

SMU Outplays Notre Dame Second Half

was a 53-yard pass play that carried to the Notre-Dame six. Rote handed to Champion, who luffed to Milam on the Notre Dame 40. Mike Swistowski ran him out of bounds. In four plunges Rote had to give up on the one-foot line.

Williams Takes Chance
Williams tried a daring play to get out of trouble. He stood deep in the end zone to pass, but Pat Knight of the Methodists rushed him and the ball wobbled untouched. Officials first ruled it a safety then changed and made it an incomplete pass.

The Irish kicked out but the next time they got the ball—this time on a pass interception by Bill Gay on the Methodist 34—they scored from the Southern Methodist 35. Williams passed over the goal line. Milam, Bob Folsom and Bill Richards batted at the ball—and batted it squarely into the hands of Ernie Zaleski for a Notre Dame touchdown. Oracko missed the conversion.

The half ended 13-0. Midway of the third period the mighty Rote led a paralyzing 61-yard touchdown drive. Sticking to the ground, the Methodists rolled easily to the score with Rote making 44 of the yards. He talked from the Notre Dame three. Bill Sullivan converted.

Irish Come Back
But Notre Dame thundered back to draw 13 points away again. Jim Mutscheller intercepted a Rote pass on the SMU 22 and a pass from Williams to Hart, who lateraled to Spaniel, carried to the 12. Barrett, John Landry and Hart powered to the four and Barrett crunched over, Oracko kicked the point.

Southern Methodist then got two quick touchdowns to tie it up. The first was a 61-yard drive. Rote passed to Champion, who ran to the Notre Dame one, and Rote plowed center for the score. Again Sullivan converted. The final Methodist touchdown came after a clipping penalty set Notre Dame back to the one and on the kick-out Richards ran to the Notre Dame 14. In three blasts Rote got the score. Groom bounced through to block Sullivan's try for point and the count was tied.

Then came the Notre Dame drive for the winning touchdown.

HIGHLIGHTS

Texas played only one game. The sharpshooting Oklahoma U Sooners booted the Steers, 65-48, despite the 22 points bucketed by forward Tom Hamilton of the Austin team.

Frogs Take Two

The young TCU cagers, with four soph in the starting line-up, took Abilene Christian College, 52-35, in Fort Worth, Thursday. The enthusiastic, but unpolished Frogs defeated the East Texas State Lions in Fort Worth Saturday, 63-45, with sophs Harvey Fromme, Tommy Taylor, and George McLeod joining senior-plus Gene Schmidt to lead the attack. Warren Switzer and transfer J. D. White paced the Rice Owls Wednesday as they whipped Sam Houston State, 74-65, on the losers' Huntsville court. The Bearkats had led 34-33 at the half, however. Saturday Southwestern Louisiana defeated the Owls, 42-26, in a clash at Lafayette and as a result the Owls are sporting only a 500 record.

Thursday night also found the Southern Methodist Mustangs nudging past Centenary by the slimmest of margins, 51-48.

RODEO

Frank Lilley of Colorado A&M, fourth.

Top bulldogger of the show was L. T. Walker of Colorado A&M followed by Kit Pettigrew, Harry Hopson and M. J. Coyle of New Mexico A&M.

The team of Earl Reynolds and B. Carpenton of West Texas State College won first in the roping team event to receive 87 points. James Weatherby and Loyd Ford of Arlington State College placed second with 72 points. The University of New Mexico team was third with 57 points and the Oklahoma Aggies fourth with 42 points.

Jo Gregory of Sul Ross College won first in the Girl's Cow Milking contest. Roxie Keeter was second with 30 points and Tony Parker was third with 20 points. Betty Meador and Jackie Hayter tied for fourth place, each receiving 5 points. All were from Sul Ross College.

the Brazos River. Did the Baylor paper condemn their students, or did the Rice paper denounce theirs? No! Then, by what right did the Batt attack these two men?

All of this leads up to one thing. I know that many of the persons in student positions were put there by student vote. I wish to know if we, the students at A&M, have the right to recall officials or others elected by a public vote, as practiced in many governments throughout this democratic nation. I also wish to know how a man gets to be on the Editorial Committee of the Batt. You see, I believe that many of the other Aggies in this college will agree with me when I say that there is one person on that committee who should be removed.

In closing, I wish to say that I am requesting that my name be withheld from this letter, but not because I am ashamed of this article, but because I am a senior now and I wish to graduate. If a certain man on the Editorial Committee wrote this letter, please tell him that I'll be glad to talk to him about it the day after I graduate. Until then, I prefer to remain unknown to many persons, especially him.

AN EXPLANATION?

Editor, The Battalion:

Many letters have been written you recently, and I feel that I too should have my say. First of all, I should like it noted that I am probably one of the most outstanding students in A&M. I am so outstanding that my brain has been in a glass jar since last September and is being studied presently by many learned scientists.

I find however, that I get along famously at A&M without my brain; I never have to think for myself, I merely follow the traditions that happen to prevail at any certain time. I have had considerable trouble in passing my studies, but as you intimated in a recent editorial, a real red-blooded Aggie doesn't come to A&M to study. Everybody knows that the most important thing in college is having a good ole hell raising good time and making a lot of friends; those guys that study so much are destroying the real, true genuine Aggie spirit and they should go to T. U. and sip tea with the yellow-bellies.

Like all real red-blooded Aggies, I stick with my classmates and buddies at all times regardless of what side of an issue they take. I never have to use my brain to examine the various aspects of a situation; I merely take up the hue and cry of my classmates and scream in unison that all teachers are a bunch of loafers that are too lazy to get a job in the "out-side world", or that you, the editors of The Battalion are a bunch of two-percenters who are trying to turn A&M into another T. U. I am regarded as a good fellow by

We don't believe any of our staff members are fighting the students. Our fight this year has been with individual and group student actions which we honestly felt were damaging to the school and the students in the school. The man who wrote the editorial condemning joke telling appeared as the yell leader's defense counsel at his panel.

We know nothing about any administration members with yell aspirations. We suggest you follow our policy which has always proven effective, of asking the individual concerned when you want such information.

According to Dean Abbott, a fraction of a per-cent more Annex students dropped out this semester than last year. The figure is still below 7% however. Dr. Abbott reported satisfaction that the anticipated increase in failure due to war-time high school deficiencies had not occurred.

The two sophomores who attempted to burn, TU's bonfire appeared before the same panel as the yell leaders and received a lighter sentence. The man who wrote the editorial deploring their act also was one of four signers of a letter to the panel urging clemency in their case.

The price of winning the sportsmanship trophy may include denying ourselves some things we receive pleasure from. Like other investments, however, it pays off—in good will for A&M, finer relations with other people and better jobs for our graduates.

You have emphasized one thing we have been repeating all year: that bonfire burning, and the attendant fighting, can lead to serious injury, or death, of students.

Last year TU tried to burn our bonfire, our team was fighting mad, and we ate them up on the football field. This year we tried to burn theirs, their team was fighting mad, and they ate us up on the football field. Doesn't that strike you as a little more than coincidental?

We don't attempt to set Rice or Baylor's school paper policy. We do set our own. We think burning all my cronies and as surprising as it may seem, no one has noticed that I am lacking a brain, except possibly a few of my profs, and you know what us Aggies (red-blooded Aggies) think about profs.

I sure am glad that I am an Aggie because us Aggies stick together all through life, and I'll never have to do my own thinking. I intend to go to work for an Aggie Ex, and I'm sure he will support me for the rest of my natural life without any hard work on my part, because I have learned how to get along with people here at A&M and that is what counts in life. I also, hold my likker like a man.

Some smart-aleck told me recently that I had a shock coming in the near future if I didn't change my way of thinking. Ha! Ha! He's the Vice-President of the big oil company, and he couldn't even tell that I had no brain.

May I join all my buddies and say, "This is the straw that broke the camel's back! Fifteen for Albert P. Kutzer, and James W. Phillips! Why don't you go edit the Daily Texan? We don't want any trophy that will take away our courage and self-respect! etc. etc. etc."

Name Withheld by Request
P. S. Please withhold my name because everybody says that the school officials will kick you out of school for writing a letter to The Batt.
