

No Commencement For Winter Grads

There will be no commencement ceremonies at the mid-term graduation this year, Dr. G. W. Schlesman, chairman of Commencement Committee, announced today. This decision was reached by a poll taken of the January graduates.

Out of the 615 ballots distributed 482 were returned. Three hundred and ninety were against the service while only 92 were for it.

Committee Reports 62,955 Man Layoff

Washington (AP)—An overall reduction of 62,955 federal employees in four months was reported today by a Senate-House committee, thanks to cuts in civilian employment by the military forces.

Apology Okay But Mind Unchanged

Philadelphia (AP)—The small boy and the telephone operator had a slight misunderstanding. She couldn't catch the number he wanted, finally, he exploded: "You operators are so dumb." The operator cut him off. Fifteen minutes later, a woman's voice said "just a minute, please." "My mother wants me to apologize to you for what I said," declared the small boy. The operator accepted his apology and connected him with his number. A half hour later—the small boy and the operator of the phone again. The small boy: "My mother just went out of the house. I still think you're dumb."
