

Zubik Remembers Old-Time Uniforms

By FRANK DAVIS

"Making uniforms that fit the individual's particular taste, while staying within military specifications." That's the aim of Zubik and Sons, uniform tailors.

Located at the North Gate, Zubik and Sons is owned by Frank Zubik, 70, and operated by his two sons, Jerome, 34, and B. J. Zubik, 45.

After 49 years in the tailoring business in the Bryan-College Station area, Frank Zubik is retiring and the younger generation is coming in.

From Czechoslovakia

Frank Zubik came to Bryan in 1901 from Czechoslovakia. A tailor by trade, Zubik almost immediately launched a program which eventually brought him to College Station in 1930. The program was tailoring and altering Aggie uniforms.

He remembers tailoring the old high-collar uniform as early as 1908, the uniform to the neck and resembled the present RV uniform, that they were blue with black trimmings.

Reflecting "The old days," Frank Zubik said that tailoring was done by hand. Looking about the shop, he pointed to the machines that have replaced the old methods. Commercial sewing machines, a button hole machine, an over-edging machine, a blind stitch machine, and a steam press machine discounting the numerous cutting, shaping and trimming supplies had been included when his right arm returned to rest on the counter.

Today Zubik and Sons, although they do civilian tailoring and altering, specialize in senior boot breeches, junior summer serge, and regular dark serge shirts and pants.

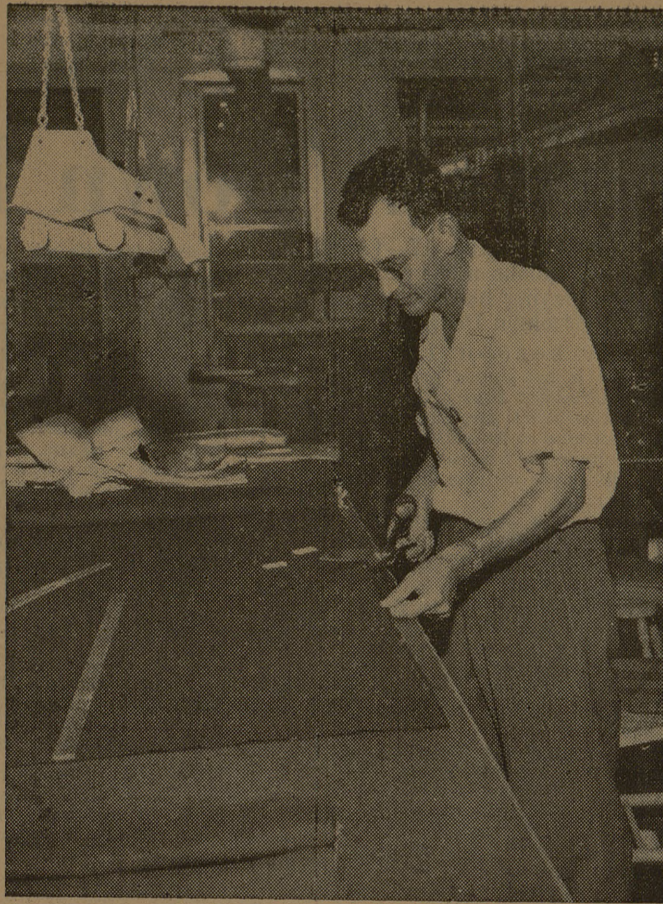

In attempting to realize their aim to fit the uniform to the individual, Jerome Zubik said that it is the experience that counts, plus knowing the latest methods, designs, and styles for clothing.

Served Apprenticeship

Both sons served an apprenticeship with their father, and are graduates of Master College in Chicago, Ill. Frank Zubik served a four year apprenticeship in Czechoslovakia before coming to the United States.

As members of the Custom Tailors and Designers Association of America, Zubik and Sons is assured of staying informed of up-to-date methods and designs.

In their present location since 1936, the shop has a regular staff of five. During rush seasons, however, the staff sometimes reaches 11, Zubik said.

Jerome Zubik
