

Pictured above are members of the Dorm 14 softball team that is a member of the Summer Intramural League. Kneeling left to right are Earl McMahan, F. S. Herral, W. L. Dyer, R. W. Scarborough, and Charles Parrish. Back row left to right are James Carter, Buran Keptra, Bill Arrington, A. R. Gibson, and R. D. Munnerlyn.

TU Whips Deacons, Wins Baseball Title

Wichita, Kan., June 25—(AP)—The University of Texas Longhorns laid down an 18-hit attack against three Wake Forest pitchers to win the National Collegiate Athletic Association Baseball Championship by a 10 to 3 score Saturday night.

TCU to Begin Taking Ticket Orders Today

Fort Worth, June 27—Application blanks for tickets to the TCU Horned Frogs' 1949 football games are being mailed today (Monday, June 27) to Frog fans, including all 1949 season ticket holders, Athletic Director Howard Grubbs has announced.

Persons not receiving application forms may obtain them by contacting the TCU athletic department, either by phone, letter or personal call.

The applications provide for requests for season tickets for the Frogs' five home games and for individual game tickets for both home and out-of-town games.

Season tickets for the home schedule are $18 for reserved seats and $21.25 for box seats. All orders must be in Grubbs' office by Aug. 1. The home season includes Oklahoma A. & M. Sept. 24 (night), Texas A&M Oct. 15, Mississippi Oct. 22 (night), Rice Nov. 19 (Homecoming), and SMU Nov. 26. Stadium parking space may also be purchased with the season tickets. Space on the lower level is $5. for the season, the upper level $10.

Individual game tickets only may be ordered for the Frogs' away-from-home games, which include Kansas Sept. 17 in Lawrence, Arkansas Oct. 1 in Fayetteville, Indiana Oct. 8 in Bloomington, Baylor Oct. 29 in Waco, and Texas Nov. 12 in Austin.

Murray Wall, who pitched the first 4 and 2/3 innings for Texas, received credit for the victory, his second of the series.

The Texans, who won three straight in the double elimination tournament, overpowered the Wake Forest Club. The Longhorns picked up single runs in the first and second innings, got two each in the fifth and seventh and added four more in the eighth.

Tom Hamilton, Texas first baseman, hit his third home run of the tournament in the eighth with one out on.

Hamilton was selected by sports writers, sports casters and officials as the most valuable player of the tournament. He hit .500 in the three games.

The individual sportsmanship award went to Russell Batchelor, of Wake Forest. The Dragons also won the team sportsmanship trophy.

Team	W	L	Pct.
Texas	4	0	1.000
Winnacoff 1f	4	3	.571
Hunt 2b	4	3	.571
Shamblan 2b	4	3	.571
Hamilton 1b	5	2	.714
Kneuper rf	5	1	.833
Brook cf	5	0	1.000
Kana 3b	5	1	.833
Watson c	5	0	1.000
Wall p	2	0	1.000
Ehrler p	2	0	1.000
TOTALS	45	10	.818
Wake Forest	4	1	.800
Hoch cf	5	1	.833
Hooks 3b	3	1	.750
Teague 2b	5	0	1.000
Fulghum lf	5	1	.833
Harris rf	4	0	1.000
Kerah cf	2	0	1.000
Warren 1b	3	0	1.000
Batchelor c	3	0	1.000
Nicholas p	2	0	1.000
Bauer p	0	0	0.000
Mustian p	0	0	0.000
Matney 1b	0	0	0.000
TOTALS	33	3	.909
Score by innings:
Texas	110	020	240
Wake Forest	000	200	010

One of the student workers on the Kyle Field lighting project bails out the recently excavated hole for the West, fifty yard pole. The workmen struck water at around twenty feet and had a budding water well on their hands during the heavier rains.

Bill Holland Began Career Driving Sunday Races For $5

NEW YORK—Bill Holland has always been a bug for speed. He has been in automobile racing for 14 years and to followers of dirt track racing his victory in the 100-mile Indianapolis Speedway classic came as only a mild surprise.

The 41-year-old pilot from Reading, Pa., worked at various jobs from fixing beer pumps to adjusting wheels on roller skates and then became proprietor of his own rinks in Reading and Bridgeport, Conn.

It was, while working for $18 a week as a Philadelphia rink floorman that a friend told him he could make from $5 to $15 a Sunday driving a racing car. In the 500 he won $51,000, about 35 per cent of which he retained.

"I still recall my first race," says Willard Holland. "It was outside Philadelphia, just a field without a fence or seats for the spectators. I finished third in the consolation heat."

Before that he was interested in speed on skates, both roller and ice, and in bikes. As a kid of 13, he won a Philadelphia schoolboy championship roller race. In 1931 he was the first Philadelphian to finish in a sectional bicycle trial for the 1932 Olympics. He finished ninth.

During six years in Bridgeport he developed several roller and ice skating stars. He helped his son, Willard, Jr., 17, win the national junior roller speed skating crown in 1947. The boy also plays basketball and competes in track at Ontalane High, Leesport, Pa.

Bill Holland receives congratulations after winning the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race.

To look at the pleasant features of the black-haired Holland one would never believe this roaring knight of the road had been in three serious auto accidents.

In his second year as a driver he fractured a hip at Lancaster, Pa. In a crash at Trenton, N.J. he fractured a vertebra and crushed a shoulder. Three years ago he sustained a concussion during the Rutland, Vt., fair. The scar required 22 stitches on his forehead yet is hardly noticeable.

"It happened when a car ahead of me kicked up a big rock," says Bill. "It was so big that the helmet failed to protect me. It was a ragged wound but the doctors did a wonderful job on it."

Holland has a number of dirt track races lined up for this summer and fall. However, the next race in which he plans to pilot Lou Moore's $32,000 winning Blue Crown Special is the 100-mile championship test at Springfield, Ill., on Aug. 20.

"I may quit the dirt tracks after this year," says Holland. That depends on what happens. I may become a representative in the auto parts business. At any rate I'll be back in the 600 next Memorial Day."

Though Holland set a new Indianapolis record of 121.327 miles per hour he feels certain that he could have gone "one to one and a half miles an hour faster" but for engine trouble.

• RECORDS • RADIOS
School & Office Supplies
ALL YOUR NEEDS
HASWELL'S

DOUG'S CAFE
Colleges and 27th
Specializing In MEXICAN DISHES
CHICKEN FRIED STEAK DINNERS
AGGIES ALWAYS WELCOME

LOST!
A Diamond!

—because I failed to take advantage of the free inspection service offered by SANKEY PARK. Avoid loss... bring in your jewelry NOW... let us examine your diamonds and precious stones for safety. If they're safe there is no charge and your jewelry will be cleaned and polished without charge... COME IN NOW.

SANKEY PARK
JEWELER
111 N. Main Bryan

LOOKIN' AT SPORTS

BY TRAVIS BROCK

On September 17, A&M will open its 1949 football season against Villanova. This will be the first night game of college football that has ever been played in this part of the state.

Highlighting this opening game will be the appearance of 24 top-notch high school bands from Central, South, and Southeast Texas. These bands will come to Bryan and College Station to help the Aggies open their season under the new lighting system.

Plans are being made to really make this a big day for everyone. A downtown parade will be staged in Bryan starting about 12 noon with all 24 bands included. During the afternoon, all the bands and their directors will be guests of

A&M at a huge picnic. A twirlers contest will take place in the center of Kyle Field just before game time with the best twirler from each band participating. Trophies will be awarded to the best twirler and the runner-up, and the five best twirlers will get tickets to future Aggie games.

A little looking into the past shows that A&M has won 48 of its opening football games and has lost only four, with three ending in ties. The most one-sided game in the Aggies opening day appearances was against Daniel Baker in 1920 when the Aggies won by a score of 110-0.

The Southwest Conference came through with flying colors in the NCAA Baseball Finals when the boys from over at Austin took the Championship with ease. We can almost claim a part of this title, since the Aggies defeated the potent Longhorns by a decisive score earlier this year.

Couple Take The Long Way Home

WOONSOCKET, R. I.—(AP)—Like young lovers, Mr. and Mrs. Elphege Manseau took the long way home today.

The Manseaus drove to Precious Blood Church to mark their 50th wedding anniversary. When they came out they found their car gone. In its place friends had put a horse-drawn hay, just like the one they used to drive to their wedding.

This one was manned by a coachman, a butler and a footman, all in livery. Manseau said: "Giddap but don't hurry."

Duster Is Result Of Hope-Crosby Attempt

Snyder, Tex., June 24—(AP)—Bing Crosby and Bob Hope are better comedians than they are oil men.

Their first well, a wildcat test in central Scurry county, was described today as a "duster." Among other things, that means not commercially profitable.

Crosby and Hope were co-partners with veteran oilman W. A. Moncrief in the well, known as the No. 1 Dewey Moore. No indications of oil were found after the well was drilled to 7,978 feet. Preparations were made to plug and abandon it.

BIG STATE LEAGUE

Team	W	L	Pct.
Texas	46	27	.630
Austin	45	28	.616
Wichita Falls	46	29	.613
Waco	33	37	.471
Sherman-Denison	32	39	.451
Gainesville	32	41	.438
Greenville	31	42	.425
Temple	25	47	.347

Jack Tuero Beats Sam Match For NCAA Net Championship

Austin, June 25—(AP)—Handsome Jack Tuero of Tulane bounced back twice Saturday to lick stubby Sam Match of San Francisco for the championship of collegiate tennis.

The tall, swarthy man who was supposed to win the title two years ago and failed had the reserve strength when the chips were on the line this time and he reared from behind dramatically for a 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, 6-7, 6-0 victory over the veteran from the Pacific Coast.

In the third set, it appeared Tuero was finished. He was behind, 4-2, and Match was running him ragged with his drop shots. But battling Jack pulled himself together and after the game was deuced three times made two brilliant placements that got him back into the ball game. In the next game he broke Match's service to win, held his own in the ninth game and broke Match's service again in the tenth to gun out the set.

But Tuero wasn't out of the woods—in fact, his toughest battle was to come. In the fourth set, Match broke Tuero's service three times as he swept to a 6-4 lead.

The fans attending this National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament at the University of Texas were flung out of the stands. But Tuero rallied for the next game and broke Match's service to tie it up. Both held service for two games—the fourteenth was deuced three times before Match won it—then Tuero held service in the fifteenth and broke Match's service and his heart in the sixteenth.

The final set found the San Francisco player a beaten man. He furnished only passive resistance and was able to deuce only one game. Tuero broke Match's service after that deuce in winning the final game.

Tuero's victory was an upset. He was seeded eighth to Match's third and had considerable trouble getting to the final. He beat George Stewart of State College, SC, 6-4, 8-6 in the first round, took out Jack Sunderland of Kalamazoo 6-4, 4-6, 6-3 in the second, won over Dick Savitt of Cornell when the match was squared at 4-6, 10-8 and the Easterner had to default because of a sunstroke; edged Art Larsen of San Francisco 8-6, 6-4 in the quarter-finals and then took out Buddy Behrens of Rollins 6-1, 6-4, 6-2 in the semi-finals.

In 1947 Tuero was seeded No. 1 in the NCAA tournament but lost in the third round. He was defeated in the quarter-finals last year. But this season he hasn't lost a match in collegiate play.

Tuero is of Cuban ancestry. He is the son of Oscar Tuero, who was a top pitcher in the Texas League for years.

Match has known an NCAA championship but not in the singles. In 1947, while at Rice, he teamed with Bobby Curtis for the doubles title.

Match won his way to the finals here by defeating the brilliant Fred Kovaleski of William and Mary in such decisive fashion he was installed as a big favorite to lick Tuero.

The final match was delayed an hour because of rain that made the court slippery. Several times Match and Tuero hit the clay in attempting to return shots at the net.

Jim Brink and Fred Fisher of the University of Washington won the doubles championship, defeating Art Larsen and Match of the University of San Francisco, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3.

W. R. (Bill) Carmichael, A&M Athletic Director, was selected as the new superintendent of schools in Bryan this morning.

Do people read advertisements?

you read this one didn't you
The Battalion
see, you even read the sponsor