

Circulated to
More than 90% Of College Station's Residents

The Battalion

PUBLISHED IN THE INTEREST OF A GREATER A&M COLLEGE

Nation's Top
Safety Section
Lumberman's 1949 Contest

Number 31: Volume 51

COLLEGE STATION (Aggieland), TEXAS, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1950

Price Five Cents

Foreign Students Observe UN Day, Discuss Home Life

By JOHN WHITMORE

Five foreign students, representing Mexico, Paraguay, India, Iraq, and Pakistan, spoke on different phases of life in their home countries last night in observance of United Nations Day.

The program held in the YMCA Chapel was only one of the many similar celebrations held all over the world in honor of the "fifth birthday" of the World Government.

G. L. Artecona, graduate student from Paraguay, spoke on "Pan Americanism." He related the United States part in working with the other Americas and compared the present foreign policy with that of 25 years ago.

US Influential

The former member of the Paraguayan Legislature, explained the United States influence in providing technical aid in building up railroads, highways, and factories in the Latin American countries.

He also related the Americas to the United Nations. The Americas were built up, with the aid of all nationalities—Indians, Caucasians, Africans. This was the basis of the understanding of the United Nations.

P. V. Popat, graduate student from India, gave a brief history of Ghandi's influence on India and the Far East. Ghandi's philosophy of non-violence, but strength of character, is found in many of the UN policies.

Groudworl laid by the Good

Indo-Chinese Ask Assistance In Red Battle

Saigon, Vietnam, Indo-China, Oct. 25—(AP)—A bid for United Nations intervention in embattled Indo-China came yesterday from North Vietnam's governor, Nguyen Huu Tri.

Considered one of the top administrators in the French-sponsored Bao Dai government of Vietnam, Governor Tri declared in an interview in Hanoi, his capital:

"The Indo-Chinese problem cannot be solved by military action alone. We must have a political solution. The people have always expected the intervention of the United Nations. Sooner or later it must come. We hope the U. N. will interfere energetically. This situation is disastrous for both the French and the Vietnamese people."

The Communist-led Nationalist forces of Ho Chi Minh, who have won control of the frontier zone bordering Communist China by forcing French troops from a half dozen posts, now have detachments within artillery range of Hanoi.

More than 300,000 leaflets asking the Vietnamese people to join Americans in the fight for "peace through prosperity and not misery through terror" were dropped today by Bao Dai's personal two-engine plane on Vietnam's three major cities—Saigon, Hanoi, and Hue. Other thousands were loosed elsewhere as part of a celebration of United Nations Day.

U. N. Flags bedecked Saigon. The leaflets, asking popular backing for the American aid program for Indo-China, were supplied by the Saigon information office of the United States Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA).

French warplanes concentrated on destroying supplies at Langson that French troops were unable to demolish before they abandoned that headquarters frontier city to the Vietnam last Wednesday.

Ex-Student Heads Industrial Editors

J. R. Latimer, '44, staff writer for the Humble Way, has been elected chairman of the Gulf Coast chapter of the Society of Associated Industrial Editors.

The Humble Way is the publication of the Humble Oil and Refining Co.

While a student at A&M, Latimer was editor of the Engineer, a captain in H Coast Artillery, vice-president of the Scholarship Honor Society, a member of the Student Engineering Council, vice-president of the Press Club.

He was also a distinguished student, a member of the Ross Volunteers, and was selected for Who's Who at A&M.

Latimer has returned to A&M several times to speak to groups of engineering and journalism students.

Student Speakers

Photo by Battalion Chief Photographer Sam Molinary

In conjunction with the United Nation's birthday celebration yesterday, five foreign students attending A&M discussed life in their home countries at a program in the YMCA last night. In the usual order, they are Reuben Flores, Mexico; P. V. Lopat, Iraq; M. A. Khan, Pakistan; L. T. Kadry, Iraq; and G. L. Artecona, Paraguay.

Aggies Arrested For Car Painting

Waco, Tex., Oct. 25—(AP)—Some Aggies said some Aggies stole Barney and Bailey from the Baylor campus.

Seven Texas A&M students which Waco police arrested at 1:30 a. m. yesterday on a downtown Waco street said they didn't do it.

They said six members of the Aggie Band came to Waco last week and took the twin bear cubs—mascots of the Baylor football team—from the bear pit on the Baylor campus.

Bailey Returns

Bailey came back about four hours after his capture. But Barney wasn't found until somebody called a Baylor office and said he was tied to a telephone pole on the old Twelfth Street Road in Waco. He was.

A check by Battalion reporters last night revealed that a statement made by A&M students who took the cubs last week was on its way to Baylor officials and student government authorities.

"We did take the bear cub from Baylor, but it was intended strictly as a joke. We had no intention or desire to harm the bear or to deface the campus of Baylor or to destroy any property whatsoever, and to the best of our knowledge and belief we did not harm the bear or deface any property. We returned the bear safe and unmarked, and we repeat that it was meant as a joke and in fun, and we regret any hard feelings that may come from it. We hope the student body of Baylor will go along with us without any hard feelings and consider it in the light that it was meant. We took good care of the little cub while we had him, and that's more than we can say for the bear in regard to us."

"We sincerely hope the students of Baylor will know that they are welcome on our campus and that there was no malice whatever in bringing the bear to our campus for a visit. Certainly there was no spirit of retaliation as the result of a couple of Aggies having fared badly on the Baylor Campus just previous to our taking the bear. As a matter of fact, we did not know about this affair until later, and we had planned getting the bear sometime before that."

"The above statement is true and correct to the best of our knowledge."

Texas A&M plays Baylor Saturday in Waco. And it's Baylor homecoming, too.

These seven Aggies police picked up today—they were caught painting a sign in lamplack in the middle of a downtown Waco street. All they had painted was "beat" when a police car and a load of Baylor students found them.

The Baylor students offered to pay the Aggies' fines and be responsible for their custody, but police were suspicious of the offer and decided h-u-h.

The Aggies stayed in the city jail until morning when City Judge Wayne Lee released them with a warning that they would have to pay if two cars found painted up were damaged. The cars, parked on a street, had been decorated with "Beat the hell out of Baylor" in shoe polish.

Police got the tip on the Aggies being in town when an all-night grocery called them and said a bunch of students had just bought a lot of shoe polish.

Cub Too Rough

The Aggies said that the cub-nappers stole the cubs in burlap sacks, but Bailey escaped. They took Barney to College Station, they said, but found he was too rough and ate too much, so they brought him back.

Let's all be calm and not take any reprisals, President W. R. White of Baylor, urged his students, "I admonish all Baylor students to keep their spirit on a high plane and then display it on the football field Saturday."

Members of the team which was the first team from A&M entered in a wool judging contest were Dale Malechek of Van Court, Bert Gibbs of Justin, and Jim Bob Steen of Goldthwaite.

The A&M Meats judging team placed seventh in the inter-collegiate meat judging contest. The team placed sixth in lamb grading, second in lamb judging and third in pork judging.

Douglas Wythe of Granbury, Paul Weyerts of Alpine, and John Sugarek of Skirmore, compose the team.

ernment authorities.

Their statement read:

"We did take the bear cub from Baylor, but it was intended strictly as a joke. We had no intention or desire to harm the bear or to deface the campus of Baylor or to destroy any property whatsoever, and to the best of our knowledge and belief we did not harm the bear or deface any property. We returned the bear safe and unmarked, and we repeat that it was meant as a joke and in fun, and we regret any hard feelings that may come from it. We hope the student body of Baylor will go along with us without any hard feelings and consider it in the light that it was meant. We took good care of the little cub while we had him, and that's more than we can say for the bear in regard to us."

"We sincerely hope the students of Baylor will know that they are welcome on our campus and that there was no malice whatever in bringing the bear to our campus for a visit. Certainly there was no spirit of retaliation as the result of a couple of Aggies having fared badly on the Baylor Campus just previous to our taking the bear. As a matter of fact, we did not know about this affair until later, and we had planned getting the bear sometime before that."

"The above statement is true and correct to the best of our knowledge."

Texas A&M plays Baylor Saturday in Waco. And it's Baylor homecoming, too.

These seven Aggies police picked up today—they were caught painting a sign in lamplack in the middle of a downtown Waco street. All they had painted was "beat" when a police car and a load of Baylor students found them.

The Baylor students offered to pay the Aggies' fines and be responsible for their custody, but police were suspicious of the offer and decided h-u-h.

The Aggies stayed in the city jail until morning when City Judge Wayne Lee released them with a warning that they would have to pay if two cars found painted up were damaged. The cars, parked on a street, had been decorated with "Beat the hell out of Baylor" in shoe polish.

Police got the tip on the Aggies being in town when an all-night grocery called them and said a bunch of students had just bought a lot of shoe polish.

Cub Too Rough

The Aggies said that the cub-nappers stole the cubs in burlap sacks, but Bailey escaped. They took Barney to College Station, they said, but found he was too rough and ate too much, so they brought him back.

Let's all be calm and not take any reprisals, President W. R. White of Baylor, urged his students, "I admonish all Baylor students to keep their spirit on a high plane and then display it on the football field Saturday."

Members of the team which was the first team from A&M entered in a wool judging contest were Dale Malechek of Van Court, Bert Gibbs of Justin, and Jim Bob Steen of Goldthwaite.

The A&M Meats judging team placed seventh in the inter-collegiate meat judging contest. The team placed sixth in lamb grading, second in lamb judging and third in pork judging.

Douglas Wythe of Granbury, Paul Weyerts of Alpine, and John Sugarek of Skirmore, compose the team.

ernment authorities.

Their statement read:

"We did take the bear cub from Baylor, but it was intended strictly as a joke. We had no intention or desire to harm the bear or to deface the campus of Baylor or to destroy any property whatsoever, and to the best of our knowledge and belief we did not harm the bear or deface any property. We returned the bear safe and unmarked, and we repeat that it was meant as a joke and in fun, and we regret any hard feelings that may come from it. We hope the student body of Baylor will go along with us without any hard feelings and consider it in the light that it was meant. We took good care of the little cub while we had him, and that's more than we can say for the bear in regard to us."

"We sincerely hope the students of Baylor will know that they are welcome on our campus and that there was no malice whatever in bringing the bear to our campus for a visit. Certainly there was no spirit of retaliation as the result of a couple of Aggies having fared badly on the Baylor Campus just previous to our taking the bear. As a matter of fact, we did not know about this affair until later, and we had planned getting the bear sometime before that."

"The above statement is true and correct to the best of our knowledge."

Texas A&M plays Baylor Saturday in Waco. And it's Baylor homecoming, too.

These seven Aggies police picked up today—they were caught painting a sign in lamplack in the middle of a downtown Waco street. All they had painted was "beat" when a police car and a load of Baylor students found them.

The Baylor students offered to pay the Aggies' fines and be responsible for their custody, but police were suspicious of the offer and decided h-u-h.

The Aggies stayed in the city jail until morning when City Judge Wayne Lee released them with a warning that they would have to pay if two cars found painted up were damaged. The cars, parked on a street, had been decorated with "Beat the hell out of Baylor" in shoe polish.

Police got the tip on the Aggies being in town when an all-night grocery called them and said a bunch of students had just bought a lot of shoe polish.

Aggie Sweetheart To Be Chosen

Corps Trip Plans Take Shape

Double Sweetheart Presentation Homecoming Activities Scheduled

Delegations from A&M and SMU talked Corps Trip with Dallas City Officials yesterday. And plans for the Armistice Day meeting of the two schools began taking rapid shape.

Besides the Cotton Bowl clash of two teams presently among the top ten in the nation (according to Williamson), the Nov. 11 weekend will include a parade by each of the schools and a dance with music by Ray McKinley and Co.

Preliminary details were mapped out in Dallas' City Hall by Inspector Flay D. Nelson of the Traffic Section of the Dallas Police Department; Bill Bumpas, '46, president of the Dallas A&M Club; Dean Rich of SMU; B. C. Goodwin, SMU Student Council president; Bob Brown, Homecoming Chairman at SMU, and a five-man A&M delegation.

The parade by both schools will be the first official event of the week-end. The Cadet Corps march down Main Street will be followed by an SMU Homecoming Parade. Tentatively, the Corps will assemble at the foot of Main to the Triple Underpass at 9 p. m. The band will move out at 10 sharp. As in previous years a reviewing stand will be located in front of the City Hall.

Combined Parade

Immediately trailing the Aggie march will be the SMU procession of bands and floats heralding the Homecoming. The combined schools parade should consume about an hour and a half.

In keeping with the traditions of Armistice Day observance, the SMU line of march has planned a simultaneous halt at 10:58 a. m. At that time Taps will be played over a loudspeaker located atop the Mercantile National Bank Building in tribute to those who have died in the two past World Wars. The march will be resumed at 11:01.

All Aggies and all Tessesies, who will be Co-Corps Tripping, have been invited to the SMU Homecoming Dance at 8:30 Saturday night in the Agricultural Building at Fair Park. Ray McKinley and his orchestra will play for dancing amid a circle of the SMU floats.

Tickets for this dance are now being sold by the A&M Student Senate. Bill Parse, Senate president who is handling the sale of the tickets, says that only students properly identified as Aggies, Tessesies or Southern Methodist students will be admitted. This does not, of course, bar dates who may be members of neither of the schools.

Sweetheart Presentation

At the football game in the afternoon, the Aggie Sweetheart will be presented. The A&M Band will, during its half-time march, play the traditional heart and play "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" while Miss A&M of 1950 gets the also-traditional kiss and bouquet of roses.

SMU will present its Homecoming Queen during half-time after parading its floats around the Cotton Bowl.

For early-comers, SMU has extended an invitation to "The Pigskin Review" being held on the Dallas campus Thursday and Friday nights. A type of variety show, the review is always held in conjunction with homecoming. There will also be dancing Friday night in the SMU Student Center.

Members of the A&M delegation who made the trip yesterday were Col. M. P. Bowden, assistant commander; A. D. Martin, colonel of the corps; Bill Parse, president of the Student Senate; Ferris Brown, corps information officer and Dave Coslett, public information officer.

Spanish Club Picks Officers for Term

Wendy Elliot, senior modern language major from Laredo, was elected president of the A&M Spanish club at the recent meeting.

Other officers chosen were Vice President David Sechelski, modern language major from Anderson; Secretary E. Graham Martin, history major from Dallas; Treasurer Jimmy Sparkman, geology major from San Antonio; and Reporter Tommy Martinez, modern language major from Port Arthur.

Two Admitted To Bryan Hospitals

Two College Station residents were admitted to Bryan hospitals for treatment yesterday.

Ralph H. Shuffler Jr. of 408 Throckmorton, underwent surgical treatment, according to a report from Bryan Hospital.

St. Joseph Hospital reported that an 8 pound, 12 1/4 ounce baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Bryant. Bryant is a junior electrical engineering major.

Twelve Man Selection Committee Leaves for TSCW Tomorrow

The 1950-51 Aggie Sweetheart will be chosen this week-end in Denton by a special selection committee composed of eight corps members and four civilian students.

She, as her predecessor last year, Jeannine Holland, will be presented between halves of the A&M-SMU game on the Corps Trip and will represent the College at such functions as Round-Up this Spring at the University of Texas and at the Cotton Bowl Ball on New Year's Day in Dallas.

The Sweetheart will be one of 12 nominees elected by the TSCW student Body last week, four representing each of the top three classes.

Committee members will be looking for the girl with personality as well as looks, according to Ken Schaake, head of the Aggie delegation. She must be attractive as well as friendly, he added. Announcement of the winner's name will probably be given sometime next week in a joint news release from TSCW and A&M.

Committee Members

Members of the committee are A. D. Martin, cadet colonel of the corps; Dare Keelan, president of the Senior Class; Bill Parse, president of the Student Senate; Karl Meyers, Senate Social Committee member; and George Charlton, Commentator co-editor. Other members are Tom Flukinger, member of Senate Social Committee; W. D. "Pusher" Barnes, Student Life Committee member; Bob Allen, non-corps vice president of the Senior Class; Allan Eubank, member of the Senate Social Committee; Roy Nance, editor of Aggie-land '51; Joe Fuller, member of the Senate social committee; and Schaake.

The ratio of corps-civilian students was determined by the percentage of the two groups in the student body.

Schaake, as social secretary of the Senior Class, automatically assumes chairmanship of the group which leaves tomorrow afternoon for Denton. Tomorrow night, the committee members are guests of TSCW, and the 12 beauty nominees will attend a dinner and get acquainted session shortly after arrival.

Shoemaker To Speak To QB Club Thursday

Color movies of the A&M-TCU game, a talk by Aggie Freshman Coach Perron Shoemaker, and the awarding of prizes to the winners of last week's contest will highlight the program for The Battalion Quarterback Club when it meets Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the Assembly Hall.

Ralph L. Terry Jr., sociology major from Brownwood, winner of last week's contest will receive two tickets to this week's game with Baylor. Second place prize, being offered for the first time this season, is a Frank Medico Pipe Smoking Kit to Fred H. Dunn Jr., pre-med major from Dallas.

The kit contains two pipes and three boxes of Medico Filters. This prize will be awarded to the second best guesser for the remainder of the club's meetings.

Advertising space purchased by Bryan businessmen, who are interested in furthering team support and interest, make it possible for The Battalion to sponsor the club and contest.

QB Advertisers

These businessmen and their business are Ralph Stacy, Kelly's Restaurant; Joe Faulk, Lack's Associate Store; J. C. Hotard, Hotard's Cafeteria; Johnny Morrell and J. E. Clayton, Texas Drive-in; Marshall Bullock and Guy Sims, Bullock & Sims Clothing; Charlie Cade, Bryan Motors; Sanitary Dairies; Charlie Potts, Potts Jewelry Store; S. Peters, Peters Music Store; and Parker-Astin Hardware Store.

"Bully" Gilstrap of the University of Texas coaching staff and "Dog" Dawson, Aggie end coach are slated to appear at the Nov. 2, meeting of the club.

Movies of the Aggie's preceding Saturday's game are shown at all meetings in addition to having guest speakers.

Phrasing of the dispatch by ADN, virtually the official voice of Soviet occupation forces in East Germany, indicated the troops already were on the march to Tibet.

"Officers and men and members of the Communist party of the advancing army units are asked to fulfill their task and thereby demonstrate their deep sympathy for the revolution," and quoted the new China News Agency.

The dispatch followed by a few hours the report from New Delhi, India, that a Tibetan delegation from the priest-ruled country was leaving for the capital of Red China tomorrow to seek negotiations in Peiping.

The Tibetan delegation has been in New Delhi for months attempting to reach an accord with the Red Chinese.

Visit for Info, Sheriff Says

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 25—(AP)—The El Paso Herald-Post said yesterday that border town residents registered no apparent reaction to Sheriff Joe Campbell's week-end visit in Los Angeles with gambler Mickey Cohen.

"If more sheriffs would mingle with gamblers, they would find out more about gamblers' activities," Campbell said.

That was the El Paso County Sheriff's reply to questions about his week-end visit with Cohen. The sheriff and Mrs. Campbell went night clubbing with Cohen and his wife and had the use of Cohen's automobile and chauffeur.

A reporter asked whether Campbell thought the Cohen episode might hurt him politically.

"I'm not now and never have been interested in politics," he said. His term as sheriff expires Jan. 1 and Campbell said he will not ask re-election.

Texas peace officers hustled Cohen out of several cities during a recent trip by the little gambler to this state.

Cohen later told Los Angeles newsmen that Campbell "was the only guy who treated me decent in the whole state of Texas."

75th Anniversary Medallions Here

The Exchange Store now has in stock 5,000 bronze medallions commemorating the 75th anniversary of the college, according to manager Carl Birdwell.

The medallions, slightly larger than a half-dollar in size, will retail at fifty cents each.

The Student Senate has accepted sponsorship of the sale and all members will be supplied with medallions to sell. Approximately 25 cents of each sale will go to the Student Senate.

Bill Parse, president of the Student Senate, says 75 percent of the profits will be used for the 12th Man Scholarship and the remaining 25 percent will go to the Campus Chest.

The college also has a limited quantity of solid gold medallions for presentation purposes.

Gov. Allan Shivers received the first of these during the anniversary ceremonies at Kyle Field, Oct. 4.