Arena Builders

Finishing touches are being applied to the new Rodeo Arena which will be completed for the first All Aggie Rodeo Friday and Saturday. The new arena is located West of the railroad tracks across from the ball parks. Lending a hand in the construction are in the usual order, Jess Carpenter, Gus Wheeler, Bill Ketchum, Bob McGuire and Charles Thomas (behind the gate), Jackie Longbotham, Pat Mitchell, president of the Aggie Rodeo Club, Clyde Martin, and Satch Smith (standing on platform).

29th Annual Aggie Rodeo To Open Chutes Friday

By SID ABERNATHY
What promises to be one of the wildest, roughest, and most enjoyable rodeos ever held at A&M will unfold Friday night at 8 p.m. when the chutes of the new rodeo arena swing open for the 29th Annual All Aggie Rodeo.

Riders a hard, interesting tussle. Bareback riding, saddle bronc riding, steer dogging, calf roping, bull riding, wild cow milking, specialty acts, and the famous and familiar performers at all rodeos—the rodeo clowns—will combine to furnish rodeo fans with a night of wild, woolly, and weird entertainment.

of their off hours to construction of the arena. Practically every hour of the day a number of men clad in blue jeans or overalls can be found sweating under the load of heavy work.

Vanity Fair, Favorite Pics Still Needed

Vanity Fair and Senior Favorite pictures are still needed for the Aggie, according to Jim Modlin, associate editor Aggieand 1950. To date very few pictures have been turned in, Modlin said. All entries should be turned in to Student Activities in Goodwin Hall. Six girls will be selected from all entries by a national celebrity yet to be named. Winners will be presented to the student body at some major Spring social event.

A second performance is slated for Saturday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. It will be over in plenty of time for the night football game with Arkansas.

Although most of the work is completed, Pat Mitchell, president of the Texas Aggie Rodeo Association, says there is still work for those men willing and able to work.

Smitham '15 Dies After Long Illness

Verner R. Smitham, an A & M graduate and former Farm Security Administration director, died yesterday.

Work on the new arena, located West of the baseball field and across the railroad tracks, was begun about the middle of September and has been going at a fast clip ever since.

The meeting will be held in the YMCA.

A&M Club Slates Sports Banquet

The Brazos County A&M Club's annual Winter Sports Banquet honoring A&M's football and cross country lettermen will be held at Shisa Hall the night of Jan. 6, 1951.

Community Chest collections will start Nov. 20, announced CC Secretary John B. Longley this morning.

Aggies, are you a social leper instead of a social lion just because some narrow minded young lady objects to your crushing her toes every time you take her dancing?

Ex-Student Assigned To Carswell Air Base

Second Lt. Kenneth W. Hendricks, an A&M graduate, has been assigned to the 7th Bomb Wing at Carswell Air Force Base, Fort Worth, according to an announcement by Brig. Gen. C. S. Irving, commander.

Smitham '15 became city manager of Lufkin in 1925 and later served as city manager of Big Spring and Wichita Falls.

Do the beautiful young queens register a trapped look on their painted faces instead of a look of breathless adoration when you invite them to trip the light fantastic?

Bruised Aggies Meet Arkansas In Title Decider

By Frank N. Manitzas
Battalion Sports Editor

A badly bruised Aggie team will take on the Arkansas Razorbacks this Saturday night at 8 on Kyle Field when the two elevens meet for the 23rd time.

Arkansas bowed out of the race two weeks ago, falling to Texas University, 14-19. They lost this past Saturday to Vanderbilt, 13-14.

At Baylor's homecoming last Saturday, the Bears ended their weekend of events with a 27-20 victory over the Aggies.

Stiteler didn't mean that the Bears' attack was old fashioned, not by a long shot. They passed all over the field using wide open tactics with Quarterback Larry Isbell starring for the Bruins.

Five Fumbles—Hurt
Five fumbles and three pass interceptions put the Cadets on the road to ruin and gave the Bears the needed opportunities to score.

Garland Etie, business administration major, was hospitalized at Liberty with fractured ribs and possible head injuries.

His wife, also employed as librarian at A&M, was hospitalized with a fractured right thigh, right arm, right hand, and cheek bone.
