

Services Held For Professor J. A. Moore

Funeral services were held at 10 a. m. yesterday in Hubbard, Tex., for James Allan Moore, associate professor in the Modern Languages Department. Moore died suddenly at 8 p. m. Saturday in Hubbard after a heart attack.

Services were conducted in the First Baptist church by the Rev. M. O. Cheek and assisted by the Rev. Robert Fling of Ennis.

Attending the rites from A&M were Dean J. P. Abbott, who represented the college and the president; J. J. Woolket, head of the Modern Languages Department; Dr. C. B. Campbell, retired head of the Modern Languages Department; Dean T. D. Brooks, and Professor O. F. Allen of the English Department.

Moore came to A&M in 1944. He taught Spanish in the long terms and a special English course for Latin-Americans during the summer.

Graduated from Baylor University in 1924, Moore did post graduate work at the University of Texas and Michigan State University.

During World War II he was assigned to special service on Trinidad Island in the Gulf of Mexico.

Professor Moore is survived by his father, J. M. Moore of Hubbard; his eldest brother I. G. Moore from Ennis, and brother Gen. Aubrey L. Moore, assigned in Washington, D.C. both of whom are A&M graduates.

He is survived by two sisters, Sue Moore, connected with the Browning Library at Baylor and Mrs. J. W. Faulkner of Port Arthur.

Funeral services were attended by many Aggies from Waco, according to Woolket, who said that Moore would be missed most by the Spanish Club which he sponsored. Moore was the driving force behind the Mother's Day Program presented last spring by the Spanish Club, Woolket said.

The flag was flown at half-mast all day yesterday in front of the Academic Building at A&M where Moore formerly had his office.

Cavalry Battalion Storming Hill Vital to Taegu Defense

Tokyo, Sept. 12 (AP)—An American cavalry battalion stormed up a commanding Red Korean Hill eight miles north of Taegu today and seized two-thirds of it in five hours of bitter fighting.

Dug-in Communists on the hill and a nearby peak threw a storm of artillery and machinegun fire at the driving foot troopers.

Casualties were heavy. But the doughboys pressed their attack.

"The main threat (to Taegu) is right here," a regimental commander said.

Capture of the hill would give the American defenders of Taegu a vital anchor on their right flank.

The Americans attacked first seven miles north of Taegu. General MacArthur's headquarters said they gained nearly one mile and secured high ground commanding the vital Taegu-Tabu road.

Attention Freshmen

Freshmen interested in working in any capacity on any student publication will be asked to meet in The Battalion office, second floor of Goodwin Hall Wednesday evening after the Grove program, Roland Bing, manager of student publications, said this morning.

An announcement will be made during the Grove program and those interested in student publications may meet with Bing at the projection booth and go over to Goodwin Hall in a group.

Student publications include The Battalion, daily newspaper produced by students, and four monthly or semi-monthly magazines and the student yearbook.

Interested students need not have had experience to work on any of the publications, Bing said. "Interest and willingness to work are much more important. We will teach you what you want to learn."

College Station Congressman Becoming Known in Capitol

By TEX EASLEY
AP Special Washington Service

Washington, Sept. 12 (AP)—You're likely to be hearing more about Rep. Olin E. "Tiger" Teague of College Station in the near future.

The 40-year-old former postal employe and World War Two veteran is in line for chairman of the new nine-member special House committee which will investigate the veterans' educational program.

The program, administered by the Veteran Administration, has provided training for all vocations, from doctors to piano tuners, at a cost of some 10 billion dollars since the end of World War Two.

The Teague committee probably will determine, or at least greatly influence, whether similar educational benefits will be extended to veterans of the Korean fighting and those who will serve in the armed forces in the future.

Congress, of course, would have to continue to appropriate money. Teague's selection as chairman of the special committee stems from the fact that he was author of the resolution by which the House authorized the investigation.

Needs Revision
"There are some phases of the program that I think are sound," said the Central Texas legislator, "but some of it certainly needs overhauling."

"For example, I think if a boy is going to college under the program he should be expected and required to achieve certain grades.

That's the way you'd look at it if you were paying your own son's way.

"It doesn't make good sense to just keep paying a lot of tuition and board bill to some lazy fellow who may just want to avoid work at government expense."

Teague said the fundamental issue to be settled is the attitude of the Veterans Administration toward the G.I. program. He said he felt that some top VA officials are against its continuation.

Teague already has conferred with House leaders to select members of the group and to draft a resolution appropriating money to carry on the investigation. A separate office and clerical staff is to be set up for the committee.

Freshman Week Activities On, Near 1,350 New Students Here

By TOM ROUNTREE

Near 1350 new students are entering the last half of Freshman Week today, as the group wound up its general aptitude testing yesterday.

"The tests have been going very well and I'm very pleased with the results," Dr. John R. Bertrand, dean of the Basic Division, said yesterday.

Results from the tests taken Saturday should be ready by noon today, he said, when evaluation of the tests begins.

The tests will result in systematic individual counseling with the students throughout the semester, Dr. Bertrand said.

The tests have been coordinated by Dr. Robert Jacobs, director of counseling, and Dr. Albert Kingston, director of remedial reading, along with R. G. Perryman.

Conferences Set
Individual conferences with advisors begin tomorrow for the freshmen at 9 a. m. General objectives of the personal conferences, said Dr. Bertrand, are as follows:

- To provide the student with an initial personal contact with the faculty of the college.
- To provide the student with an opportunity for presenting questions on his individual problems regarding his school entrance.

- To obtain information from the student that will prove valuable in subsequent educational and vocational guidance.
- To verify the completeness of personal data on the student's personal folder.

The entire class met in general assembly this morning at 8 a. m. to hear Col. H. L. Boatner, commandant and PMS&T of the college, speak on "The A&M Cadet." Following the assembly, dormitory counselors spoke to unit meetings of the cadets on "Cadet-Counselor Relationship" and "College Regulations."

Unit meetings were held again this afternoon at 1, with the company commanders explaining "College Organization and Courtesy." Other meetings later in the afternoon will also be presided over by the commanders, speaking on "The Aggie Uniform, Its Prestige and Your Responsibility to It," "Yell Practice," and "Conduct On and Off the Campus."

Company Meetings

At 3 this afternoon, the company commanders will explain the Articles of the Cadet Corps, dormitory and room regulations, and arrangement of rooms.

Col. Boatner will meet the freshmen tonight at The Grove to speak on "History and Traditions of The A&M College of Texas." Tonight's meeting begins at 7.

Dr. M. T. Harrington, president of the college, gave an address of welcome last night to the freshmen. Meeting with the students at The Grove, Dr. Harrington was introduced by Dr. Bertrand, who presided at the meeting.

Peebles Speaks

Following the introduction of the members of the Executive Committee of the college, Rufus R. Peebles of the Class of '28, a member of the A&M System Board of Directors, spoke to the freshmen on "What It Means to be an Aggie."

Special music was rendered by a Houston group, directed by Walter Jenkins, choir director of the First Methodist Church of Houston.

To Hear Penberthy

W. L. Penberthy, dean of men, will address the freshmen tomorrow night, speaking on "Student Life at A&M College." A special entertainment program will follow the talk by Dean Penberthy.

The annual President's Reception will be held Thursday night in the ballroom of the Memorial Student Center. All freshmen who can possibly be in uniform have been requested to do so.

Freshmen and all new students will register Friday in Sbis Hall. The registration schedule is as follows:

8-9 a. m.—L, M, N, O; 9-10—P, Q, R, S; 10-11—C, D, E, F; 1-2 p. m.—G, H, I, J, K; 2-3—A, B; 3-4—T, U, V, W, X, Y, Z.

Registration on Friday is for new students only, according to H. L. Heaton, registrar of the college. This includes freshmen with no previous college work as well as advanced students entering with varying amounts of college credit, he said.

Registration will be held in Sbis Hall. No members of the teaching staff will be needed to register entering students, Heaton said.

Registration of "straight" freshmen will be in bloc. This will be accomplished by the registrar's staff.

Approximately 300 advanced standing students are expected to register on this date. Distributed by schools, 90 are expected in the School of Agriculture, 53 in the School of Arts and Science, 150 in the School of Engineering, and seven in the School of Veterinary Medicine.

"It will be necessary for the Deans and department heads or their representative to be in Sbis Hall from 3 to 5 p. m. to assist advanced standing students," Heaton said. One representative from each department should be adequate to register the group, he added.

Advanced standing students will report to Sbis Hall throughout the day. Until 3 p. m., they will be directed to the heads of their departments for advice on the courses for which they should register.

Old Students Saturday
Registration for old students will be continued in Sbis on Saturday from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.

There is a total of 2,781 assignment cards for old students who may register Saturday, not counting the 2,750 returning students who pre-registered for the Fall semester Aug. 26.

Broken down by classes, the number of returning students who have not registered are as follows: freshmen, 352; sophomores 820; juniors, 501; seniors, 450; fifth-year students, 50; graduates, 565; and special students, 43.

Approximately 90 percent of the undergraduate students are expected to be registered by Saturday.

Class cards for students who pre-registered have been sent to the various heads of departments of the college, Heaton said. Some courses have a small enrollment, he said, and class cards are being held for these pending development with the weekend registrations. He expected most of them to meet the required minimum.

Music Hall Studio
Mrs. Orin Helvey will open her piano studio Oct. 2 in the Music Hall on the campus.

Registrations for the studio are now being taken, Mrs. Helvey said. She may be contacted at 4-9404.

Sessions will be held in the Memorial Student Center, according to P. L. Downs Jr., secretary. More than 100 are expected to attend.

"We expect this to be an outstanding conference of newspapermen," David Read, Sillsbee publisher, and president of the conference, said.

Top-flight speakers in the various fields of endeavor will deliver talks and answer questions of the newspapermen.

Present were Read, Arthur LeFever and E. L. Summers of Houston, James C. Potts and Downs.

World at a Glance

Jan Christiann Smutts Dies

Pretoria, South Africa, Sept. 12—(AP)—South Africa today planned a military funeral for her greatest soldier and one of the democratic world's foremost elder statesmen—Field Marshal Jan Christiann Smutts.

The spade-bearded Smutts, a leader in three wars and two world peace movements, died last night in his 81st year. He had been ill since a back ailment forced him to bed May 28, four days after his 80th birthday.

Funeral services will be held Friday in Pretoria's leading Dutch Reformed Church, the "Groote Kerk." Burial probably will be at Smutts' farm, "Doornkoff," where he died. It is 10 miles from Pretoria.

A military funeral was being arranged at the request of Smutts' family.

Demos Discount O'Dwyer Complaints

Washington, Sept. 12—(AP)—Democrats today discounted complaints against President Truman's appointment of former Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York City as ambassador to Mexico.

O'Dwyer was asked to appear before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee (9:30 a. m. EST), but Chairman Connally (D-Tex) strongly indicated to reporters he doesn't think the protests against him will get very far.

Connally announced that Rep. Marcantonio (ALP-NY), who he said "started all this," won't be on hand to testify or to question the former mayor.

Troop Train Dead Returned

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Sept. 12—(AP)—Stunned residents of the Wyoming Valley prepared today to receive the bodies of 33 soldier relatives killed in an Ohio troop train wreck.

In a region where death sometimes is as close as the nearest hard coal mine, no underground disaster—no, not even any of the major battles of World War II—cast a shadow over so many homes as yesterday's crash of a troop-laden train and a Pennsylvania Railroad express.

Besides those killed, 50 or more were injured—all but a few from the Wilkes-Barre area.

Approval of Foreign Arms Seen

Washington, Sept. 12—(AP)—Senate Appropriations Committee approval of a $4 billion Foreign Arms Program was forecast today as lawmakers pushed new proposals to bring Turkey and Spain into the North Atlantic Pact.

The military aid fund was part of a $16,711,000 emergency defense bill expected to get the committee's OK after disposal of some relatively minor controversies—such as President Truman's request for $139 million to move key bureaus out of Washington.

U.S. Troops Participate in War Games

Heidelberg, Germany, Sept. 12—(AP)—American troops participating in war games retreated westward tonight before the mock attack of overwhelming "aggressor" forces invading Western Germany from the East.

Many people have remarked of the beauty of the Memorial Student Center's interior . . . and here is part of what makes it attractive. In the main offices of the MSC are, left to right, Frances Allen, cashier; Martha Williams, assistant bookkeeper; Elaine Lester, secretary; Estha Nowlin, personnel secretary; and Helen Atterbury, secretary to director J. Wayne Stark.
