

Former Student Tops Score On Army Entrance Exam

A&M students have been known to lead the race in many fields and recently Robert B. McJilton '49 proved it again.

McJilton made a perfect score—100—on the mental test at Love Field Induction Center in Dallas.

As a volunteer, he made the first perfect score that had ever been made at that center. With such a score McJilton could have had his pick of the Army's branches, and almost name his own job.

When a student here, he was considered one of the best company commanders in the corps by both the cadets and the Military Department. McJilton was the commander of "E" Company Infantry.

The red-headed, six-foot-two-inch Aggie-ex was a mechanical engineering major from Fort Worth.

After the examination he started his interviewer by saying that he wanted in the infantry.

It seems that almost no one wants in the infantry these days, and with a man who made such a score to ask for it, was almost more than they could wish.

The interviewer turned the story over to Sgt. Ralph Thrasher who does publicity for the Dallas Army and Air Force Recruiting Station.

"I keep telling these boys," he explained, "that it doesn't mean you have a hole in the head if you volunteer for the infantry—and this proves it."

AAUW to Meet In A. E. Sallis Home

The American Association of University Women International Relations Study Group will meet at the home of Mrs. A. E. Sallis at 7:30 p. m. tonight according to Mrs. J. G. Potter, chairman.

Study of economic and social councils of the United Nations will be one of highlights of the meeting Mrs. Potter said. Plans for the program to be presented to the AAUW at their Nov. 13 meeting will also be discussed.

The film, "Men of Good Will," produced by the United Nations, will be shown at the meeting to illustrate how the international servants at Lake Success translate the aims of the U. N. into action, Mrs. Potter said.
