Graziano, 'Peck's Bad Boy Consolidated of Boxing' Fights Sept. 14

New York, Aug. 15—(A)—Rocky Graziano, Peck's Bad Boy of boxing, says he's serious this time as he prepares for a bout with Charley Fusari of Irvington, N. J.

The fight, scheduled for the Polo Grounds Sept. 14, will be Rocky's first fight in New York, his home town, in three years. He was suspended in February, 1947 by the New York State Athletic Commission "for failure to report an alleged bribe attempt," and was not reinstated until May of this year. The National Boxing Association, which suspended Graziano last winter, lifted the ban on the two-fisted slugger aggregation will be returning.
