Walker and Crew Will Have D P Rough Schedule This Year

By BILL HAILE

What will they do at SMU? Will they take the conference again this year? Will the Doaker be as good this year as he was last year or will he be even better? How will Kyle Rote do this season? These are just a few of the questions that people would like to have answered.

To say that the mighty Mustangs have an edge on the conference crown would be sticking my neck out. The way I look at it, there are seven teams that could take the conference and, as the gamblers have found the Southwest Con-ference is about as easy to predict as Texas weather. To predict the conference champs before the sec-ond week in November is just plain foolish.

However, SMU does look like they will have another mighty good team this year. With seven regulars returning from the 1949 should prove to be another strong team.

But there is no over-confidence in the Pony camp, for they re-call the narrow victories over A&M, Arkansas, and Baylor, the loss to Misseuri, and the tie with TCU. Both the coaches and the players realize that the 1949 team could be just as good a club as the 1948 combination and still lose several games.

The Mustangs have a schedule this year that will really put them as good as the famed Gil Johnto the test of whether they have son, who will play pro football a championship team or not. Be- this fall. sides the conference games, the Ponies take on Wake Forest, Missouri, Kentucky and Notre Dame, all of which rank high nationally The big advantage of the SMU

The big advantage of the SMU schedule is that they play eight games in Dallas. A&M at College Station and TCU at Ft. Worth are the only out of town games in the Ponies' book for 1949. What about material? Well, let's take a look. The Doaker will be there trained for All Amorican
