

Lover Receives Stationery . . .

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 25—(AP)—It was pretty fancy stationery—1,000 sheets and envelopes—with big red hearts and printed letterhead reading:
 "Sigmund S. Engel Company, lover of 1,001 women, 610 West End Ave., New York, 24, N.Y."
 One thing wrong was the address. Engel, 76 year old swindler of wealthy widows, now is doing a two to ten year stretch in the Stateville penitentiary for sweet talking Mrs. Reseda Corrigan of Chicago out of $8,700.
 Warden Joseph E. Ragen, frowned on the gift, from Engel's wife, Mrs. Pauline Langton Engel of New York.

Aggies Stomp Nevada --

 With the use of Brady's passing and a 15-yard penalty, Nevada scored on fourth down from the five yardline, with Brady passing to Howard Barber for the TD. Two Aggies deflected the pigskin, but Barber caught the ball in the end zone as he was falling to the ground. The attempted conversion kick was wide.

Lippman Goes For 80
 It didn't take the Cadets long to score as Lippman scored on the first play from scrimmage, the TD run eating up 80 yards. Hooper successfully converted his first of six PAT kicks.

Hooper again entered the picture when he kicked off to Nevada and the ball bounced out from the end zone to the one foot line where it was declared dead.

Not disheartened, Brady passed to Barber for 10, then a run by Lee Schroeder was stopped at the line of scrimmage by Flowers, Molberg and Spencer, but another pass was completed to End Wally Graf for a first down on the NU's 17.

Brady's next pass was deflected by Barton and intercepted by Spencer who was immediately downed on the Wolfpack's 11 yard line.

Sikes to Hodge
 Sikes passed to End Charley Hodge on the five, and Hodge stepped across the double stripe for the score. Hooper's conversion kick was good and the Aggies led 14-6.

Two passes by Brady and an 18 yard run by the sharp quarterback gave Nevada its second TD. Passing from his own 26, Brady completed an aerial to Barber, a play good for 45 yards. After Brady's 18 yard scamper, the Cadet forward wall held for two plays, but on the final call, Brady completed another TD pass, this time to Graf. Jim Fowler blocked the attempted kick for extra point.

Greiner Intercepts
 Another pass interception, this time by Greiner, led to the Aggies third touchdown in the second period. It was all done on the ground from NU's 25. Shaeffer started the drive with seven, Lippman went for six, Smith for 11, then Bruisin' Bob drove over for the counter. Again Hooper came through with his PAT kick.

In the final seconds of the half, both teams tried passing but neither threatened seriously.

A&M kept the game going in the second half as they scored when they took possession of the ball for the first time. With Sikes still as the man-under, it was Smith, Lippman, and Shaeffer driving all the way to the goal line, with Bruisin' Bob again scoring. Hooper missed the try for extra point.

Smith Scores
 A Nevadan blocked Brady's kick on NU's 29 and the Aggies began their fifth touchdown drive. It was on the ground again as Lippman went for nine, Smith for three, and Lippman again, this time for two. Smith scored from the 15, and Hooper converted.

Nine plays by the Wolfpack formed another score for the losers with Ray Garrett, who had replaced Brady in the quarterback slot, passing to Howard Hartsfield for the TD. Barton blocked the try for extra point.

On the following Nevada kickoff, Lippman went all the way to score, a 93 yard run, but officials claimed that Gallopin' Glenn had stepped out of bounds on the 44, giving the El Campo scabback a 37 yard runback. Lary punted on fourth down to Nevada's 22.

Ten plays by the Wolfpack brought the home team within striking range of the Cadets goal, but the Aggie line held and the Farmers took possession of the ball on their own 29.

Two plays led to the next score. Smith went through center for three, then Tidwell scampered 69 yards for A&M's sixth TD. Again Hooper's kick was good.

Final TD—Dobbyn
 A&M's final TD came in the closing minutes of the last quarter with Lippman starting the attack with a 17 yard runback. Hooper now became the man-under and in 13 plays, A&M scored its seventh counter.

It was mostly Jim Dobbyn's running, 31 yards, and a screen pass by Hooper to Dobbyn for 14 yards which set up the touchdown. Dobbyn crossed the double stripe from the one for the final score of the game, and Hooper converted for the extra point.

Score by periods:
 A & M . . . . . 0 21 13 14—48
 Nevada . . . . . 0 12 6 0—18
 Touchdowns scored: A&M, Smith 3, Lippman, Tidwell, Hodge, Dobbyn; Nevada, Barber, Graf, Hartsfield.

Galopped 80 Yards to TD

Glenn Lippman

Somewhat bewildered is Gallopin' Glenn as he is being carried by two fish from the plane which brought the A&M football squad from Sacramento, Calif. where the Aggies had downed Nevada University, 48-18. Glenn really galloped in the fray, averaging 16.1 yards for nine carries, and one TD.
