Reds Rout ROK Division; U.S. Aid Rushes In

Seoul, Oct. 30—(AP)—Korean Reds rallied desperately south of the Manchurian border today. They cut up one South Korean division and forced it to flee in disorder. U. S. tanks and artillery were rushed to the critical area—Onjong, in northwest Korea about 45 miles south of the Communist Manchurian frontier. More than 10,000 Communists, reported to include some Chinese Reds, Chopped up one third of the Republic of Korea (ROK) Sixth Division. It was the first sizable defeat in seven weeks for United Nations forces generally advancing toward the Manchurian frontier. Their aim is to clear North Korea before heavier Red resistance can be organized—and before winter's blasts. North Korean women were reported going to the front. On the left flank of the retreating ROK Sixth Division, the Fifth Regiment of the U.S. 24th Division rolled to within 35 miles of the border.

Heavy Weapons
Indicative of the increasing fury of Red resistance was their use of their heaviest weapons, tanks and self-propelled guns. Allied fighters and bombers supporting the American column and the British Commonwealth 27th Brigade on the west coast destroyed 18 tanks and seven guns. Despite the ferocity of the Communist opposition, General MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters noted that "none of the enemy counterattacks was sustained." A spokesman said the Reds are "in a desperate situation." He said the Red attacks in the Onjong sector were stopped except for "a few minor gains." The ROKs are regrouping in that area, he added. A U. S. Eight Army spokesman reported the ROK division's withdrawal was disorganized, and that a third of its strength was lost in three days of fighting.

ROK Regiment
A regiment of the ROK Sixth Division reached the Manchurian frontier Thursday above Chosan. Menaced by the Reds in the rear, it was forced to withdraw to Songna, more than 30 miles south of the Yalu River boundary. To the south, at Onjong, the division's second regiment was surrounded Thursday, the bulk of it wiped out. Two other regiments, the 19th and 10th, were hard hit in trying to rescue the survivors of the second regiment. South Korean commanders said Chinese Communist officers led the Red force.

Question of Red China
Intelligence officers in Tokyo, however, continued to insist there was no evidence of open intervention by Red China in the Korean war.

At Wonsan, a U. S. 10th Corps spokesman disclosed for the first time that some Chinese troops had been captured during the Inchon west coast landings in mid-September in the drive on Seoul, the Republic capital. The spokesman said "apparently they are the scum of the Chinese Communist army sent down as individual replacements for the North Koreans. It does not mean large-scale Chinese intervention." He said Chinese air strikes doubtless would precede any large scale use of Chinese army units. "We will know it right away—and not from a couple of prisoners—if they do come into this war," the spokesman added.

New Activities Handbook Off Presses

The Student Activities Handbook, containing the first and second semester calendar of events and thorough coverage of the large and widely varied program of student activities will soon be available. Distribution will start Tuesday afternoon with the First Sgt. and housemasters handling the distribution, C. G. "Spike" White, assistant dean of men in charge of student activities announced. The handbook contains the first and second semester calendar of events and a thorough coverage of the large and widely varied program of student activities. Starting with entertainment, the handbook describes the programs and policies of the Guion Hall Theater, the Grove, and the Town Hall Series.

Rules of play and a complete description of the new Golf Course, including a map, are included. Intramural athletics are covered completely with rules of all intramural play as well as the managerial system of intramural athletics. Intramural records of both upperclassmen and freshmen are included in the handbook. A description of Music Activities on the campus, the Singing Cadets, the Aggieband Orchestra, and the Aggie Band, is also included. Several pages on Organizational Activities and Student Publications round out the handbook.

No Ducats Left For SMU Contest
Those who have not yet attained tickets to the Aggie-Mustang grid classic scheduled in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas Nov. 11 will not be able to get contest ducats through the regular channels, Howard Nelson, A&M ticket manager said today. This does not include Student tickets. There may be a few tickets left in Dallas, but the Aggies' supply is sold out for the 80,000 seat stadium, Nelson concluded.

Sex of One, Half Dozen of the Other

Gen. Eisenhower's Speech May be on National Hook Up

By DALE WALSTON
Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's speech at the inauguration of Dr. M. T. Harrington, as president of the college will tentatively be broadcast by the National Broadcasting Company over a coast to coast hook up. The broadcast, as planned, will begin promptly at 3:45 p. m., J. J. Woolket, program chairman has announced. Although no public announcement has been made concerning plans for the ceremony, Woolket's office has been swamped with mail during recent weeks from people desiring information on the proceedings, indicating a great deal of interest on the part of the general public.

Delegates Register
As currently planned, the program will begin at 9 a. m. on Nov. 9, with a registration of all delegates and guests in the Memorial Student Center. At 9:40 all classes will be dismissed for the remainder of the day.

Registration will continue until 12 noon, with a parade of the Corps of Cadets on the Main Drill Field at 10:30 a. m. Bleachers to seat 1,000 visitors have been erected on the drill field through the efforts of the 75th Anniversary Committee. Hannah to Speak
Dr. John Hannah of Michigan State University will be guest speaker.

Also to be present at the meeting are 320 delegates from colleges, universities, professional organizations, officers of the Association of Former Students and the Federation of A&M Mothers Clubs, representatives of the A&M student body, state congressmen and representatives, judges, the Texas Secretary of States, the Board of Directors and other officers of A&M, and the former Deans and Presidents of the College. H. L. Heaton, A&M registrar, will preside over the banquet. The Rev. A. C. Harvey, pastor of the St. Thomas Episcopal Church, will deliver the invocation. The program will begin with Mrs. Robert W. Butler as musical soloist, followed by a choral number by the Singing Cadets. After the main speech by Dr. Hannah, M. L. Cashion will say the benediction. The lunch is open to the public, and admission price is $2 a plate.

ID Cards Required For Game Admittance
Students must present their season tickets intact and their I. D. cards to gain admittance to the Arkansas football game or any athletic contest. Students will not be admitted on stubs from coupon books, announced Barlow Irwin Director of Athletics.

Michigan University President to Speak

A nationally recognized educator will share speaking honors with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower inauguration ceremonies of Dr. M. T. Harrington as president of the college. He is Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State College and immediate past president of the American Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities. He will speak at a luncheon preceding the Nov. 9 inauguration of Dr. Harrington as A&M's twelfth president. A student of educational methods the world over, Dr. Hannah has been instrumental in the growth of Michigan State College from a small agricultural school of 3,272 students in 1932 to a prospering institution with an enrollment of 16,000 students. He was responsible for the institution in 1944 of the Basic College, a fundamental two-year program of general education similar to the Basic Division established at Texas A&M College this year, and for the expansion of the college's curricula to some 70 fields of study under six major schools.

Practice Review Slated
A practice review for the whole Corps will be held Wednesday, November 1, from 4 to 6 p. m. Following the review, the entire corps will march to Kyle Field to practice the Aggie "Y". A second practice review will be held November 8.

Dr. John A. Hannah

Fuller, Ingles Elected to Head MSC Council

By CLAYTON SELPH
Joe Fuller senior civil engineering student of Law Hall, and R. A. Ingles, junior business major of A Armor, were elected last night to head the Memorial Student Center Council as president and vice-president for the 1950-51 school year. Elected by the 13-man Council in a close race with MSC Councilmen LeVon Massengale and Dan Davis, the two will be the official student heads of the Center. Until tonight's election, chairman of the group was Dr. John H. Quisenberry, who was appointed by the president of the college to head the joint student-faculty composed council. Fuller is Co-chairman
For the remainder of the year, Fuller will serve as president and co-chairman of the Council with Quisenberry.

Filing Begins For Freshman Class Offices

Candidates began filing Monday for offices to be filled in the class of '54 elections to be held Wednesday, Nov. 1, from 8 to 10 p. m. Nine students have filed for various positions so far. Members of the class of '54 interested in entering the race must file their applications in the student activities office before 5 p. m. Tuesday, Oct. 31. All freshmen are eligible for candidacy. Those whose names have been filed for the presidency are George D. Kilpatrick, accounting major from Pampa; Ray Downey, architecture major from Dallas; Alan G. Little, San Antonio ME major; Thomas Clemens, agriculture major from Shamrock; and Walter W. Uzman, pre-vet student from Houston. Candidates for vice-president and treasurer have no opponents as yet. They are Charles C. Neighbors, business administration major from Stamford, Conn., for vice-president, and Charles G. Andres, San Antonio business major, for treasurer.

Next year, the student president alone will preside over the council. Last night's election marks the first time a student has been named to head a joint student-faculty legislative body of any major importance at A&M. In the past, joint groups have had faculty chairmen. The new officers will maintain an office located in the MSC lower level just across from the Browning Library. Officers' Duties
Besides their primary duty of presiding over the Council, their activities will include co-ordinating, stimulating, and advising the various student organizations sponsored by the MSC. In addition, they will serve as official student hosts for all official and unofficial activities in the Center. In an advisory capacity, the two will serve as a liaison between the student body and the director of the Center. Approval of the MSC Constitution by President M. T. Harrington and the MSC Board was confirmed by Chairman Quisenberry at the outset of last night's meeting. Confirmation of the constitution cleared the way for the election of officers.

15-Man Council
The constitution provides for a 15-man Council with membership designed to represent the large student, former student, and faculty groups concerned with the Center. Next year's Council will consist of four members elected by the outgoing Council from its membership and the Memorial Student Center Directorate (the presidents of the various MSC activities); one member of the Student Senate, the editor or co-editors of The Battalion sharing one vote; five faculty members to be appointed by the president of the college, two former students; and two students to be elected at-large by the student body.

Practice Review Slated
A practice review for the whole Corps will be held Wednesday, November 1, from 4 to 6 p. m. Following the review, the entire corps will march to Kyle Field to practice the Aggie "Y". A second practice review will be held November 8.

Selectors and Selectees

The Aggie Sweetheart Selection Committee paused long enough Thursday night from an evening of dancing and getting acquainted to pose for the photographer. The smiles faded when the lads found out what a tough job it is to pick a sweetheart. Seated left to right are Betty Ann Timmerman, Nancy Coolidge, Carole Perkins, Carrie Fenichis, Marianne Souders, Nan Hassler and Johnnie Neal. Standing in the same order are Dare Keelan, Wilman D. "Pusher" Barnes, Roy Nance, Ina Hubbard, Tom Flukinger, "Dot" Mangum, Kenneth Shaake, Joe Fuller, "Bejay" Slaughter, George Charlton, Allen "Spider" Eubank, Martha Gill, Karl Meyers, Bill Parse, Bob Allen and A. D. Martin.

$11,000 Goal... Chest Collections Begin Thursday

The College Station Community Chest gets underway Thursday with a goal of $11,000 set for the 1950 campaign. H. G. Johnston, chairman of the College Community Chest Committee, announced the amounts allocated to the various organizations after hearing their requests for Red Feather money at a meeting Thursday night. Receiving the largest allotments of the 1950 fund will be the Boy Scouts of America and the Girl Scouts of America in Brazos County with $2000 each. The College Station Youth Committee follows with $1250, and the Tuberculosis Association, College Station Recreation Committee, and the local Community Chest Polio Fund will get $1000 each.

$300 for Cancer
$300 of this year's Red Feather money has been appropriated for the Cancer Society, with an equal amount going to the College YMCA. The Salvation Army has been approved for a $250 amount and a remaining $75 will go to pay for paper, postage, and clerical help in conducting the campaign. In the college, collections will be made through the different departments by the department heads. Other solicitations will be made by several committeemen who will contact people in the business area and offices in town, although no door to door drive will be conducted. (See CHEST, Page 4)

preme allied commander in Europe. Notables from all parts of the United States are expected to attend the ceremony, delegates to which will wear caps and gowns. The Aggie Band will provide music for the ceremony. A review of the corps of cadets at 10:30 a. m. will honor General Eisenhower.

Kuers Will Speak To SAM Tonight

Marvin M. Kuers, '44, will speak to the Society for Advancement of Management, tonight at 7:30 p. m. in the Conference Room of the MSC. Kuers who is now employed as a special service engineer with the Texas Employers Insurance Association, will speak on "The Problems Confronting the Engineer When He First Enters Industry." Kuers was graduated from A&M in 1949 with a BS degree in Management Engineering.
