

Tomorrow Night—Zany Harry Ranch

...By Herman C. Gollob

Okay, okay, quit leering at the picture and pay attention to our invaluable, meticulously constructed verities for the week. Who knows—perhaps this chesty maiden's telephone number and address is slyly camouflaged within tee opulent confines of our immaculate sentences.

Christina is one of the few sane aspects of the Harry Ranch show which comes to College Station tomorrow for a performance at the All-College Dance in the Grove.

If it's laughs you're after, Harry's your man. Billed as the "Kernes of Kern," the Ranch band affords the same type of zany slapstick as Spike Jones, can tickle a rib just as effectively. Good on sweet, danceable stuff, too.

We first caught Harry and the boys a couple of months ago—at Houston's Town Lounge, where he set a new high on attendance records with his musical shenanigans.

Besides Christina, others featured in the Ranch show are Dick Wink, Marion Williams, (gal saxophonist), "Murder, Inc." (Bill Tanner, Sid Davis, Bill Haynes), and baritone Charlie Harmon.

Breckenridge

Belvania Club—El Worth-Graham Highway. We're indebted to Dick Kelly, 'A' Flight Junior, for this info about the Belvania. Dick is free with his compliments on Johnny Miller's newly-redecorated joint, says the cover is $2 a couple, entertainment charged every two weeks. Music furnished by a combo.

Beaumont

Rice Room—New Colony Hotel. Modern interior, low cover charge ($1 a couple) and a smooth orchestra make the Rice Room a stand-out nightery.

Houston

Congo Jungle—5704 Almeda. Congrats to Abe Jamail on the reopening of his Congo Jungle, mecca among Houston nighteries. Enlarged and redecorated, the Congo features Johnnie "Scat" Davis and his "Scatette," a combo which affords easy dancing for patrons.

Hit-Hat—South Main and Holcombe Blvd.—Not much on decorations, the barn-like Hit-Hat strangely enough offers as good a time to night-club devotees as the plush establishments. Johnny Dyson and his orchestra play for dancing every Saturday night. Cover charge runs at 50¢ per person.

Dallas

Circle Bar—Greenville Avenue. Another informal joint, the Circle is dimly lit with soft colored lights, has walls covered with caricatures representing life at Southwest Conferences colleges. Feature attraction: large horseshoe bar in the center. No dancing, no cover.

Theatre Lounge—Forest at Colonial. So you can't dance here—so what? Who wants to dance when there's a burlesque floor show to watch. Fay Jennings, Toni Beri, Linda Scott, and Janite are the featured hoofers, whom you can see for a cover of 50¢.

San Antonio

Club Sevenoaks—5000 Austin Highway. Romantics, attention: the Starlite Terrace at the Sevenoaks is now open. No cover charge for dinner guests, whose eats cost from $1.95 to $2.50. Cliff Gillette's orchestra plays nightly.

Rocking M Dude Ranch—216 Soledad Street. Dining and dancing are to be had at the Rocking M, Miss Neal Moore's gift to San Antonio's night life.

Mugs and Monickers . . .

Accountants' Meet Opens With Banquet

"Accounting has not yet reached the point of saturation. There are plenty of places for absorption of new ideas and improvements in our profession," Ralph H. Galpin, partner of Arthur Young & Company, New York, said yesterday afternoon at the opening meeting of the Third Annual Accounting Conference.

The conference opened with a welcoming address by President Bolton challenging the 200 delegates present with the responsibilities that they have incurred in their accounting practice.

Bolton said that it was the duty of those in the accounting profession to be thermostats instead of thermometers by taking on the responsibility of strengthening our nation on such problems as foreign trade and deficit spending.

According to T. W. Leland, head of the Business and Accounting Department, the purposes of these annual conferences are twofold.

The first is to place accounting on a higher level in business and industry by bringing home to management and to the general public the importance and usefulness of the accounting profession.

The other purpose is to give A&M accounting students a chance to meet their "future employers" by associating with them and participating in the panel discussions.

E. A. Kracke, partner of Hasikin and Sells, New York, spoke at the banquet at Sbisla yesterday evening on "Current Professional Problems."

Subjects currently being discussed in the different sessions include problems on management control, clerical cost control, and capital sources for small businesses.

Four Receive Vet Medicine Awards

Four outstanding students of the School of Veterinary Medicine were presented with award-of-merit certificates by Dr. I. A. Boughton, dean of the school, at a meeting of the student chapter of American Veterinary Medicine Association Wednesday night.

The award winners were (freshman class) Rodney L. Hubert of Plaquemine, La., (sophomore class) Bill R. Ellsworth of Dallas; (junior class) Monte Y. Swartzell of Cleburne; and (senior class) Hugh M. Wallace of Oklahoma City.

The award winners were chosen by a composite system consisting of 40 per cent choice by academic rating, 20 per cent by rating by other students in their class, and 20 per cent by considering outside activities, according to Dr. Boughton.

The awards were begun this year to increase the spirit and morale of the Veterinary students and to present an incentive for competition between them for better work, Dr. Boughton said.

There is something refreshing and wholesome in the sight of this fine boy and girl, chatting in friendly fashion as they plod their way to school. They are typical of many thousands of boys and girls who are preparing themselves, through study and training, for the duties and responsibilities of life.

Parents are often concerned about the academic progress of their children. But to be mentally alert is not enough; to be able to judge between right and wrong is essential. Progress in the knowledge of God and the principles of right living should be a matter of deeper concern.

True education encompasses the training of the soul along with that of the mind and body. When this training is neglected, life is incomplete, because it lacks the foundation of a vital faith.

Boys and girls should turn to the teachings of the Church and to the precepts of the Holy Scriptures as the most important part of their life training.

ALL FOR THE CHURCH THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. (4) To go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
