Bears Will Be Aggies' Host in Saturday Tilt

Baylor, In 2nd SWC Game, Going All Out for Victory

By Roger Coslett

COACH GEORGE SAUER'S Baylor Bears play host to those rough and up-coming Texas Aggies this Saturday in their annual Homecoming game on the turf of their spanking new Baylor Stadium.

The meeting will mark Baylor's second conference start for the season. And you can bet they will forget their manners as hosts and go all out for their first conference win.

Their previous conference loss to the Arkansas Razorbacks, 27-6, upped their loss total to two. They opened their season by being edged by Wyoming at Laramie, Wyo.

On the winning side of the ledger they have victories over the University of Houston, Mississippi State College and last week's 26-12 drubbing of Texas Tech.

Baylor will be seeking their third straight win from the Cadets. The last time A&M took the Bears was on Kyle Field in '47 by a score of 24-0. The Bruins were on the long end of a 20-14 count in '48 and succeeded in taking the Ags again in '49 by a 21-0 score.

All told the Baylor Bears have won 11, lost 29 and tied 6 in their 46 meetings with the Aggies. Their teams were held scoreless 23 times by the Aggies and in turn have blanketed the Cadets eight times in a series of games that dates back to 1899.

Baylor's Green and Gold clad warriors will be out to increase the winning side of their ledger at the expense of Aggie coach Harry Stiteler's Maroon and White Cadets.

On the whole, the Bears can be judged something like this:

End play—just as good as expected. Bob Trout has done a fine job replacing the injured Williams during the last two games.

Tackles—progressing as hoped for. The defensive men have been particularly impressive.

Guards—just a bit stronger than expected. Bill Athey, a sophomore, and transfer John Hancock have added quite a bit of strength.

Center—Gale Galloway doing a commendable job and serious about improvement. Jack Sisco, Danny Cochrane and Glen Taylor able reserves.

Quarterback—Isbell appears to have found himself. Associated Press describes his play in Mississippi's game, "He was a Houdini-like ball handler and passing wizard."

Halfbacks—Jim Jeffrey and Don Carpenter still holding down fine. Jeffrey and fullback Frank Boydston are work-horses of running game.

Fullback—Boydston very capable on both offense and defense. Richard Parma, Arthur Sweet and Ken Scarborough spell him briefly on offense.

Place kicks—Hank Dickerson doing very well; he's been doing the job for four years.

Punting—best in Southwest Conference.
