They were questioned by one of the local harbingers of the law. One of them, Bob Page, clad in a lei of lily-pads, explained in an exuberent voice that the group was determined to celebrate with a gala party around eight temorrow night at the Grove.

Faint Morse code signals were picked up last night by two chil-dren playing with a Dick Tracy Morsograph. The decoded message revealed that a small band of people poling down the Bra-zos River in African kayaks had met destruction. The boats had been crushed at Steel Rapids, an especially treacherous point, and Reports stated that no one had been hurt; in fact the party had held quick council, changed their plans of continuing to the Gulf to dive for pearls, and decided to come to College Station.

Garbled instructions were re seived to ask Bill Turner and his Aggieland Combo to be on hand at the Grove Saturday night to music for a Shipwreck

Although members of the party were seen furtively entering town tonight, they brought news that many many more will be coming in tomorrow. When asked why a shipwreck party should laugh at brate it, Allsup flung the tawny hair out of his eyes and replied. 'It was nothing; we were only pleasure-cruising.
