

Cotton Bowl Ticket Sale Orders to Start Nov. 1-4

Only Rusty Russell's Mustangs at Southern Methodist remained undefeated at the end of the sixth week of play and next Saturday's grid classics should give good indication of who is to play in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 1.

Six remaining members of the SWC have fallen into the losing column in one conference melee, but still there is no assurance that any one of these will not be a top contender for the New Year's Day battle. Next Saturday will indicate, but it may take a month before the SWC champion is technically determined.

Cotton Bowl Athletic Association officials are readying their special staff for the anticipated deluge of bowl applications that will come in the mail stamped to start Wednesday.

Order Nov. 1 to 4

That's when applications will be received for tickets for the Dallas gridiron classic.

More than 100,000 are certain to come in within the four days allotted—Nov. 1 to Nov. 4 inclusive.

Southern Methodist, the only undefeated, united team left in the Southwest Conference, meets Texas at Austin Saturday in the game generally expected to decide the championship. The conference title automatically is host team in the Cotton Bowl.

Texas, although once defeated, is unbeaten in conference play—the only team other than SMU with such a record.

Preferential List

By Nov. 15 teams still left in the running for the conference championship are to submit preferential lists—teams they will be willing to play in the event they get into the Cotton Bowl.

Oklahoma is considered No. 1 on the list if it is Southern Methodist, with an excellent chance of the Sooners coming here. If it's Texas, chances are not considered too bright since Oklahoma already has played Texas in the Cotton Bowl this season and beat the Longhorns 14-13.

Applications for Cotton Bowl tickets will be accepted only by mail and in the period designated—Nov. 1 to Nov. 4. When all applications have been received, a drawing will be held to determine the order in which they will be filled. Unfilled applications will be returned to the senders.

Four Ticket Maximum

No application will be accepted for more than four tickets. Checks or money orders must accompany all applications. Each ticket is $4.80 and a 25-cent mailing fee must be added for each application. Applications are to go to the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association, 1343 National City Building, Dallas 1, Texas.—Based on AP Reports.

I Shot, He Shot Warden Fined

Clifton, N. J., (AP)—Four Newark, N. J., men went deer hunting last year on Newark watershed property in nearby West Milford. They spotted one. Shots rang out and a deer fell dead.

But, before they could claim their prize, a game warden and his deputy stepped up, said they fired the telling shot and carted off the carcass.

Feeling cheated, Don Carloti, Harry Sealione, Guido Baldecchi and Arthur Chervier took the case to court. They wanted a deer or a worthy facimile.

Yesterday they got $118 from a jury. The wardens had not right to hunt while on duty, the jury said, and they didn't have the right hunting permit anyhow.

Southwest Conference Ramblings

This coming Saturday will be packed with SWC grid contests that should furnish the answer to the Cotton Bowl problem. Along with that, it should afford those partisans of various Texas colleges an insight as to just how their team will stack up at the end of the 1950 campaign.

In the Aggies camp, where Coach Harry Stiteler's Cadets are still smarting from a 27-20 upset at the hands of Baylor, there was still an unanswered question yesterday: Will Bruis'n' Bob Smith, A&M's All-America fullback candidate, be available for Saturday's contest with Arkansas?

The Bruis'n' Houstonian has a broken nose and Trainer Bill Dayton said he hoped Smith could wear a special head gear which would allow him to play some.

Some 20 odd players were on the slightly bruised list yesterday and went through only light workouts. Halfback Billy Tidwell, the SWC leading ball carrier, has a back injury that kept him from practice and may keep him on the sidelines Saturday.

Before practice yesterday the Aggies looked at movies of last week's game with Baylor, and Stiteler pointed out their mistakes.

Fayetteville, Ark., Oct. 31—Coach Otis Douglas is apparently well satisfied with the one point loss to Vanderbilt and worked only on split T plays yesterday afternoon in a light signal drill.

The Arkansas Razorbacks are expected to throw more of their new Z formation against A&M Saturday night on Kyle Field, but are anticipating to do this minus the assistance of Halfback Ray Parks, who is still on the doubtful list.

Trainer Bill Ferrell said that Halfback Sammy Furo, who has been out most of the season, and defensive safety, Johnny Cole, injured a week ago, are ready to go this week.

Dallas, Oct. 31—Southern Methodist University's Mustangs opened the week yesterday with a heavy workout for their crucial Saturday game with Texas at Austin.

That game may settle the Southwest Conference race.

As hard work was resumed after a three-day holiday, the only casualty who missed practice was Senior Bill Cook, 210-pound tackle, out with a sprained ankle.

The Mustangs worked against the T formation attack used by Texas. Coach Rusty Russell was unhappy over some ruggedness in the Mustang's pass defense.

Austin, Tex., Oct. 31—The team that meets SMU in the nation's number one game Saturday took it easy here yesterday.

Blair Cherry's Longhorns saw movies of their four touchdown victories over Rice, then took limbering up drills and polished plays in sweat suits. Barring serious injuries during the rougher drills to come, Texas will be in top physical condition for the Mustangs.

Cherry frankly admitted that his team will concentrate heavily on defense during this week's drills.

Waco, Tex., Oct. 31—Baylor found yesterday that it was in the best physical condition of the season as the Bears opened training for their Southwest Conference game Saturday at Fort Worth against TCU.

Only End Bob Trout was out of action. He received a pulled leg muscle Saturday in the game with Texas A&M.

The Bears were all pepped up over their upset victory over A&M. But Coach George Sauer warned them that TCU would be tough.

Fort Worth, Tex., Oct. 31—There was cheering news at TCU yesterday as Coach Dutch Meyer sent his fired-up-for-Baylor football team through long offensive and defensive scrimmages.

There's a chance Gilbert Bartosh, little sophomore quarterback who missed the Mississippi game Saturday, may play against Baylor.

A physician today told Bartosh that after another x-ray treatment tomorrow he should be ready to play.

Dan Wilde still is out because of a back injury and Dexter Bassinger suffered a shoulder injury in the Mississippi game.

Houston, Oct. 31—Rice Coach Jess Neely found a number of badly bruised players yesterday as he checked up after Saturday's 35-7 loss to Texas.

He gave the regulars their usual day of rest but sent the reserves through a long scrimmage.

Halfback Don Campbell has the most serious injury, a badly bruised leg.

Neely said he thinks all his players will be available for Saturday's game with Texas Tech.—Beat Arkansas—

Bob Smith

Cadets Top Offensive Team . . .

Bob Top Rusher, Scorer; Second in Total Offense

A glance at the statistics covering the Southwest Conference teams after the sixth week of play quickly shows that Coach Harry Stiteler's Aggies have added another first place to their war bonnet.

One week ago the Cadets held the lead in team and individual rushing, as well as individual scoring. Today they have increased their rushing along with a pass or two and now enjoy the position of leader in total offense.

In second spot in that column last week, they moved to first place over the Mustangs when Rusty Russell's charges had an open date. The Farmers have a clear 460 yard margin over the nearest opponent, TCU, in net gain rushing and rank last in the passing game, but can combine the two to lead the former offensive kings from SMU by 95 yards.

Smith Still Leads

Though he played but half the game Saturday against Baylor, Bruis'n' Bob Smith presented the Bears with a formidable attack that had them bewildered in the first minutes of the game and carried for a total of 101 yards for the six times that he carried—16.8 per. In six games the 190 pound Hous-ton fullback has logged the pigskin 106 times and amassed a total of 694 yards.

Smith's competitor for top rushing honors is Texas' Byron Townsend, who at present has worked 113 plays and shows a net gain of 504 yards and an average of 4.8 per carry which is considerably

Dub King Goes To Baylor As Publicity Man

Waco, Tex., Oct. 31—(AP)—Baylor Athletic Director George Sauer announced yesterday that William (Dub) King, 33, had accepted the vacant sports publicity job at Baylor University.

King, a former Fort Worth Star Telegram sports writer, announced his resignation as sports publicity director at Texas A&M College Saturday. The resignation is effective Nov. 3.

Sauer said: "We feel fortunate in obtaining the services of a man with the proved ability of Dub King. He will fill the last big gap in our remodeled athletic program. Baylor now has the stadium, the coaching staffs, the teams, and the publicity to continue its march to sports prominence."

At Baylor King succeeds Frank Creasy who went into the Marines about two weeks ago.

SMU Continues As 1st Team In AP Polling

New York, Oct. 31—(AP)—Southern Methodist's unbeaten Mustangs clung to their No. 1 rating among the country's college football teams today as Ohio State vaulted from sixth to fourth and Miami, Princeton and Illinois squeezed into the top ten.

The Southwest Conference leader, despite a Saturday of idleness, remained the top choice of a majority of the 280 sports writers and sportscasters who voted in the fifth weekly Associated Press poll to determine the nation's outstanding team.

The Mustangs (5-0) grabbed 153 first place votes and accumulated 2,574 points to outdistance second place Army which notched 34 first place nominations and 2,184 points. Although the undefeated Cadets walloped Columbia, 34-0, they gained 50 fewer first place votes than last week when they also were second.

OU Still 3rd

Oklahoma retained its third place ranking by trampling Iowa State for its 26th consecutive victory but fifth place Kentucky (7-0) and sixth place California (6-0) dropped down a notch to make room for Ohio State. The Buckeyes, shooting for their second straight big ten conference championship, swamped Iowa 83-21.

Ohio State received 30 first place ballots to 25 for Oklahoma, but the Sooners had more seconds and thirds to amass 2,137 points to the Buckeyes' 1,822.

The heaviest voting in the 15 years of the poll also saw Kentucky pick up 17 first place votes, Miami 12, Clemson 3, California, Princeton and Illinois squeezed into the top ten.

Biggest jump was registered by Princeton. The Tigers leaped from nowhere a week ago to ninth by virtue of their surprising 27-0 victory over Cornell. The Big Red, 10th last week, received only one 10th place vote to drop out of the first 20. Northwestern was another to lose prestige, because of its 14-13 defeat by Wisconsin. The Wildcats, ninth last week, didn't make the first 20.

Other appreciable gains were made by Miami (Fla.) and Illinois. The unbeaten Hurricanes exchanged places with Tennessee climbing from 11th to eighth on the strength of their 28-0 win over Pittsburgh. Illinois, with only a one-point defeat by Wisconsin to mar an otherwise perfect five-game slate, rounded out the top ten. A 20-0 victory over Indiana gained two notches for the Illini.

The top ten teams (figures in brackets indicate first place votes) with first place worth 10 points, second place nine points and so on down the line:

Rank	Team	Points
1	Southern Methodist (153)	2,574
2	Army (34)	2,184
