Profs Produce Two Skits For Ag Eng Society

"A day in a professor's life" or "Why professors beat their wives" was the theme of a program presented by faculty members of the Agri-cultural Engineering Department at a student society meeting Tues-day evening.

Robert Craig, professor in farm shop, was chairman of the pro-gram. Ten faculty members parti-cipated in the skits which were presented.

The program was opened with a wire recording which illustrated typical domitory life at A&M. The central idea was to show the unique method which Aggies have in studying for a quiz. As usual the study session ended up in a
