the crown. Up until that time, Baylor had an inside chance to tie Texas for the conference crown.

If the Aggies had defeated the Longhorns in both games Friday and Saturday, they would have had to play the Owls twice. Since it is the custom to refrain from playing postponed games after the title has been decided in the conference, the Aggies will wind up the season here tomorrow.

Bowlers Take Narrow 4-2 Win From T.S.C.W. Team in Denton

A&M's Bowling team narrowly defeated T.S.C.W.'s 4 to 2, in a match in Denton yesterday. The first Tessie team, operating with a 139-pin handicap score, took two out of three games from A&M's best, while their second team failed but managed to beat all three of their lines. Only two men off the top five A&M team made the trip, and only one member from the second team was there.

At the conclusion of the match, the Aggies were entertained by the Tessies in their Student Union Building with ping pong and other sports. Transportation for the group was furnished by Student Activities.

T.S.C.W.'s first team had several good bowlers who beat their male opponents part of the time. Their high score was a 182 game posted by Lulu Smith after getting four strikes in a row. But three ruffed frames kept her under 200.

Second high for the hosts was Sally Bullock, with a 143, 168, 148 series, followed by Laverne Schaefer's two games of 154 and 151.

The handicap for the two teams was arrived at by subtracting the difference between their averages, and as most of the Aggies shot under their's, the score could have been much worse.

A&M's first team of Floyd Henk, Harris Cox, Art Howard, Bubba Williamson, and Major Lunceford bowled total games of only 756, 819, and 724, while their opponents made 587, 708, and 727, beating the Aggies in the final game without the use of the handicap.

The second team fared better, with at least one man hitting high enough each game to keep the total up. Bob Weaver, Alex Peagous, Brad Holmes, George Chew, and Wally Dixon shot consistently low scores of 745, 745, and 729.

Add Willie Jones to the list of suggestions. One of the Phillie third baseman's drives bounced off Bob Elliott's kneecap and sidelined the Brave.

Aggies Set Five New Records

and never let the gap close. Bill Napier held off the closing sprint of Texas' Charley Parker. The Farmers' time was 41.6.

At the end of eight events the team totals were all tied between the Aggies and the Steers with 29 1/2 points each. Texas gained 3 1/2 points in the high jump with second and a man in a four way tie for third. Jack Simpson, was also in the four way tie for the third place.

Aggie Erfurth was a clear winner in the 120-yard high hurdles. Bill Cardon failed to place in this event after injuring his leg the previous day.

A closely bunched field sped the 880-yard run in such a way as to almost change its name to the 880 dash. Carroll Hahn took fourth for A&M in this race behind two Rice runners and an Arkansas entrant. A&M closed the gap four points when the results of the board jump came in over the speaker.
