

A Athletics Cop Intramural Track Crown, Top Record

By NICK MANITZAS

A Athletics won five first places to walk off with the annual intramural track meet Friday afternoon on the Kyle Field track.

Although the athletes of Hart Hall entered only nine of the top events, they still managed to come out on top as they have done for the last few years. Final team results are not yet complete but will be released tomorrow.

Only in the 880-yard relay was a record set. Billy Tidwell of A Athletics broke across the finish line to speed last year's record (which was also set by A Athletics) with a fast time of 1:34.4, four seconds under last season's mark.

Ralph Gray of A Ordnance won the 440-yard dash in a tie of 53.4 with Dancer of A Coast, Hunk of B Quartermaster, and Webb of ASA finishing in order behind Gray.

Trailing A Athletics in the 880-yard relay were B Engineers, A Coast, and D Infantry.

Edwards Cops 880

Edwards of B Infantry crossed the finish line in the 880-yard run with a time of 2:08.4 while Daehell of C Infantry, Griffin of C Air Force, and Bone of the White Band filled up the following three places.

June Clark of A Quartermaster, who ran the century dash in 10:3 for the best time in the preliminaries, failed to place behind winner Charlie Royalty of A Athletics, who rushed across in 10:2 seconds. Funk of C Cavalry crossed close behind Royalty with a QMC's David Yeager taking third and Tommy Butler of E Air Force fourth.

F Flight's 120-yard hurdler Robertson won that event in a time of 14.7 with Hurst of A Engineers, Zolner of K Flight and Hinch of A Quartermaster trailing at the finish, in that order.

A Athletics Win

A Athletics' third victory in the races was in the 440-yard relay with a time of 44:0 while E Air Force, C Infantry, and A Quartermaster took the following places.

In the shot put contest George Rush of A Athletics tossed the 12-pound shot 18' 0" for first place honors with Leon Scott of the Maroon Band in second place with 46' 3". Fred Sommers of ASA finished third with 44' 6", and Leonard McCann of B Engineers tossed the shot 42' 11 1/2" for fourth.

Two ties were featured in the high jump with 6' 10" taking first place. Anderson of A Quartermaster and Zolner finished in first place and Jim Cupit of K Flight tied Lincoln Hinch of A QMC at 5' 8" for third place.

A Field Artillery's Cliff Pfeil pole vaulted 11' 0" in the pole vault event with Peet of A, CWS and Connie Magourik tying for second place at 10' 6". Pfeil was defending champ and record-holder.

A three place tie between Larry of A Athletics, Jones of B Composite and Lawler of the White Band at the ten foot mark completed the pole vault event.

Ray Graves, another member of A Athletics, took the broadjump with a hop of 21' 8 1/2" and was followed up by Yeager, who was an inch and three fourths short on the victor.

Royalty was third with 20' 6", and in a three-way tie for fourth place were James Waldrip of A Quartermaster, Gus Fox of E Air Force, and Owens of Dorm 14.

Non-Military Softball Champs

Dorm 17 dropped TCVV, 8-2, for the championship of the non-military division with Bill Turnbow pitching for the winners. Turnbow held the TCVV nine scoreless for the first four frames and allowed the losers only two hits.

L. E. Winder was on the mound for TCVV and gave up the eight runs on five hits in the seven innings of play.

Rebounding in another championship playoff game, Winder gave up only two hits as the Physical Education majors defeated the ASAE club, 3-0, for the title. The winners collected the three runs off six hits from ASAE pitcher Hodges with Doyle Moore, Max Sutton, and Dan Frady scoring the trio of runs.

Southwest Is Early Choice In Track Duel

Dallas, May 22—The Southwest Conference can look forward to taking the lead in its track and field duels with the Big Seven Conference on the basis of times and distances in the respective events.

The two conferences will clash for the fourth time here June 5. The Southwest has won one meet, the Big Seven one and there has been one tie.

The Big Seven held its meet last week-end and showed marked superiority over the Southwest in the shot put, mile run, 880-yard run, two-mile run and pole vault, and a slight edge in the javelin throw, despite adverse weather conditions.

Southwest Tops Sprints

But the Southwest could boast leadership in the dashes—100, 200 and 440; the high and low hurdles, the broad jump, high jump, discus throw and mile relay. The Southwest has the 440-yard relay but the Big Seven does not, thus this event is not run in the dual meet.

The three top men in each event qualify for the meet here.

A sweep in the shot put and mile run is indicated for the Big Seven with the Southwest likely to take all places in the 100, high hurdles and 220 and win the mile relay, in which only two teams will be entered.

Shotputters Strong

Jim Allen of Colorado, Rolin Prather of Kansas State and Wally Tenner of Colorado all can put the shot farther than the best man in the Southwest while Bob Karvas, Bill McGuire of Missouri and Pat Bowers of Kansas all appear better than any Southwest miler.

But in the sprints, 100 and 200—Charles Parker of Texas has done 16.6 and 21.0 with Carl Mayer and Perry Samuels of Texas and Arthur Brown of Rice close to those times. Harry Metcalf of Nebraska won the 100 in 14.3 and the 200 in 24.0 in the Big Seven meet.

Paul Leming of Texas A&M ran the high hurdles in 14.3 compared to 15.0 by Bob Berkshire of Nebraska. In the mile relay Rice did 3:14.3 while Kansas, in winning in the Big Seven, turned in 3:19.5.

Guy Wallace

Wallace repeated as all-conference shortstop despite a bad early-season injury.

Wallace, Moon, Hubert Named All-Conference

Three outstanding members of the 1950 A&M Baseball team—Wallace Moon, Guy Wallace, and Pat Hubert—were given places on the All-Southwest Conference baseball team announced over the weekend by the Associated Press.

The mythical team is selected annually by the six conference baseball coaches.

Moon and Wallace were two of the four players who received the vote of all coaches. The other two were Kal Segrist, Texas second baseman, and Murray Wall, ace Loughorn hurler.

Norris (Knobby) Graves, TCU pitcher; Hogo Pearson, Baylor backstopper, and Gerald Jensen, S M U centerfielder, each received five votes.

Texas Dominates Squad

Others selected were Bill Loomney, TCU catcher; Adrian Burk, Baylor first baseman; Ben Tompkins, Texas third baseman; Frank Womack, Texas outfielder; Charlie Gorin, Texas pitcher, and Larry Isbell, Baylor infielder who was selected as the utility player.

Texas placed five performers on the team, Baylor and A&M, three each, TCU two, and SMU one. Rice was not represented.

Despite a cracked ankle that kept him out of the lineup until the conference opener, Wallace was one of the leading Aggie run makers; however, this was not his greatest fielding season, probably because of his initial poor condition.

In gaining his second all-conference berth, Wallace finished the season at the head of the Gadget batters with a percentage mark well over 300.

Moon Outstanding Defensively

Moon was cited for his proficient defensive coverage of the center pasture and his heavy stick-work at the plate.

He is among the leaders in runs batted in and has a conference batting mark of over 300. In the SWC Moon was the largest of most major league scouts this season.

The pitching staff consisted of Graves, Wall, Hubert, and Gorin—four being named instead of three this year because of a tie for the third spot between Hubert and Gorin.

Hubert is among the leading pitcher of the league, finishing with a 5-1 record.

All three Aggies have a year of eligibility remaining and are expected back in September after three months at semi-pro play.

Pat Hubert

Hubert compiled a 5-1 conference pitching record and tied with Gorin of Texas for a spot on the all-league mound staff.

Wally Moon

Moon and teammate Wallace were among the four unanimous choices for the all-conference team. An outstanding hitter Moon also is noted for his centerfield defensive play.
