Levine spearheaded the surge. Texas shot ahead in the game in fourth period. Claude Arnold, the Sooners' gifted quarterback, pitched out to Healy on the Oklahoma 40 and Healy tried a pass down the sidelines. Dillon, a trackman at Texas, gathered in the throw at midfield and scattered to a touchdown. Porter's try for point was wide—and that eventually was the ball game.

Townsend Leads Rushers
Townsend, who battered the Oklahoma line, was the game's leading ground-gainer with 85 yards on 29 tries while Tompkins led in passing with eight completions in 17 throws for 106 yards.

Vessels and Heath, however, were the most versatile. Vessels not only scored both Oklahoma touchdowns but roared to 76 yards rushing and caught passes for 22 yards.

Heath, the great Sooner fullback, slashed the Texas line for 67 yards and caught passes for 29.

Arnold connected on six passes out of 16 for 84 yards.

Healy turned in some great kicking. He averaged 40.0 yards although having to take several losses in aiming at the coffin corner.

and the seventh was on a 13 yard blast by Bill Forrester. The final came when Dave Powell intercepted a desperation Aggie pass on the A&M four and fell across.

Bill Sullivan kicked all eight points after touchdown.

A fumble on the Aggie one-yard line by Bill Richards robbed SMU of a ninth touchdown.

Southern Methodist romped for 254 yards on the ground and passed for 219. The Aggies could get only 47 rushing and 55 throwing.

It was Southern Methodist's biggest score since 1936 when the Methodists slaughtered Texas A&I 61-0.

Benners completed five passes for 121 yards. Rote was the top ground-gainer with 60 yards.

Aggies Forward Wall Great In Third Win Of Season

The Cadet forward wall held the Flying Squadron behind the 47-yard line in the first quarter, behind the victor's own 43 in the second, while in the third the Keydets advanced once across the fifty, then to the Farmers' 6, and in the fourth they advanced once to the 46.

The second score was set up by Shaeffer, who intercepted a pass thrown by Jimmy Coley and returned it nine yards to the Virginians 15. Lippman cracked right tackle for nine, fumbled but Hillhouse recovered; Smith went the same way for four, fumbled but recovered; then Shaeffer scooted across for the counter. Hooper's kick was blocked.

From their own 15, VMI decided to pass on fourth down; but the play failed, and the Aggies were quick to capitalize on the break, scoring in two plays with Smith going all the way. Hooper's try for extra point was good.

TD No. Four

Before the end of the half the Aggies again scored. This time another fourth down play by the Red and Yellow set things up. VMI's Joe Stump, who gained 54 yards in 16 carries, took a handoff on a fake punt but was thrown for a seven yard loss. Sikes passed to Hillhouse for the TD, the play covering 15 yards. Hooper's attempted conversion went wide.

A fumble by the Aggies in the second half gave the Keydets possession of the pigskin on the A&M 12, but the losers failed to score. After an exchange of with the Farmers came through with TD No. 5 which showed the running power and speed of Bruis'n' Bob.

In two plays Smith covered 53 yards with his second carry going for 47 and a touchdown. Hooper's boot from the 15 was wide.

Tradition Bans Male Yell Leaders

By TOM ROUNTREE

Yell leading has come a long way at Consolidated A&M since the hectic days of the late 1930's when the yell leaders shouted and gyrated before the student body in white uniforms and Elizabeth Mosely Williams led them in yells.

Today Consolidated partisans yell and stomp under the direction of five attractive young ladies attired in maroon and white blouses and skirts. Instead of just a few time honored yells as it was before they give signals for over 30 yells.

There hasn't been any male yell leaders since 1943 and it has almost become tradition for yell leaders to be of the fairer sex and while they are similar to A&M's yell leaders in status, they are much more attractive.

Two juniors and two seniors are elected by popular vote every spring to serve as yell leaders for the following year.

Yell leaders for this year are Dorothy Spriggs, senior head yell leader; Celeste Curran and Louise Street, junior yell leaders; and senior yell leaders are Liz Miller and Mary Frances Bond.

After yell leaders for this year were decided upon, Dorothy Spriggs tore the cartilage in one of her dimpled knees and the doctor decreed that she would be unable to engage in the gyrations and contortions that are a necessary part of a yell leader's activities so a special election had to be called to elect a new yell leader.

Mary Frances Bond was elected to replace the disabled head "yeller" but the students wanted Dor-

Second Dance Set By Employees Club

Former Aggies Reunite at Army Hospital

Yellers

Three former students of A&M recently held a reunion at Brooke General Hospital, Fort Sam Houston.

Capt. Richard Alexander, '35, Capt. Hugh F. Hoffman, '46, and First Lt. William H. Vail, '45, were brought together in San Antonio from widely separated areas on the Korean battle front for treatment at the medical center.

Capt. Alexander was a member of the 8th Cavalry Regiment of the 1st Cavalry Division, Capt. Hoffman and Lt. Vail were members of the 5th Cavalry Regiment of the 1st Cavalry Division.

Capt. Alexander, of La Grange, was struck by communist rifle fire on August 2nd and suffered a shattered leg. Capt. Hoffman received numerous shrapnel wounds in his legs on September 19, and Lt. Vail suffered a serious arm when trapped by Rer machine gun fire on July 31.

All three officers are undergoing special treatment including surgery and other medical attention which is necessary to put them back on a general service status.

Capt. Hoffman received a battlefield promotion to his present rank just prior to his injury.

Lt. Vail was wounded in the heavy roll back of United Nations forces, just ten days after landing in Korea from Japan.

Captain Hoffman and Lieutenant Vail are convalescing without being required to remain in bed at the hospital, but Captain Alex-part, from the 30-yard line to the 30-yard line.

Bartosh shot two scoring passes to Morton and Morton also cut loose with an 18-yard touchdown scamper to build up a margin the Horned Frogs never tried too hard to increase over the crippled Red Raiders from Lubbock.

In the opening minute and again in the third period—when it scored—Texas Tech was a serious threat to the Southwest Conference Club. The rest of the time it was held in check by a mixture of regulars and reserves.

TT Lone TD

The Red Raiders lone touchdown came when Pete Edwards sneaked over from the half-yard line at the end of a 70-yard march.

Bartosh's first payoff pitch went for two yards just before the end of the first quarter. His second was for 15 yards early in the second period. Morton finished Texas Christian's scoring a few minutes later.

Homer Ludiker missed his first try for extra point but made good on the last two attempts.

Bartosh didn't play a single down in the second half, but his first half performance was a brilliant display of smart quarterbacking, deadly passing and power running.

Morton was a perfect complement to this triple-threat, adding his own fiery running to glued-finger pass receiving.

Poetry Club Hears Critic From College

The Bryan - College Station Poetry Club met recently at the YMCA with Mrs. F. L. Thomas presiding over the business meeting. The group decided to hold future meetings in the homes and to take ballots for popular choice on poems submitted by members for judging.

Guest critic for the meeting was C. D. Laverty of the A&M English Department. He spoke on "What Poetry Is," emphasizing the definition of poetry. Laverty stressed two points: a poet says the same thing many people think but says it more briefly and that a poem is not great if anyone else could have written it.

Mrs. Thomas presented a book review of "Signature of the Sun," which is an anthology of Southwest verse.

The winners by the judges' choice in the monthly poetry contest were Stella Stuart first prize and book winner; Jessie Merle Franklin, second prize; and Stella Stuart, third place.
