

Conference PE Men Plan Meet

The Southwest Conference Physical Education meeting will be held at A&M October 17 and 18.

Main objective of the organization is to improve teaching and offerings in required physical education, intramurals, recreation and teacher education programs.

Representatives from the schools of the Southwest Conference will attend and take part.

Harrington, Trotter Attend Conference

Dr. M. T. Harrington, dean of the School of Arts and Sciences and dean of the college and Dr. Ide P. Trotter of the Graduate School will attend a work conference to be held in Savannah, Ga., Oct. 16-17.

The conference is on graduate study in southern schools and is aimed at some long-range planning for regional cooperation in this field.

The conference is sponsored by the Commission in Development of Graduate Studies of the Board of Control for Southern Regional Education.

NOTRE DAME

OU Has Tough One
Oklahoma had a harder time than it expected but the Sooners clattered to a 48 to 26 verdict over Kansas in defense of their big seven championship.

Other clubs that gained stature during the day included Northwestern, which by-anded Michigan, 21 to 20; Minnesota, by a 27 to 0 conquest of Ohio State; and Cornell. The big Red pounced on Yale, 48 to 14.

Iowa piled up its highest score in a decade to hang another defeat on Indiana, 35 to 9, and Wisconsin, putting on a comeback under the coaching of Ivy Williamson, sank the Navy, 48 to 13.

Pennsylvania kept in step with Cornell in the Ivy circuit by thrashing Columbia, 27 to 7, and Dick Kazmaier made Princeton's 27 to 14 conquest of Brown a personal affair. Kazmaier set up two early touchdowns with passes and scored a third himself.

Rice Upsets SMU
Rice pulled an amazing upset in the Southwest Conference by defeating defending champion Southern Methodist 41-27 in a razor-dazzle offensive battle.

Charlie Justice and his unbeaten North Carolina mates had to come from behind to spill Wake Forest, 28 to 14. It was the fourth defeat of the year for the Deacons. Duke, beaten last week by Navy, sneaked back into the win column, 14 to 13, over North Carolina State.

William & Mary traveled all the way to East Lansing, Mich., for a 42 to 13 lashing by Michigan State.

There was but little action in the Southern Conference where Tennessee and Alabama deadlocked, 7 to 7, and Georgia Tech's lightweights handled Auburn, 35 to 21.

Iowa State stayed atop the big seven circuit with Oklahoma, by trimming Kansas State, 25 to 21. It was the first time in 11 years that Iowans had won three conference games in a row. The circuit lost two non-conference tilts and Missouri smashed Illinois, 27 to 20. Nebraska was overcome by Penn State, 22 to 7, and Oregon mastered Colorado, 42 to 14.

yards needed for the tally, there were 13 running plays, two passes, and three offside penalties. Shafer's try for the extra point was wide.

The third quarter was three minutes and 15 seconds old when Berry led the Christians 60 yards on four passing plays and rang up the third TD. Berry was rifling passes perfectly and climaxed this sudden display of showmanship when Archer made a spectacular circus catch deep in the end zone.

To score twice in the third as they did in the first the Berry-led Frogs began another series of passes that saw paydirt after the fourth one.

Berry again cocked his rifle arm and let fly this time to Wilde who was standing in the end zone some 15 yards distant.

With the Frogs playing an almost errorless ball game, even the do-or-die spirit displayed by all concerned could not withstand the steady drives that were cracking the seams of the Aggies as they withstood the attacks of the invaders.

Greiner and Flowers

The greatest mainstays in the Cadet forward wall were Max Greiner, who used his speed along with his rushing deception to break up several plays; Jimmy Flowers, who came near scoring once when he intercepted a Berry pass while taking time off from plugging the holes in the line; Carl Hill, who has shown consistent improvement throughout the season and turned in a creditable performance at the end post; and Sam Moses, James Fowler, and Will Rush, who are standouts each week and were steadily biting away at the foes defenses.

Moving to the backfield and still bestowing honors and commendations on deserving Aggies, we would first see Yale Lary, who is a very consistent punter. He brought out a 38 yard average from Saturday's game and it would have been greater had he not tried to punt out of bounds on each occasion, causing many of the beautiful punts to fall short.

Bob Smith, sensational ground gainer of previous weeks, was another Cadet turning in a brilliant performance at the line-buster and hole-plugger slot.

Charlie McDonald, billed athletically as a defensive specialist, is proving himself worthy of this notation by virtue of his defensive work on pass plays and his line-backing ability.

"Bull" Lawson, who was in the game but a short while, exhibited great offensive potentialities as the defense that was set up to thwart his repeated stab at the heart of the line began to sag and at times seemed to disintegrate as he powered through.

A Infantry, sparked by stellar play from Art Gorman and Jack Prince, defeated B Cavalry 3-0.

The hardest match of the day was between the powerful B Quartermaster and A Vets. The Quartermaster finally won 2-1 after a long and hard fight with Sherman Hink and Breese Baker as standouts.

Bob Hunt and James Conrad paced a A Composite team to a 2-1 win over B Vets, while A Signal, led by Jack Jones and Don Rogers downed B Coast.

vice in industry. The discussion will be conducted as a "conference," with "a panel of the whole." The entire group is expected to participate.

The following questions are intended to guide the discussion: What is the most effective organization—by skills, by jobs, by industries, by fields of work?

What should be the balance between basic technology and applied skills? Should it be different for different jobs, fields, and industries?

Are the answers to the above questions the same where a few industries are prominent, and where farm youth is moving to the cities? How and where can a junior college secure guidance on facilities, standards, and planning?

Fifth session Tuesday evening, October 18, South Solarium, YMCA, 7:30 p. m.

Dean Ide P. Trotter, A&M, presiding.

Address given by Dr. Lawrence L. Bethel in open forum discussion.

Sixth session Wednesday morning, October 19 South Solarium, YMCA, 9:30 p. m.

Prof. G. B. Wilcox, A&M, presiding.
