

Five Fumbles Hurt Aggies In Losing To Baylor, 20-27

After the Cadets again gained possession of the ball they worked themselves from their own 35 to Baylor's 12 where a fumble stopped the forward progress. But after a series of downs, Baylor had to kick and A&M used seven plays to go 68 yards for a score.

Lippman went for 10, Billy Tidwell for eight, and Smith cracked the line for 13. Lippman again carried the ball, this time for five, and after an incomplete Gardemal thrown pass intended for Hodge, Smith made the third first down of the series with a six yard sprint.

The final play was an aerial for 23 yards from Gardemal to Lippman, who crossed the goal for the counter. Hooper's attempted conversion was called wide.

Baylor took the kickoff and after ten plays scored, having covered 36 yards on the ground with the remaining 36 coming through the air. Richard Parma accounted for 32 of the yards on the ground, and Buddy Parker caught the final pass, crossing into the end zone for the TD. Hank Dickerson's attempted after-point-touchdown boot was no good.

Again the Cadets carried the pigskin into Baylor territory only to fumble with the Green and Gold recovering. A 41-yard pass play from Isbell to End Hal Riley was the fourth play of the series, and the final one needed for Baylor's second counter. This time Dickerson's kick was good, and the score was knotted.

Fumble Gives BU Score

Baylor scored again before the end of the half on another Aggie fumble which was recovered by the opposition on the A&M 17. From there, only four plays were required by Isbell to direct his group across the double stripe as he again threw the needed aerial for the TD, again complete to Parker, and for 13 yards. Dickerson's kick was good. But before the half-time gun sounded, A&M used seven plays to go to Baylor's 17, only to lose the ball again on a fumble.

At halftime, the Aggies rushing alone was greater than both Baylor's passing and running—229 to 225 and the Cadets had another 63 through the air—but trailed 13-20. The third quarter passed with both teams exiting scoreless for the period. A fumble and an intercepted pass, both to the advantage of Baylor, thwarted Aggie scoring attempts.

Another Fumble

The fumble led to Baylor's fourth TD as they recovered the ball on the A&M 36. Jim Jeffrey hit the line for six, and the final yardage came from a pass—Isbell to Riley. The PAT kick was good.

After the Aggies had another pass intercepted, they finally receiving a break.

Jim Flowers, who played a great offensive and defensive game on the line, recovered a fumble on Baylor's 23 from where A&M's third TD march began.

Sikes Directs 3rd TD

Delmar Sikes, who replaced Gardemal at the QB spot, passed to Andy Hillhouse and the aerial was good for 17. Then in three attempts, Bernard Lemmons went across for the counter, and Hooper gained his 26th point-after-touchdown in 23 attempts.

A&M tried vainly in the closing minutes of the game to score, but failed and time ran out with Baylor holding the ball.

In the individual statistic department, Parma gained 113 yards in 19 carries.

Gardemal completed 4 of 6 passes for 63 yards and one touchdown.

Billy Tidwell carried 13 times for 54 yards; Yale Lary carried five times for 31 and had a 38.5 punting average for five boots; Royalty carried three times for 33 yards; Jim Dobbins, 18 yards in five tries; and Lemmons, 23 yards in 7 carries.

Jeffrey carried 12 times for 65 yards and Isbell twice for three. Baylor's coach George Sauer said, "If our team had not been keyed so highly, the Aggies' first touchdown might have broken the players' spirit," while Baylor's line coach added that the Aggies' line was the roughest faced by the Baylor eleven this season.

A & M Women Hear Book Review

"The Edge of Time" by Louisa Grace Erdman was reviewed by Mrs. Calvin Pigg of Bryan for the A&M Women's Social Club Friday afternoon in the ballroom of the MSC. Mrs. Pigg was introduced by Mrs. H. L. Heaton, program chairman.

Members of the organization were invited, at the business meeting, to join a golf-group scheduled to meet Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. Mrs. H. W. Barlow, president, supervised the business meeting.

January 26, 1951 has been designated as the next meeting, at which time the Harmony Choral Club will present a program.

Episcopals Change Meeting Schedule

The Inquirer's Forum and Confirmation Class of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, across the street from the post office in Bryan, will be held at 7:30 p. m. instead of 8 p. m. as of this Monday night, the Rev. Vern Swartsfager, rector, has announced.

Special services of the Holy Eucharist will be celebrated this week at 10 a. m. on Wednesday, All Saints' Day, and on Thursday, All Souls' Day.

The All Souls' Day Requiem will take the place of the usual Saturday Requiem Eucharist this week only. A Prayer Vigil for Christian Peace will take place from 11 p. m. to 7 a. m. in the Bryan Episcopal Church this Friday. Rev. Swartsfager said anyone wishing to pray for peace is cordially invited to attend the informal service and offer prayer.

Fair Prizes Won by College Stationites

Four College Station people were winners at the 18th American Legion Fair in Bryan Saturday afternoon.

Don Draper had a very successful afternoon at the junior livestock auction.

He sold 14 pounds of grand champion friers for $50 to the Caldwell Jewery Store.

His second place light friers brought him 50 cents a pound for 14 pounds from the Brazos Motor Company. Seventeen pounds of second place heavy friers brought Draper $17 from J. B. Lauterstein.

The College Station State Bank paid him a dollar a pound for 25 pounds of third place light friers. Draper's fifth place heavy friers brought him $1.25 per pound from the Brazos Motor Co. for 19 pounds.

The other three College Stationites won honors in the rabbit show.

Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Miller took first place honors with a New Zealand White junior buck, a New Zealand White intermediate doe, and a New Zealand Red junior buck, intermediate and senior does.

Their New Zealand White senior buck and doe took second place, as did their New Zealand Red intermediate doe. Their junior doe took third place for best of breed and opposite sex.

Tom McCall headed the winners of the Champagne De Argents division with "firsts" in the intermediate buck and doe classes.

One of his does was also awarded second in the intermediate doe class. His senior doe class animals took first and third places, as well as best of breed and best opposite sex.

Copy must be turned in by Friday instead of Tuesdays as was formerly done.

"The Round-Up" will be printed at the Bryan Eagle offices in Bryan, and pictures will be made by The Battalion. Miss Bates added that the price will remain the same as before.

Advertisement and table and decoration committees were planned temporarily to be organized later.

Consolidated Bonfire

Flames of Consolidated A&M's initial bonfire blaze skyward Thursday night at the big pre-Consolidated-Bastrop football game yell practice. Although the Aggies came out on the short end of the score, it certainly wasn't because of a lack of spirit on the part of consolidated's students and team. For the better part of an hour the Consolidated partisans yelled and "wildcatted" under the able direction of their attractive yell leaders—Liz Miller, Dorothy Spriggs, Celeste Frances Bond, and Louise Street.

Consolidated Bulletin Issued

A school bulletin giving information about the A&M Consolidated School System is being readied in time to be mailed before the Christmas recess, said Supt. Les Richardson recently.

The bulletin will give parents all information on how the school operates, its history, qualifications, names, and home addresses of teachers, required subjects for high school students, and procedures for writing excused absences.

Other information that will be included are financial statements of the school system, information of library procedures, and procedures of grading, report card information, and disciplinary action taken by the schools.

Beauchamp carrying over right guard.

Outstanding defensive work by Tiger Jack Burchard wasn't enough as the Bears came back to outplay the local aggregation after the initial period.

A recovered Tiger fumble on their own 47 in the middle of the second quarter set up the Bear's first touchdown. Bastrop poured on the power and A. D. Harris went over for the score.

In the third quarter Bear Fullback B. J. Wolf scored twice, while a safety against the Tigers and a Harris tally in the fourth quarter completed the scoring.
