Swimming Meet To Begin Tomorrow

The College Station Swimming Championships, sponsored by the College Station Recreational Council and directed by Aggie swimming coach Art Adamson, gets under way here tomorrow at 1 p. m. It ends Sunday night. Sanctioned by the AAU, the meet is open to all amateur swimmers. Entrants from outside the Gulf AAU district, however will have to have travel permits before they can participate. The meet gets off to a good start tomorrow afternoon when the preliminaries will be held in 19 events. Finals for the qualifiers in these events will be held tomorrow night at 7:30. Again Sunday afternoon at 1, preliminaries will be held in 19 more events. The finals for those qualifiers will be held that night at 7:30. Entries will be accepted until 10 a. m. tomorrow but a late fee will be charged. The late fees now required for junior boys and girls is 30¢ per event, and intermediate boys and girls, 50¢ per event, and for men and women, 50¢ per event. No entry fee are required for the preliminary events but if the qualifiers expect to compete in the finals, they must pay their entry fees. All junior boys and girls can enter two events exclusive of the relays, intermediates and seniors can enter three events exclusive of the relays, intermediates and seniors. A junior may split his events and swim in an advanced division as well as his own, but may not enter more events than he is limited to in his own division. If all his entries are in the advanced division, he may enter as many events as that division allows. According to Art Adamson, director of the meet, entries have been received from the following cities: Tyler, Nacogdoches, Fort Worth, Houston, NSTC at Denton, and College Station. A majority of the swimmers are from College Station, Adamson said, and the number of girls entered far outnumbered the boys. In all individual events, trophies will be awarded for first place and silver and bronze medals for second and third places. A team trophy will be awarded the team scoring the most points in all events. Also, there will be medals awarded to first, second, and third place winners in all the relays. Trophies for the winners were contributed by the following firms and organizations: College Station State Bank, A. M. Waldrop Co., Kiwanis Club, Lions Club, Rotary Club, W.S.D. Clothiers, Henry A. Miller Hardware, Lipscomb Pharmacy, Marjion Pugh Lumber Co., Taylor's Variety Store, Aggie Land Pharmacy, Pruitt's Fabric Shop, First National Bank, Charlie's Food Market, agents of American General Life Insurance Co., Hotard's Cafeteria, Ray Oden, Madeley Pharmacy, Fussell Super Market, Laundry, Black's Pharmacy, L. E. McCall Service Station, Culpepper Realty Co., Mais Super Market, Aggie Land Service Station, Robertson and Chambers, City National Bank, First State Bank, Collegiate Shop, and The Smart Shop.

Frames for the concrete bases that will support the light poles around Kyle Field have been set and the work of pouring the concrete is underway. The concrete bases will extend 15 feet above the ground with the steel light poles set on top of them.

Williams To Make Debut In Brooklyn In All Star Game

BROOKLYN, N.Y. (AP)—July 8—The first appearance of Ted Williams in Ebbets-Field promises to be one of the highlights of the 10th All-Star game on Tuesday, July 12. Williams never has played in the home park of the Dodgers. Just how will the Brooklyn Dodger fans react to their first glimpse of the American League's great slugger? Or how will Williams react to the cheers, or the boos if there are to be any? It will be interesting to see the results. Over a period of years, Williams probably has been the most-feared batter to come to the plate in the annual dream games. He has appeared in six previous classics—a high for active outfielders—and has batted a rousing .500. The slender southpaw swinger has driven out nine hits in 18 official trips to the plate. Last year he had a torn rib cartilage and his only All-Star activity was a base on balls as a pinch hitter. Included in his blows are three home runs, two doubles and four singles. He has driven home nine runs. His best All-Star effort came in

TED WILLIAMS Cheers or boos? 1946 at Fenway Park, Boston. He had a perfect day at the plate, with two homers, two singles and a walk to lead the attack in a 12-0 victory, the most one-sided of the 11 American League victories in 15 games thus far. Williams is the only American Leaguer ever to hit two homers in one All-Star game. Arky Vaughan did it for the National League in Detroit's Briggs Stadium in 1941. Williams is one of the really great hitters in baseball history, and in Ebbets Field the right field fence, 297 feet on the foul line, is made to order for the terrific pull hitter. Suppose Williams hits a home run on his first trip to the plate? Naturally, the fans, even though most of them will be National League fans, will stand up and cheer. They will expect Williams to tip his cap in a gesture of appreciation between the time he touches home plate and returns to the dugout. Brooklyn fans know their baseball inside out but a lot of them have yet to see Williams. Their cheers, which usually are spontaneous, may turn to boos quickly. You see, Williams never tips his cap for applause.

Hart Wins Over Legett Hall 5-4

Legett Hall fell before Hart Wednesday afternoon by a score of 5-4. Hart jumped into the lead early in the first inning when they combined a walk and an error to score one run. Another run was pushed across in the bottom half of the second inning for the boys front Hart when they got two timely hits to score the only earned run of the game for them. Legett hit for three runs in the top half of the third frame when Garza hit a circuit clout with one man on base to tie the score. Wall followed Garza to the plate and immediately hit one of Crow's fast balls for a home run to make the score 3-2 in favor of Legett. Legett added another run in the fifth frame on two good hits to forge into the lead by another run, but Hart came back in the bottom of the fifth to score another run, then Hart added its last two runs in the bottom of the sixth inning on two errors by the Legett boys. Crow was the winning pitcher as he gave up four runs and five hits. Brock was the losing hurler as he gave up six hits and five runs. This loss almost eliminated Legett from the championship race as there are two teams tied for the lead and have only one more game to play. Score by innings: R H E Legett 003 010 0-4 5 4 Hart 110 012 x-5 6 2

Law Surprises All, Defeats Mitchell

Law Hall, after losing seven straight games in the Campus Intramural League, dropped Mitchell Hall from top place in the standings Thursday afternoon, 8-7. Law collected ten hits off the offerings of A. L. Von Rosenberg while Mitchell touched Turnbow of Law for 11 hits and seven runs. Five hits, one a home run by Vick Levy in fifth, put the game on ice for Law when three runs were scored. Rex Fox of Mitchell also got a circuit clout, that one in the sixth. The big hitter of the game was Roy Faucett, who collected three safeties out of four times at the plate. Score by innings: R H E Law 002 030 3-11 7 2 Mitchell 103 102 0-10 8 3

Villanova Sports Director Here

Bill Connolly, athletic director of Villanova, will arrive on the campus this afternoon to look over the athletic plant and discuss the opening game between A&M and his school, next September. Connolly will leave Saturday afternoon to return to Villanova.

4,637,743 Fans Cast Ballots For All-Stars

New York, July 8—(AP)—The Major League All-Stars won't settle their annual argument until Tuesday in Brooklyn, but the nation's baseball fans already have won. The All-Star squads follow exactly the dictates of the 4,637,743 fans who balloted. Managers Lou Boudreau of the Americans and Billy Southworth of the Nationals were bound to use only the top choice for each of the eight positions. They exercised their judgment solely in the pitching department which wasn't included in the popular voting. Two additions brought on by peculiar circumstances were sure to meet with the fans' approval. Joe DiMaggio, of the Yankees, who suddenly returned to his brilliant form after missing the first 65 games of the season, was included on the American League squad for the 11th time. Eddie Waitkus, of the Phils, who was leading the National League first base poll when he was shot by a crazed girl admirer, was named an honorary member. Brooklyn and St. Louis dominate the National League Roster announced Wednesday. They each landed seven players on the 26-man squad. The New York Giants placed four, followed by Boston, Cincinnati and Philadelphia with two each and Chicago and Pittsburgh with one each. Three of the eight National League pitchers are Dodgers—(See ALL-STARS, Page 4)

Athletic Officer Given Watch

Last Tuesday afternoon, just before the Mitchell Hall softball team took on Leggett Hall in a Campus Intramural League softball contest, Mitchell Hall honored its Athletic Officer, A. L. Von Rosenberg, by presenting him with a shining new pocket watch. Mike Williams, Housemaster of Mitchell Hall, presented the watch, a Hamilton, just before the two teams took to the field.

According to Williams, the award came about through the suggestion of various individuals in Mitchell Hall who had remarked that all athletic officers, and Mitchell's in particular, received very little recognition for their services. Williams went on to say that he polled various residents of Mitchell and came to the conclusion that some way had to be found to recognize the efforts and good work of Von Rosenberg.

Consequently, according to Williams, the residents of Mitchell and the dorm team decided to honor their athletic officer and softball team manager by presenting him with a watch. Von Rosenberg, an Ag Eco major from La Grange, has been the athletic officer of Mitchell Hall since last spring. The funds to buy the watch, according to Williams, were taken from the Mitchell Hall Canteen fund.

Mural Softball To Be Decided This Afternoon

The winner of the Campus Intramural Softball League will probably be decided this afternoon when Walton and Milner, currently tied for first place with a 6-2 record each, tangle on diamond 6. Milner had to come from behind twice to finally blast Project House 14-6 in a nine innings slugfest Thursday. The game was all tied up in the top of the ninth when the Tigers came to life and pounded Glen Bunch for nine runs on five hits and three errors. Bunch pitched a good game but nine errors on the part of his team mates did not help his cause any. George Barclay was the winning pitcher, giving up nine hits for six runs. Score by innings: H R E Milner 120 100 109-15 14 1 Proj House 210 020 001-9 6 9
