

Cowtown Weekend Events Outlined

Plans and information is now complete for the TCU corps trip and the time schedules for the events have been announced by the Fort Worth A&M Club.

Arrangements for the weekend were made by the Fort Worth Club in conjunction with college representatives and city officials.

A midnight yell practice is to be held at the county court house at 11:30 p. m. The police have arranged to block off all traffic from the area, and will have sufficient patrolmen on hand to prevent interruption of the yell practice by spectators.

Weatherford Street will be closed off between Houston and Commerce Streets.

The corps parade is to begin at 10 a. m. instead of 10:30 to give the cadets more time to get to the game. First call is at 9 a. m. and all cadets will be required to be in the assembly area at that time, according to Herman Dieterich, corps operations officer.

The assembly area is on the Texas and Pacific Railroad reservation across from the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company and the General Engineering Company. The location is the same as in 1947.

The band will be placed on Eighth Street at Main, across from the Texas Hotel. The reviewing stand will be in front of the hotel.

Several rooms are to be available for Aggies needing them Friday and Saturday nights. Students having failed to register for rooms previously may check at the booth provided by the Fort Worth A&M Mothers Club in the Texas Hotel.

Kickoff time for the game is scheduled for 2:30 p. m. Cadets catch buses marked "TCU" or "Texas Christian University". These buses make scheduled stops at the TCU stadium and may be boarded on Main Street between Third and Eighth Streets.

Early arrivals to Fort Worth are invited to an all-college dance Friday night at the Casino given by the Fort Worth ROTC. The Casino is located on the Jacksboro highway, northeast.

An admission of 75¢ will be charged and tickets can be found in the Texas Hotel lobby or at the Casino. Only soft drinks will be served.

The official Aggie Dance, Saturday night, will be held in the Crystal Ballroom and the Bluebonnet Court.

The ballrooms for the dance are on top of the Texas Hotel. Music for the dance will be furnished by Red Woodward and his band and admission is $1.50, "stag or drag."

Committeemen in charge of the parade request cadets not to park their cars on Eighth Street until after the parade so the Aggie Band can form there after passing the reviewing stand.

Plans Nearing Completion As Pipe Smoking Contest Nears

Smoke looms on the horizon. A&M's biggest Battalion-sponsored Annual Pipe Smoking Contest is only 12 days away.

At this very moment members of the Infernal Bureau of Conflagrations are scouring the surrounding territory to find judges capable of scoring the 1949 Stoker Derby.

In the mean-time, prizes continue to pour in from tobacco and pipe manufacturers all over the nation assuring contestants that their efforts will be amply rewarded.

The local fire station is reported to have issued a special order constraining all College Station firemen to an area where they can be easily reached in case something gets out of control.

Contestants are being urged to prime themselves for what promises to be the stiffest competition in years. Those desiring to enter the contest can find an entry blank printed in today's Battalion.

There will be two major phases of the competition—one dealing with all phases of tobacco and smoking and the other reserved to those wishing to enter a pipe collection to be judged.

Readers filling in the blank must designate which of the two divisions they intend to enter. A person may enter both if he so desires, but no one will be qualified for competition in either phase unless he has submitted an entry blank. An entry deadline will be announced later.

The tobacco and smoking section will concern itself with smoking duels classified in accordance with pipe and bowl sizes, cigarette rolling, smoking blowing, and corn-cob smoking.

All necessary equipment but pipes will be furnished for contestants in any of the sub-divisions. The one exception to this will be the corn-cob contest in which pipes, too, will be furnished.

Later information on the contest will be published as soon as it is compiled.

ManE Seniors On Waco Trip

Management engineering seniors presently enrolled in 407 or 408 seminar left on the annual Spring inspection trip to Waco this morning, V. M. Fairies, head of the Management Engineering Department, said this morning.

During the trip the 86 students, accompanied by Professors A. R. Burgess, J. P. CoVan, E. C. Prival, and R. F. Bruckart, will visit the Texas Textile Mills, General Tire Company, and Ohio-Illinois Glass Company.

The students will be split into two groups, visiting different plants at the same time, Fairies said. Before being conducted through the plants by company representatives, each group will be briefed on what they will see, and the precautions to be taken during the inspection.

Afterwards, brief sessions will be held with students asking questions. This is an opportunity, Fairies said, for ManE students to see the principles of management in action, and to tie them in with their courses in personnel relations, production planning, quality control and other courses in the management engineering curriculum.

After the inspection, many of the students will go on to Fort Worth for the A&M-TCU football game to be played tomorrow.

TU President Asks Educational Study

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 14—(AP)—Declining enrollment and prospective cuts in state funds indicate the need for a thorough study of Texas' higher educational system, President T. S. Painter of the University of Texas said today.

The study, Dr. Painter said, should be aimed at avoiding "undesirable and uneconomic duplication of facilities." His remarks were made in his annual address to the University faculty.

He described the changing pattern of enrollment at the University as significant. In pre-war years and as late as 1945 about 62 per cent of the students were freshmen and sophomores, 38 per cent juniors, seniors and graduate students.

The percentages are almost reversed today with 37 per cent freshmen and sophomores and 63 per cent juniors, seniors and graduate students. He said a continuation of this trend is indicated.

He said junior colleges are largely responsible for the shift.

A study of higher education similar to the Gilmer-Aliken survey of public schools was suggested in the legislature this year, but the idea was killed.

Hardy, Breeden Rites Performed

On Saturday, October 8th, Miss Barbara Hardy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Hardy of El Paso became the bride of Fielding Breeden Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Breeden of Cuero, in a candle light ceremony performed at the Valley Congregational Church, Lower Valley.

Reverend Winthrop Mager officiated at the double ring ceremony held at eight in the evening.

Breeden majored in Agricultural Education and was graduated from A&M in June of 1949. While attending A&M, he was a member of A Company, Quartermaster Corp.

Hollmig Back at A&M

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 14—Stan Hollmig, Philadelphia Phillies outfielder, is back in school at Texas A&M. Hollmig is majoring in business and plans to graduate next year. Stan is remembered for his phenomenal punting, which paved the way for the Aggies' 24-0 football victory over Baylor here in 1947.

Big Walt Hill (37), Aggie Fish fullback, steams for yardage in the Fish-Cub tilt last night. A Baylor player is attempting to wrestle the Ballinger performer to a stop, but the aid of the Cub approaching from the left (50) was needed to finally halt Hill. Other identifiable Cadets are guard Thomas Wright (64), guard William Garner (68), quarterback Carl Menger (11), and end Joe Hefer (83).

Aggie Actions Get Praise From LSU

Aggies were given two pats on the back this weekend when letters from Louisiana State University were delivered to President F. C. Bolton and Grady Elms, assistant director of student activities.

The LSU Dean of Men, in a letter to President Bolton, commended the A&M student body on its conduct while in Baton Rouge. The letter read:

"I wish to congratulate the student body of Texas A&M College for their splendid spirit and conduct while guests on the campus of Louisiana State University. Every student was a credit to your college and each man conducted himself as a gentleman.

"You should feel proud of a student body which carries the responsibility of representing their alma mater as these boys did."

Last Day for ID Pictures Monday

Students who have not had identification card pictures taken yet must do so by Monday, Bennie A. Zinn, assistant to the dean of students, said today.

The schedule which allows students between 2 and 5 p. m. daily on week days to have pictures taken will continue through Monday. The pictures will be taken in the Visual Aids Laboratory.

The completed cards will be delivered through tactical officers and military counselors in the military area.

These cards will supplement other identification means on the campus and surrounding area and should be carried at all time, Zinn added.

What Price Glory . . .

J. H. Sorrels can sit back and enjoy the Town Hall performances this year—he's got the best seats in Guion Hall.

Sorrels won first place in the Town Hall reserved seat ticket line the hard way. He can claim the doubtful distinction of having been one of the few people to spend all night in front of the door to the Student Activities Office in Goodwin Hall.

At 11 p. m. Tuesday he began his vigil. The office opened at 8 Wednesday morning. It seems that his wife was out of town and he feared he wouldn't wake up soon enough to make a showing in this year's rush for choice seats.

A professor of sanitary engineering in the Civil Engineering Department, Sorrels ticked about fifth in last year's ticket derby. His nine hour escapement placed him far ahead of other contenders when the tickets were put on sale Wednesday morning.

Closest competitor was Robert Carls, a Physic Department instructor, who arrived at a comparatively unimpressive 4 a. m. Carls was "way back" in the 1948 line.

Earliest feminine contender was third place Mrs. J. F. Fudge who arrived at about 4:40. Mrs. Fudge's husband is a state chemist.

The physical education department oddly enough, placed their representative out of the money. C. E. Tishler, head of that department, arrived at 5 a. m. to take fourth place.

Last of the top five was another department head, F. W. Porter head of the Mathematics Department got down to Goodwin Hall at 5:10 to find himself fifth in line. He placed fourth last year.

Most familiar face in the forward part of the line was that of M. T. Harrington, Acting Dean of the College, who arrived at 5:30 to assume the number eight spot in the contest.

By the time the Student Activities office doors were thrown open, a string of people that ran the length of the hall and doubled back down the stairway had formed.

For the convenience of the hardy lucet seekers, several chairs had been placed in the second floor hall. Coffee was served through the courtesy of Student Activities.

Notably absent from this year's contenders was last year's first place winner, T. R. Spence, manager of College Construction.

Spence and fifth place winner Porter usually vie for top honors. Reports indicate that Spence had been called out of town and had to miss this year's race.

New Science Building Is Progressing

Amid the rumble of motors and the clashing of gears the foundation of the new Biological Science Building is beginning to emerge above the maze of material on the lot east of the Science Hall. This is the first building to be started under the new $5,000,000 building program and is to be constructed at a cost of $64,000.

The three-story concrete and masonry structure will face east on Nagle Street and will contain offices, classrooms, and laboratories of the biology, entomology, plant physiology and pathology, and oceanography departments, according to Dr. C. C. Doak, head of the Biology Department.

The new building will be L-shaped, 233 feet long by 110 feet wide at the north end, and 66 feet at the south end. There will be one big lecture room on the northeast corner, containing 192 desks and inclined from the first to the second floor.

Dr. Doak says that the construction noises are music to the ears of all who are housed in Science Hall and that plans call for the completion of the new building before September, 1950.

The old building, constructed in 1900, is vastly inadequate for all of the departments now being housed there, besides bearing the improper or incomplete name of "Science Hall." Many visitors and newcomers to the campus believe that all of the science departments are located in this one building.

McCarthy Files Lunacy Charge

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 14—(AP)—A former deputy sheriff accused of attempting to extort $50,000 from oilman Glenn McCarthy was charged with lunacy yesterday.

Reynold Chambers, 43, until yesterday a janitor at McCarthy's swank Shamrock Hotel, was taken to the City-County Hospital psychopathic ward after the lunacy charge was filed with Justice of the Peace Tom Maes.

Chambers, who served four years as a Harris County deputy sheriff before becoming a Shamrock employee early this year, yesterday was released under $7,500 bond after being charged with writing the extortion note to McCarthy.

An examining trial has been set for Wednesday.

The lunacy charge was filed by Tom Shelley of the Shamrock's police force.

County Judge Glenn Perry appointed Dr. Abe Hauser to examine Chambers.

Dr. C. A. Dwyer, physician for Harris County, had asked that a temporary physician be appointed to make the examination. Dwyer also is director of the Shamrock's health clinic.

Dwyer said the lunacy charge was filed with his approval but that he did not want to make the examination "for obvious reasons."

Last night friends of McCarthy told how the oilman took a gun and tried to contact the writer of the extortion note.

Biology Club Elects Two to A&S Group

The Biology Club elected two representatives to the Arts and Sciences Council at their meeting Tuesday night, according to Hayden Jenkins, president of the club.

The representatives are Eric Carlson, sophomore economics major, and Bobby Reid, senior Biology major from Pasadena.

"The club," said Jenkins, "will meet twice a month and announcements will be made as to the time of the meetings." E. M. Ferguson, of the Biology Department is sponsor of the club.

Cubs Roll Over Hapless Fish With Score of 13-0

By FRED BUXTON

The Baylor Cubs, seeking recompense for their loss to the TCU Wogs, rolled over and around the Fish team last night on Kyle Field, to the tune of 13-0.

True, the 9000 spectators saw an interesting ball game, but the Fish seemed impotent at the crucial moments, and Baylor, supposedly lacking in line play, cut the Ag runners down time after time. Again the Fish were hurt by fumbles, twice going down inside the 10 only to lose the ball on mistakes. Two more goal tries, one from the two and another inside the five were halted by the hard-charging Baylor line.

Baylor kicked off to A&M and for several plays the Fish rolled. Finally running out of momentum on the 40, they were forced to kick. There was an exchange of plays in which neither team seemed to go.

Near the end of the quarter, Dixon smashed through the Baylor line to nab a fumble on the Cub 42 yd line. Walt Hill and Connie Magourik took turns moving the ball to the 7. An incomplete pass and a 10 yard loss on a run and two more incomplete passes gave the ball over on downs to Baylor.

Both teams were playing savagely in the line as attested by two bad injuries, and Hill was turning in some fine protective blocking on pass plays.

Baylor tried one play after the quarter and kicked; the kick was partially blocked and A&M took over on their own 36 yard line. Hill fumbled on first down, and Baylor began to move. On the next seven plays Brooks carried five times, each time for good yardage. Kinnannon carried over from the one on a quarter-back sneak. Three minutes had elapsed in the second quarter. The try for point was wide.

Baylor kicked off and A&M tried several line plays, finally kicking on fourth down; the kick was blocked, and the Cubs took possession on the Fish 25 yard line. Brooks made 8, a pass was incomplete, and Brooks made it first on the 13. Brooks made 8 more in two tries, and Day carried over from the five for the second Baylor score. The conversion try was good and Baylor led 13-0.

Baylor again kicked off. The Fish tried several running plays, kicking on fourth down. The deep kick by Hill was touched by a Baylor blocker and recovered by an alert Fish, but the officials had missed the play and Baylor was given possession of the ball.

Baylor was unable to move and kicked short to the Fish 45 yard line. A&M made one first down on a short pass to Magourik and a run by Hill but then stalled and 4 desperation passes were all incomplete as the half ran out.

The Cubs outcharged the Fish most of the second half, and little Bib Brooks was the whole offensive show.

A&M kicked off and managed to hold, taking over after a kick down to 25. Three plays later McJunkin was robbed of the ball by an alert Baylor lineman, on the Baylor 46.

Baylor began to move and racked up several first downs. Ken Reese, defensive line backer for the Fish, broke up play after play on both sides of the line.

A&M finally gained possession of the ball and tried several plays, again being forced to kick. Menger kicked short and the Cubs had the ball again on the 42. And again the Cubs began to roll. Reese was all over the field but still the Cubs made it 1 & 10 on the Ag's 12. Little, Reese, and Bush turned in some of the finest defensive play of the game at this point to give the Fish possession of the ball on the 7.

A&M began to roll. McJunkin and Haas alternated to drive but to the 44. Graves was dropped for a 15 yard loss and Baylor was penalized 15 yards for committing a sin. Again Haas and McJunkin teamed for a first down on the Baylor 26. Graves passed to Haas on the six. Haas made three more and Hill made it to the one; on the next try Hill fumbled and Baylor recovered.

Baylor kicked on first down and Graves brought it back to the Baylor 30. McJunkin and Haas again drove down to the 7. Graves' pass was dropped on the goal line.

The fourth down try by Haas was short by a yard and Baylor took over to again kick on first down.

DeVeny ran it back to the 44. Graves finally connected with Bush for a first on the 24 but several pass plays and runs netted nothing, and it was Baylor's ball on the 24. Reese and Joe Hefer broke up several more plays and Baylor had to kick out on the A&M 21.

Two pass plays later Baylor intercepted on the 13. Baylor drew 15 for holding, Reese spilled Brooks for a five yard loss and Hefer spilled Brooks again for a loss as the game ended.

Final score: The Baylor Cubs 13—A&M Fish 0

Saturday morning the group will meet again in the Assembly Hall in the YMCA for discussion.

Saturday at 11:30 a. m. Tate will present the new officers.

W. L. Penberthy, assistant dean of students, will have an open house for the visiting deans at his home in Oak Wood, Zinn said.

Commissions To Be Presented Corps Officers

Four hundred and twenty seniors will be handed their cadet commissions in Guion Hall October 21, Bob Mitchell, corps adjutant, said this morning.

Brigadier General Hugh Huffman, commanding general, Fourth Army Headquarters in San Antonio, and Colonel Sprague, commanding officer, Conally Air Force Base in Waco, will make the presentations.

Rufus R. Peoples, class of '24 and member of the A&M System Board of Directors, will be the principal speaker for the event.

General Huffman will award cadet commissions to ground force seniors, and air force cadet officers from Colonel Sprague.

The entire student body has been invited to the commissioning exercises, Mitchell announced.

A commissioning ball for the entire cadet corps will follow the Guion Hall ceremony. Jimmy Woodall, publicity chairman for the event, said. The ball will be in Sbisla Hall and will begin immediately after the presentation of commissions.

Music will be furnished by the Aggieland Orchestra.

Invitations to the ball may be secured from first sergeants on the campus, Woodall said. Cadets at the Annex may get their invitations from Mrs. Ann Hilliard in the student center.
