

The Trojans, famous handbalancing act, will appear in the vaudeville show being put on at Guion Hall, October 12. This famous act is from Mexico.

Industrialist To Speak Wednesday

D. R. E. Wilson, chairman of the board, Standard Oil Company of Indiana, will deliver an address Wednesday night at 8 in the Petroleum Engineering lecture room.

The address, which will be given to students and staff members, will be on "What Research on Cracking Has Meant to the Industry and to the Public."

Dr. Wilson, scientist and business executive is a native of Pennsylvania, and a graduate of the College of Wooster, Ohio, and of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The Standard Oil Company board chairman began his career as a research scientist at MIT and served there as director of research and associate professor.

At the present time he is also a director of banks in New York and Chicago.

In 1922 Dr. Wilson transferred to industry, becoming assistant director of research at the Whiting refinery of Standard Oil Company. Seven years later he was chosen to head the company's development and patent department. He later became a director and vice president.

From 1935 through 1944 he was in New York at the head of the Pan American Petroleum and Transport Company, where he played a leading part in developing that company's activities. In January, 1945, he returned to Chicago to be chairman of the board and chief executive of the petroleum company, Standard of Indiana.

Dr. Wilson is known in the scientific world for some 80 technical papers and more than 80 patents. He has been the recipient of honorary degrees from five institutions, and has been awarded both the Chemical Industry Medal and the Perkin Medal. The latter award is the ultimate recognition attainable in the United States for work in applied chemistry.

He is a member of the National Academy of Sciences, a life member of the Corporation of M. I. T., and a trustee of the College of Wooster, the University of Chicago, and the Museum of Science and Industry, Chicago.

At the outset of World War II he was chief petroleum consultant for the government and later he functioned as chairman of the Committee on Petroleum Economics of the Petroleum Industry War Council.

He is a director of the American Petroleum Institute and the National Petroleum Council, an industry advisory group, and of the governing body of the National Industrial Conference Board.

Adriance Given Federal Grant

Dr. Guy W. Adriance, head of the Horticulture Department, has been given a grant by the Board of Foreign Scholarships for research in pomology under the Fulbright Act.

Dr. Adriance will be located at one of the institutions of higher learning in Italy. His work will be concerned primarily with citrus and peaches with some attention to figs and other subtropicals. Terms of the grant is for a period of nine months from the time Dr. Adriance arrives in Italy. He will leave middle of October.

Graduating from A&M in 1915 with a major in horticulture, Dr. Adriance worked for a year at an orange orchard in California. He completed work for his master's degree at the University of California in 1917.

Dr. Adriance joined the staff of the Horticulture Department in 1921 and has seen continuous service since that time except for one year in 1931 spent at Cornell University on a National Research Council Fellowship. He received his doctorate at Michigan State College in 1929 with a major in pomology.

Being head of the Horticulture Department since 1935, he has done specialized work in plant propagation, deciduous, citrus and subtropical fruits with special attention to citrus, peaches, and pecans.

Dr. Adriance is the author of several papers on his field. He belongs to the American Society for Horticultural Science, American Association for Advancement of Science, American Pomological Society, Sigma Xi and American Association of University Professors.

GUY ADRIANCE

Ag Eng Seniors Will Make Trip To State Fair

Agricultural engineering seniors will make an inspection trip to the State Fair of Texas at Dallas Thursday and Friday of this week, according to Fred R. Jones, who is in charge of the trip.

Main purpose of the trip is to acquaint agricultural engineering students with new developments in the field of agricultural engineering and soil conservation practices being recommended by Soil Conservation Service personnel, Jones said.

In addition to Jones, head of the agricultural engineering department, two other faculty members will go on the trip. They are E. B. Hudspeth and R. C. Garrett.

Thursday will be spent inspecting automotive, farm machinery, and home equipment exhibits at the fair. Jones emphasized that the group should assemble at the main entrance to the fair not later than 8:45 Thursday morning.

Friday, at 8:45 a. m., the group will assemble on Main Street in Lancaster, which is about 16 miles south of Dallas. Soil Conservation Services personnel from the regional office in Ft. Worth will conduct the group on a tour of field work being carried out in the Lancaster area.

Friday afternoon, the group will go to the SCS office in Ft. Worth to observe office records and procedure in the Soil Conservation Service. The Ft. Worth office is the regional office for Region IV which includes Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Oklahoma.

The fifty-five agricultural engineering seniors who will make the trip are S. T. Barnes, W. D. Belah, R. B. Bickham, L. W. Boerm, B. E. Booth, E. C. Brown, I. R. Burch, C. M. Bussery, J. M. Dale, J. R. Earles, S. D. Edwards, D. W. Elliott, J. M. Fokes, J. R. Franklin, C. H. Fuchs, M. L. Fulbright, R. A. Gonzales, M. W. Gordon, B. R. Greenwood, R. Harris, R. T. Hensley, J. E. Hodges, T. O. Hodges, R. T. Huffman, A. M. Hurd, A. G. Imhof, J. D. Jones, B. G. Kiercrose, B. N. Killingsworth, R. T. King, J. H. Koester, P. B. Koonee, S. L. Kucherka, O. R. Kunze, F. H. Latham, L. L. Lomax, J. H. Long, D. W. Longerre, M. McGregod, M. K. Mobley, C. F. Modisett, W. E. Newsom, C. F. Nowlin, H. P. O'Neal, F. C. Repper, L. W. Shiller, J. R. Skeen, E. W. Smith, H. R. Smith, R. A. Storrmer, J. E. Stockton, C. C. Tipt, I. C. Ware, and B. J. Welch.

Page to Head Student A. G. C.

Bob Page was elected president of the Student Chapter of the Association of General Contractors at the initial meeting held in the C. E. Bldg. last night.

The Student Chapter will be under the supervision of R. L. Peurifoy of the C. E. Dept. and Ernest Langford, head of the Architecture Dept.

Langford opened the meeting at 7:30, at which time he informed the group as to the purpose and benefits of the A. G. C. The Student Chapter, said Mr. Langford, "will be composed of those students connected with the construction option, either in Architecture or Civil Engineering." He also said that the Student Chapter would be affiliated with the Houston Chapter and would receive their publications and was invited to attend the meetings of the Houston Chapter.

After the election of Bob Page as president, the following officers were elected for the present school year:

Barlow to Head Boy Scouts Of Brazos District

H. W. Barlow, dean of the school of engineering, was elected the 1950 chairman of the Brazos District committee, Boy Scouts of America, at a recent board meeting in the Petroleum Engineering Building.

He replaces E. R. Bryant of Bryan and will take office effective January 1.

Other district officials selected last night were J. E. Bethancourt, vice chairman, and D. C. Jones Jr., who will succeed himself as district commissioner.

Bryant and M. E. Adams of Bryan were named to the executive board of the Sam Houston Area Council for 1950, and Dean Barlow also will be a member in this capacity as district chairman.

Members-at-large of the Brazos district committee will be W. L. Penberthy, Omar Smith, Guy H. Deaton, M. C. Hughes, and Reverend A. T. Dyal.

The new officers will be installed on December 6 at the district's annual meeting and banquet in Sibus Hall at which time scouts and scouters will gather to review the year's work and receive awards in the last of four district-wide Courts of Honor.

Barlow to Head Boy Scouts Of Brazos District

H. W. Barlow, dean of the school of engineering, was elected the 1950 chairman of the Brazos District committee, Boy Scouts of America, at a recent board meeting in the Petroleum Engineering Building.

He replaces E. R. Bryant of Bryan and will take office effective January 1.

Other district officials selected last night were J. E. Bethancourt, vice chairman, and D. C. Jones Jr., who will succeed himself as district commissioner.

Bryant and M. E. Adams of Bryan were named to the executive board of the Sam Houston Area Council for 1950, and Dean Barlow also will be a member in this capacity as district chairman.

Members-at-large of the Brazos district committee will be W. L. Penberthy, Omar Smith, Guy H. Deaton, M. C. Hughes, and Reverend A. T. Dyal.

The new officers will be installed on December 6 at the district's annual meeting and banquet in Sibus Hall at which time scouts and scouters will gather to review the year's work and receive awards in the last of four district-wide Courts of Honor.

Brunette Jeanine Holland Is Aggie Sweetheart for 1949-50

BY BILL BILLINGSLEY

Jeanine Holland, a tall, statuesque brunette from Houston is the Aggie Sweetheart for 1949.

Brown eyed and classically beautiful, Miss Holland is a Junior at TSCW. She will be introduced to the student body and the state during half-time ceremonies at the TCU-A&M football game in Fort Worth Saturday. Cadet Colonel of the Corps Doyle Avant will present her with a dozen American Beauty roses and a kiss in behalf of the A&M student body.

During the remainder of the school year the Sweetheart will also represent A&M at the Texas University Roundup and the Rice Rondelet. At these two functions she will be accompanied by an Aggie and the couple will be introduced as the A&M duke and duchess.

Outstanding Beauty

Miss Holland is not only an outstanding beauty on the TSCW campus but is active in other student activities as well.

She has been a cotton ball princess and a rebud princess, and was featured in the 1948 Daedalian TSCW yearbook as a sophomore beauty.

A speech major, Miss Holland is a member of the Speech Club, the Tennis Club and the Aquatics Club.

Miss Holland is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Holland, 2907 Charres, Houston.

The Sweetheart was chosen by a fifteen man Aggie selection committee which went to Denton over the past weekend to make its decision. In addition to the Sweetheart, the committee also nominated four other Tesses, to serve as representatives to various other college social affairs throughout the year.

Miss Jeanine Holland, Aggie Sweetheart for 1949, stands with Doyle Avant, cadet colonel of the corps, after her selection at TSCW during the past weekend. Announcement of Miss Holland's selection is being made simultaneously today in The Battalion and in the TSCW Lassie.

D Infantry Places First At Review

The first regimental review of the year was won by D Infantry, according to Lt. Col. Joe E. Davis, assistant commander of the corps.

D Infantry, which is commanded by Cadet Captain Jimmy E. Woodall, senior animal husbandry major from Ft. Worth, received eight points toward the Moore Trophy as a result of the first place award.

Second place in the review, which was held Wednesday evening, was won by A Infantry, commanded by Cadet Captain D. P. "Doggy" McClure, business major from Corpus Christi.

Runners up were C Infantry in third place, E Infantry, B Infantry, and the Maroon Band.

Cadet Colonel Sam G. Pate, business major from Sweetwater is commander of the Infantry Regiment.

Meat Judging Team To Leave for K. C.

The meats judging team will leave Wednesday for Kansas City where they will participate in the American Royal Livestock Exposition, according to O. D. Butler, team coach.

The team composed of Albert S. Angor, Marshall; Willis G. Dunkum Jr., Marlin; Bobby Joe Bland, Merkel; and Horace E. Riley, Canton, will compete with 14 teams in classification and grading classes of beef, pork, and lamb.

The classes to be judged are beef carcasses, wholesale beef cuts, pork carcasses, wholesale pork cuts, and lamb carcasses. Each of the classes will consist of four specimens, said Butler.

Ag Eng Seniors Will Make Trip To State Fair

Agricultural engineering seniors will make an inspection trip to the State Fair of Texas at Dallas Thursday and Friday of this week, according to Fred R. Jones, who is in charge of the trip.

Main purpose of the trip is to acquaint agricultural engineering students with new developments in the field of agricultural engineering and soil conservation practices being recommended by Soil Conservation Service personnel, Jones said.

In addition to Jones, head of the agricultural engineering department, two other faculty members will go on the trip. They are E. B. Hudspeth and R. C. Garrett.

Thursday will be spent inspecting automotive, farm machinery, and home equipment exhibits at the fair. Jones emphasized that the group should assemble at the main entrance to the fair not later than 8:45 Thursday morning.

Friday, at 8:45 a. m., the group will assemble on Main Street in Lancaster, which is about 16 miles south of Dallas. Soil Conservation Services personnel from the regional office in Ft. Worth will conduct the group on a tour of field work being carried out in the Lancaster area.

Friday afternoon, the group will go to the SCS office in Ft. Worth to observe office records and procedure in the Soil Conservation Service. The Ft. Worth office is the regional office for Region IV which includes Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Oklahoma.

The fifty-five agricultural engineering seniors who will make the trip are S. T. Barnes, W. D. Belah, R. B. Bickham, L. W. Boerm, B. E. Booth, E. C. Brown, I. R. Burch, C. M. Bussery, J. M. Dale, J. R. Earles, S. D. Edwards, D. W. Elliott, J. M. Fokes, J. R. Franklin, C. H. Fuchs, M. L. Fulbright, R. A. Gonzales, M. W. Gordon, B. R. Greenwood, R. Harris, R. T. Hensley, J. E. Hodges, T. O. Hodges, R. T. Huffman, A. M. Hurd, A. G. Imhof, J. D. Jones, B. G. Kiercrose, B. N. Killingsworth, R. T. King, J. H. Koester, P. B. Koonee, S. L. Kucherka, O. R. Kunze, F. H. Latham, L. L. Lomax, J. H. Long, D. W. Longerre, M. McGregod, M. K. Mobley, C. F. Modisett, W. E. Newsom, C. F. Nowlin, H. P. O'Neal, F. C. Repper, L. W. Shiller, J. R. Skeen, E. W. Smith, H. R. Smith, R. A. Storrmer, J. E. Stockton, C. C. Tipt, I. C. Ware, and B. J. Welch.

College Dance To Be Held at TSCW

A college dance will be held at TSCW Friday night, October 14, according to Dr. L. H. Hubbard, president of TSCW.

Rooms will be made available to all Aggies who would like to spend that night in Denton after the dance, Dr. Hubbard said. The next morning, busses will be ran to Fort Worth for the Aggies and the Tesses to attend the corps trip events in that city.

All Aggies who would like to attend the dance are invited, Dr. Hubbard concluded.

AH Department Holds "Briefing" Wednesday

All Animal Husbandry majors who have not worked out a degree plan are urged to attend a "briefing" session in the Lecture Room of the Animal Industries building, 7 p. m. Wednesday.

The meeting, previously scheduled for last Wednesday, was canceled and reset for this Wednesday.

The purpose of this meeting will be to acquaint students with the purpose of the degree plan, the steps to be taken preparatory to filling out a degree plan, and the actual procedure. B. E. Dana of the Animal Husbandry Department will orient the students and answer any questions concerning the degree plan.

NTSC Students Caught in Act

Wichita Falls, Tex., Oct. 11 (AP)—Hardin College's Student Council today appealed for leniency for North Texas State College students expelled for a pre-football game raid on the Hardin campus last Friday.

Five carloads of students from the Denton school splashed green paint over buildings and injured one student in the early morning raid. Fifteen were caught at a Denton, Texas, roadblock and expelled from school. Fourteen other NTSC students who took part still may be disciplined.

In a telegram to President Oliver Monk of the NTSC student council, Hardin College's council said: "We recommend and earnestly request that leniency be granted those students who visited our campus and that reconsideration be given making it possible for immediate reinstatement upon some basis. We feel we are joined in this suggestion by our colleagues and our citizenship."

The Wichita Falls Record-News published a series of sidewalk interviews on the matter. Most of those interviewed felt expulsion was too drastic.

The telegram was signed by Joe Martin, president of the Hardin Student Council, and other council members. Monk, the NTSC council president, had expressed his regrets in a between-halves address at last Friday night's football game, which Hardin won.

The Brighter Side . . .

Co-Eds Galore Fete Aggies At Final LSU Grid Clash

By ROGER COSLETT

Louisiana sunshine, sheets of it, poured down about me as I stood waiting for a LSU campus bus.

"Aggie hop in and we'll take you out to the campus," came the call from a passing Ford.

That was my first introduction to what one senior Aggie termed "good ole Southern hospitality."

My hosts were not content with merely taking me out to the campus, they saw to it that I was given a room and transportation before leaving me.

Any Aggie could tell you a similar story. Some were taken in and fed, also.

If LSU were in the Southwest conference they would be stiff competition for the sportsmanship trophy. The only complaints voiced were about the rain and the roads.

Most compliments concerned the LSU co-eds. Each hostess at the open house, which was given to welcome the Aggies to LSU, seemed to know at least three Aggies by name and had a ready smile for all.

A campus orchestra, the Cosmo Walters, played sweet and swing as hundreds of couples shuffled to the strains. Here and there throughout the floor little groups surrounded jitterbugging couples.

In one corner a senior, with boots glistening, seemed to hold the attention of four attractive hostesses at once. I caught the last few lines of his "snow job."

Shirley Rabe, freshman hostess from New Orleans, seemed fascinated by Red Duke's boots. She said, "All the Aggies I've danced with have been so polite and I sure do like those uniforms." This pert little blond even went so far as to say that she wouldn't mind if the Aggies won. Duke must have given her the Aggie spirit.

The hostesses were strictly volunteers. Freshmen seemed to be best represented as hostesses.

Evelyn Ellis estimated that she had danced with at least twenty-five Aggies in the first two hours alone. Evelyn, too, was a blond.

Even the male students spoke well of the Aggies. Bill Alford, sophomore student, spoke for many when he said, "we want to play A&M some more football games. The Aggies come in greater force to our campus than any other school we play," Alford continued.

Many of the students were not aware of the fact that this was the last game in the series between A&M and LSU.

When asked what she thought of Aggies, Betty Serpas, sophomore from New Orleans, said, "They just get me." When informed that this was to be the last game she claimed, "It can't be—we'll die; we look forward to having you all down here again."

A senior co-ed, Mary McGhan, sighed and said, "Fine," in expressing her opinion of the Aggies. She too was crushed at the thought of this being the last game between the two schools.

Adelyn Dixon, senior speech major from New Orleans, tore herself away from three cadets long enough to say that this was her fourth LSU-A&M game and she was sure that both schools were going to miss a lot of fun if the series was discontinued.

Open house ended at five o'clock and the rain did the same.

The campus cafe was jammed with people trying to swallow a bite before game time. Aggies were standing four deep in line to use the phone in a desperate attempt for last minute dates.

Co-eds hurried off to get ready for the game; Aggies just hurried.

After the mad scrimmage, Aggies were hurrying with a little more direction to their hurry. A great many ended up in New Orleans famous French Quarter, and the Aggie War Hyman could be heard resounding out cafe doors and down Bourbon street.

The Aggies were in Louisiana; the Louisiana knew it, and the Aggies knew it. Both, it seems, are going to miss this unofficial corps trip unless the series is taken up again.

College Officials To Meet on Campus

"Terminal Vocational Courses" will be the main theme of the sixth annual conference of junior college officials on the campus October 17.

According to Dr. T. D. Brooks, chairman of the conference, around 150 people representing 60 junior colleges in Texas will attend the meeting.

Lawrence L. Bethel, director of the YMCA Junior College at New Haven, Conn., will be consultant for the meeting. The success of Dr. Bethel in adapting vocational programs of his college to the demands of local industry has been widely recognized, said Dr. Brooks. The YMCA Junior College is affiliated with Yale University.

The conference will concern itself with terminal vocational work, including the training for business. Problems of accreditation and standards, relating especially to facilities, will be stressed.

Chairmen for the six sessions of the conference will be R. P. Ward, professor in the E. E. Department; Dr. John P. Abbott, assistant to the dean of the college at the Annex; Dr. Brooks, Dr. R. L. Hunt, professor in the Agricultural Economics and Sociology Department; C. N. Heischer, professor in the Engineering Drawing Department and Dr. Ide P. Trotter, dean of the Graduate School.

"Terminal Vocational Courses" will be the main theme of the sixth annual conference of junior college officials on the campus October 17.

According to Dr. T. D. Brooks, chairman of the conference, around 150 people representing 60 junior colleges in Texas will attend the meeting.

Lawrence L. Bethel, director of the YMCA Junior College at New Haven, Conn., will be consultant for the meeting. The success of Dr. Bethel in adapting vocational programs of his college to the demands of local industry has been widely recognized, said Dr. Brooks. The YMCA Junior College is affiliated with Yale University.

The conference will concern itself with terminal vocational work, including the training for business. Problems of accreditation and standards, relating especially to facilities, will be stressed.

Chairmen for the six sessions of the conference will be R. P. Ward, professor in the E. E. Department; Dr. John P. Abbott, assistant to the dean of the college at the Annex; Dr. Brooks, Dr. R. L. Hunt, professor in the Agricultural Economics and Sociology Department; C. N. Heischer, professor in the Engineering Drawing Department and Dr. Ide P. Trotter, dean of the Graduate School.

Casino Selected For Cadet Dance

The ROTC's of Fort Worth high school will sponsor a dance Friday, Oct. 14, at the Casino with a special invitation extended to the A&M Cadet Corp, according to Colonel H. L. Boatner.

The dance will be informal and will begin at 8 p.m. and end at 9:30 p.m. in order to give the Aggie time to get to the court house for the yell practice.

Exclusive use of the Casino was obtained by the ROTC. Since the Casino is used for many school functions, only soft drinks will be available. An orchestra will play for the dance.

The Casino is located on the Jacksboro highway and just northwest of Fort Worth. Admission to the dance will be 75 cents per person and tickets will be available at Hotel Texas and at the door.

The cadets of Arlington State College and the students of TCU will be invited also.

Carl Griffin takes a header off "Crow Resurrection", one of the bucking horses in last year's Aggie rodeo which will be back this year for another go at bucking off the Aggie cowhands. The show will be held on October 25 and 26.