Last week, four Brownie and four Girl Scout units held their first meetings at Consolidated Elementary School. Officers were elected and patrols organized according to Mrs. Virgil Bernard, Girl Scout chairman.

Activities are expected to speed-up this year in College Station due to an increase in Girl Scout enrollments. Two new Brownie troops have been established in the second grade alone. Leaders and assistant leaders, have been chosen in all but the seventh grade troop.

A training course will begin this week in an effort to get new leaders. Mrs. W. L. Penberthy will conduct the class which are scheduled for each Wednesday and Thursday from 9 a. m. to 12 noon. They will be held in the Girl Scout House behind the Country Club, Mrs. Bernard added.

Pastor Resigns at Christian Church

The congregation of the A&M Christian Church has accepted the resignation of the Rev. James M. Moudy, in order that he may enroll for further study in the Graduate School of Duke University, Durham, N. C.

In presenting his resignation, Rev. Moudy noted that his plans for advanced study had been interrupted two years ago by serious illness in his immediate family, and that his coming here represented a change of plans as sudden as the present decision to resume his schooling.

Rev. Moudy will begin study for the Doctor of Philosophy degree, in the field of Church History, and with emphasis on the American scene.

The family will leave after the morning services next Sunday.

Until a successor is on the field, the pulpit will be filled by Dr. Carter Boren, head of the Department of Philosophy and Religion at the University of Houston.

CS Students Will Attend Celebration

Students of Consolidated High School will be allowed to attend A&M's 75th Anniversary celebration tomorrow and quite a large number of them are expected to be on hand when the college swings its doors open to the public, said L. E. Boze, principal.

Engineering and science tours will be the most popular choices among local students, the principal predicted, since the courses taught in Agriculture at Consolidated are very limited.

The students will be allowed to miss school and still have credit for regular attendance under a recent ruling by the Texas State Board of Education which classified the A&M celebration as an "educational event," Boze added.

his committee have received numerous acceptance of invitations from high school in this area who plan to bring members of their student body to attend the event in school buses.

The 75th Anniversary Committee has promised a free picnic lunch which will be served on Kyle Field at noon tomorrow to all people attending the celebration—including A&M students.

A number of tours will be conducted during the afternoon for visitors according to their various interests. The tours have been named according to colors and places where they will take visitors differ as to their preference.

Chamber of Commerce President Burgess said yesterday that "splendid response has come in from people in nearby towns. A large number of schools will be represented at the gathering," he said.

Batt Editors Give Kiwanis Program

Journalism students and other members of The Battalion staff were guests of the Kiwanis Club at its noon meeting today. The group presented a program in observance of National Newspaper week which begins next Sunday.

With Battalion co-editors Dave Coslett and Clayton Selph as leaders, the program began with a short explanation from editor Coslett about Newspaper Week, its purpose, symbol, and slogan.

Through the use of a tape recorder, various phases in the history of newspapers in the United States were presented. Stories concerning the first paper to be printed in America—the Boston Public Occurrences—dated as far back as 1690 were told.

Freedom of Press

The program pointed out that when the constitution was drawn up, the people of our new country were reluctant to ratify the document without some provision assuring freedom of speech and of the press, as well as the other provisions of the Bill of Rights.

Thomas Jefferson was quoted as saying, "The people are the only censors of their governors; and even their errors will tend to keep these to the true principles of their institution."

In illustrating the press' fight for editorial freedom to criticize our government, a few lines from a speech made at the libel trial of Peter Zenger back in the pre-revolution days were quoted. Zenger had dared to satirize the tyrannical government in power.

The program pointed out that as journalism of the eighteenth and nineteenth century progressed, publishers were more prone to publish their opinion regarding the events of that time, rather than reserving these thoughts and ideas for the editorial page.

A scotchman by the name of James Gordon Bennett introduced the idea of presenting the news in an unbiased way on his front page and his own opinions on the editorial page. This idea soon spread throughout the world, according to the program.

After the discussion of the origin of newspapers as they are today, Selph took over and showed the many community services which are performed throughout our nation every day by newspapers.

Selph pointed out the campaign waged by the Kansas City Star for city parks in that city which lasted over fifteen years. The newspaper won the fight and thus established a basis of community service which newspapers have fostered for many years.

In conclusion, various activities toward community service in the nearby area were illustrated on the program.

School Clubs Organized

Seven new clubs have been organized at A&M Consolidated Elementary School, according to Mrs. Rowena Creswell, principal.

In order that the children might have a varied program, new clubs will be organized at the end of each semester Mrs. Creswell said.

Each pupil makes his own choice as to which club to go to during club period on Wednesdays from 2 to 2:45 p.m.

The Reading Club has two divisions—one under the direction of Mrs. C. K. Leighton, and the other directed by Mrs. G. P. Parker. The Sewing Club also has two divisions, directed by Mrs. J. T. Dawson and Mrs. Joe Matthews.

The Junior Audubon Club is led by Mrs. L. K. Tanzer, and the Opera Stories Club by Mrs. C. B. Helzmann. The Press Club is headed by Mrs. Creswell; the Art Club is directed by Mrs. Margaret Henderson. Mr. J. D. Chaney guides the Shopwork Club.

"WHAT? NO TOOTSIE ROLLS?"
"THEN THE DATE'S OFF!"

If this were literally so... we'd put our excess profits into a new stadium and any needed new buildings for your school... but really... a TOOTSIE ROLL or two does please any student... and his date. Delicious, chocolaty flavor. Truly, good candy!
